A word or two with the wearers of hats. We have looked through the Hat, Cap and Glove Departments of Dunford, the Hatter, and we do believe a more beautiful and cheap stock of Hats, Caps and Gloves is hard to find in any city in the land. And as for their Boot and Shoe Department, we never saw a better stock in our lives.

Various Cases.

Advancing years, care, sickness, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition—all operate to turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely. AYER'S Hair Tonic will restore a rich brown or deep black, as may be desired. It softens and cleanses the scalp, giving it a healthy glow, and removes itching humors. By its use falling hair is checked, and a new growth will be produced in all cases where the follicles are not destroyed or glands decayed. Its effects are especially shown on brassy, weak, or sticky hair, to which a few applications will produce the gloss and freshness of youth. Harmless and sure in its operation, it is incomparable as a dressing, and is especially valued for the soft luster and richness of tone it imparts. It contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil nor color white hair, yet it lasts long on the hair, and keeps it fresh and vigorous. For sale by all dealers. 142

The scarcity of Diamonds, Gold and Silver, and the difficulties met with in securing them, is a sure indication of their value.

Thus it is with a valuable medicine. Dr. Aug. Kaiser's Celebrated German Pulmonic Elixir, through the jealousy of rivals, has met with the most bitter opposition, and apparently almost insurmountable obstacles have been thrown in its way; but its opponents might as well try to change the course of the sun, sweep back the ocean with a broom, or put out a prairie fire with a tear.

For the cure of Throat and Lung diseases, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchitis, it is unequalled. Its cures are truly magical. Ask your Druggist for it. The genuine bears the Prussian Coat of Arms, the facsimile signature of Dr. Aug. Kaiser, and has his name blown on every 75 cent bottle. Trial bottle, 25 cents.

Snow and Rain.

The flakes were flying in the air about 5 o'clock this morning, but it was only for a few minutes. A rain was predicted early in the day, but so far seems set against gratifying us.

Called.

Among our callers this afternoon was Mr. J. B. Morrison, Iowa, of the well known pulp manufacturing firm of that city. The gentleman arrived Saturday night, and will remain here two or three days.

The Grand Jury.

The empaneling of the Grand Jury still goes on. Nine additional names were drawn this morning, and at last accounts but 11 jurors had been secured, two of whom were passed conditionally.

"Ring the Merry Bells."

One of the most pathetic sights is to see a deaf old gentleman in a crowded street car, jump up, and violently at the supporting strap, and wonder "why in Sam 'Hill" the driver don't stop.

Congratulations.

We congratulate our friends, Brother S. P. Richards and wife, of Montpelier, on the new accession to their household, which came Tuesday the 19th inst., in the shape of a fine little son. Brother Richards, a short time ago, was mailing clerk at this office.

Failed to Come.

The base ball match which was to have taken place on Saturday between the Brown Stockings of this city, and the Fort Douglas boys, did not come off on account of the "sneak" rain. The Brown Stockings, however, took up the game of the Browns and were defeated by a score of 10 to 11.

Arrangements Completed.

The directors of the D. A. and M. Society, under whose auspices the coming Territorial Fair will be given, held their last meeting, previous to Wednesday's exhibition, on Saturday evening. Arrangements for appropriate addresses by prominent citizens at the opening of the Fair at 12 o'clock (noon), have been made and music has also been obtained. The life members of the Society are requested to present their certificates of membership to the secretary, that their names may be re-entered on the official roster.

Tabernacle Services.—The speakers at the Tabernacle, yesterday afternoon, were Elders P. P. Pratt, Charles C. Rich and A. M. Cannon.

Elder Pratt, who had just returned from a mission to the United States, gave a brief account of his experiences in the various fields of labor he had visited; spoke of the bitter feeling he had met with in the Northwestern States, where so many now lived who had once belonged to the Church but had made shipwreck of their faith and were now engaged in fighting against the truth and poisoning the minds of many who would otherwise embrace its principles. He also spoke of the mobocracy so rife in the Southern States where he had been, but stated that he and his brethren had also met with much kind and hospitable treatment from honest-hearted people who yet remained in those regions. These, however, were few and far between nowadays. He felt thankful to live in a day when the Gospel had been restored with all its ancient virtue and power, and his ancient testimony was that Joseph Smith was a prophet, Brigham Young a man of God, and John Taylor and his brethren of the Apostles' quorum, servants of the Lord who were doing all they could to rightly direct the affairs of this Church and kingdom. People might murmur, but such were not in full faith. It was better to pray than complain, exercise charity rather than criticize and sustain rather than condemn. The day was fast coming when this earth would become the kingdom of Christ and the Saints were chosen to prepare for his coming.

Elder Chas. C. Rich had listened with much interest to Brother Pratt's recital of his travels and labors in preaching the everlasting Gospel. It was the same which God had revealed to his servants in all ages, whenever he had a people upon the face of the earth. Adam received it and preached it to his children, some of whom obeyed it, and some did not, just as is done now. There was one important principle to be impressed upon the minds of all present, and that was that one who preached the Gospel of Jesus Christ and officiated in its ordinances must be called of God, and ordained and set apart under the hands of those having authority. Joseph and Oliver had no authority to baptize until John the Baptist bestowed upon them the authority of the Aaronic Priesthood, nor the right to lay hands on for the gift of the Holy Ghost, and administer in spiritual things, until Peter, James and John, who held the keys of the Melchisedec Priesthood, imparted unto them the requisite authority. It was so with all men, their labors were not acceptable unless divinely sanctioned and appointed.

All men had a right to receive personal testimonies of the truth of this work. They had but to obey the Lord's requirements and repent and be baptized in all sincerity and they would then obtain a knowledge for themselves. God's commands must all be obeyed, no matter how simple and plain they might be, they were imperative and indispensable. Men should seek for knowledge of good things and first for the kingdom of God. Many were seeking rather to lay up treasures on earth, but when they left here they would have to leave it all and would go away very poor indeed. The aim of all was happiness, but few were happy because they failed to appreciate the true way to happiness. Christ was coming soon to reign a thousand years, and reign he would, despite the feeble efforts of man to prevent him or pull down the work. His saints were striving to erect in honor of his advent.

Elder Angus M. Cannon reminded the Saints that the Quarterly Conference of the Stake convened on Saturday and Sunday the 4th and 5th inst., and hoped the people of this county would be on hand in full numbers. They should be alive to their callings, practice what they preach, and set good examples to each other and to their children. None could expect confidence unless they deserved it, and should show their faith by their works. He bore a strong testimony to the remarks of the previous speakers, and to the truth of the great latter-day work. The Saints might be whipped, imprisoned, or murdered for their honest belief, but the consciousness that it was of God would remain to comfort them. Joseph the prophet and others had sealed their testimony with their blood, and there were others who could do the same if it was required. They should be aware of apostasy and clinging to the Truth and God would never desert them.

All for a Towel.—Some time ago the keeper of the Warm Spring bath house mislaid one of his fine Turkish towels, and as the only customer he had had that day was a woman and her child, suspicion naturally rested upon her, and a messenger was started in pursuit. The street car driver said a woman had come out a few minutes before, asking how long before the car would go, and on his replying "about five minutes," although it was raining hard and was very muddy under foot, said "I guess I'll walk on." She was overtaken some distance below the Springs, and on being asked what she did with the towel, immediately drew it from the bosom of her dress, saying she took it to keep from catching cold on the way home.

What Might Have Been.—The doughty son of Ethel who fills the exalted position of scene shifter at the Ogden Opera House, after his wordy altercation with Herr Gorlitz, on the night of the operatic performance there, is said to have taken a few of our Salt Lake visitors outside, set a board up against the house and split it in twain with his head, to show what he could have done to Gorlitz had the affair come to blows. His forbearance was certainly commendable.

Fair Programme.—On Tuesday morning, September 30th, at 9 a. m., the plowing match will commence and continue during the day.

Wednesday, October 1st. The Exhibition will open to the public at 12 m. Music by the band. Opening addresses by Governor Emery and Hon. Geo. Q. Cannon. Closes at 6 p. m.

The Territorial, County and City officers are respectfully invited to be present at the opening of the Exhibition.

Thursday, October 2nd. Awarding committees meet at 9 a. m. to award premiums.

The exhibition opens to the public at 12 m., and closes at 6 p. m. A band of music in attendance during the day.

Friday and Saturday, October 3rd and 4th. Exhibition opens at 9 a. m. and closes at 6 p. m.

The supervisors will be in the Fair Building to-morrow to receive and arrange exhibits. Please bring them along.

Fearful Accidents.—A correspondent at Nephi informs us that on the morning of the 24th inst., Mr. William Osborn, of Gooseberry Valley, while oiling a threshing machine, had his left arm accidentally drawn into the cogs, to the centre of the muscle of the forearm. Part of his forearm was crushed and all of his thumb, and his arm terribly lacerated. Dr. Croshaw amputated the fractured portion of the finger and thumb, and removed some of the ragged flesh from the forearm. The patient was doing well at Nephi under Dr. Croshaw's care. As the patient would be necessarily thrown out of employment for some time, and has a family to support, his friends generously came to his assistance with a purse of $125, the owner of the threshing machine giving 20 bushels of wheat, and others similar amounts.

Retraction.—In our article entitled "Disgracing," which appeared Saturday night, criticizing the conduct of an individual who was fined the other day for exhibiting an obscene caricature on the street, we asserted that the sketch was found in the office of a prominent lumber firm near the depot. The person who picked up the sketch called on us this morning and stated that he did not find it in the firm's office, although his remarks were so construed by our informant, exonerated said firm from all censure, took the blame entirely upon himself, and requested us to publish an item to that effect.

Cipher Dispatch.—The following, from our afternoon's dispatches, is a specimen of the cipher telegrams that go over the wire: "Bolivia from Glasgow. New York, Monday 29th.

Boothman Bradley Bushire Bushnell deserter Dimmack Cupola generally one frame. Dearest Cuzco. Unsettled cadet cargo carlow."

Get Your Baggage.—The following unclaimed baggage came in with the company of emigrants which arrived in Ogden on the 27th, and can be had by applying at the Ogden Tithing Office: One box and one sack, addressed to Thomas Mills; one sack, to Lise Andersen; one sack, to Ulrika Poulsen; also one sack of bedding, etc., which came in with the June company.—Junction.

Additional Premium.—In addition to the diploma to be awarded at the coming Territorial Fair for the best fenced and cultivated farm of not less than 100 acres, the supervisory committee of that department have to offer one of the celebrated Morrison Sulky plows, value $75, presented by the Morrison Brothers, manufacturers, and their agent Mr. H. B. Clawson.

Dead.—Major C. H. Hempstead, formerly a resident of this city and a prominent member of the legal fraternity, died at his residence in the 17th Ward, yesterday afternoon. He had been suffering for a long time from a stroke of paralysis, which partially deprived him of the use of his limbs, and death resulted from the same cause.

Post Office Established.—A post office has been established at Freemont, Piute County, with A. J. Albrecht postmaster, and one at Wilkesville, Sanpete County, with Nathaniel Hodgson postmaster.

Shawl Found.—A shawl was found near the depot on Saturday. The owner, by calling at this office and describing it, may regain possession.

Call and Get It.—There is a letter at this office directed to W. H. Evans, care Joseph Evans, blacksmith, of this city.
