

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

Regular weekly meeting of the City Council to-night.

The meeting of the Home Missionaries of the State tomorrow evening, at the Council House.

Attorney Frank Telford, formerly of this city, now of Denver, is looking up as a Democratic candidate for the Colorado State Senate.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

From the West.—Hon. John W. Young and members of his family arrived in the city from San Francisco yesterday.

The Last Company.—By dispatch to President Taylor we learn that the company of Saints which left Liverpool last Saturday on the S. S. Albatross numbers 416 souls.

For Winter Quarters.—Large flocks of sheep which have been summering in the eastern part of the Territory are passing westward to winter on the deserts in that direction.

Wants a School.—A young lady who passed through a normal training in Scotland is desirous of obtaining a school in one of the districts in this city. Apply at this office.

More Soldiers.—Four companies of the Sixth Infantry, heretofore stationed at Fort Thornburgh, are on the way to Fort Douglas. They will probably reach this city on Thursday, if not before.

Thanks.—We are under obligations to Joseph Hall, Esq., of Ogden, and James T. Smith, Esq., of Farmington, for notes of the speeches made by the speakers for the People's Party at the ratification meeting in those places.

Bad Bridge.—A bridge which spans the Jordan River in the vicinity of the Denver & Rio Grande Western R. R. depot, has been for a considerable time in a dilapidated condition, being nearly impassable for teams. It is, especially after dark, dangerous for conveyances to pass that way.

Transformation.—The face of the country around the base of the point of the mountain west, facing this city, is being transformed from the desolate waste it was a few years ago to a thriving settlement. The reality is dotted over with snug dwellings of thrifty grangers, with farmers in the near vicinity. Fall plowing is in active operation.

Enroute to San Francisco.—Mr. Henry Loeber, who is connected with the firm of Samuel Cupples & Co., of St. Louis, is in town on his way to San Francisco, to take charge of their business interests on the Pacific Coast. The house is well known to many of our business men in this and adjoining Territories, having been doing a very extensive business in this section for many years.

Lye Poisoning.—There was a case of lye poisoning in the Seventh Ward on Saturday last. A little son of Mrs. Foster, a widow who came from Australia about a year ago, got upon a chair, took a tin of lye from the top of a cupboard and swallowed a portion of it. He has been quite ill ever since, taking up food excepting what is almost forced upon him to keep him alive. As the lye is not in his blood, he must have swallowed a lump.

Juvenile Instructor.—No. 20 of the current volume of this most valuable periodical is received. Its contents are:

Remes in Germany, (illustrated); Our Theological Class, by Uriel; Radio Worship, Pilgrimages and Prayers, by J. H. W.; The Two Roses; Jottings by a Young Missionary, by Stroben; Editorial Thoughts; Seven Classes of Company to be Avoided; A Dialogue, by James A. Little; Cairo, (illustrated); G. R.; History of the Church; Time occupied in translating the Book of Mormon, by G. R.; Topics of the Times, by the Editor; Visits to Sunday Schools; As the Dew from Heaven Distilling, words by P. P. Pratt, music by J. J. Daynes; Charles, Enigma.

Severely Hurt.—At Brigham City, on Saturday evening, John and Albert Burt, sons of Judge Burt, met with quite a severe accident. They were on their way home with a team of hogs and had put a couple of big boards on top of the wagon box to keep the pigs in. One of the boards broke in front and the team dropped down, which precipitated them both suddenly among the hogs' feet. John's feet caught in the double-trees with his body on the ground, when the team started to run, dragging him a considerable distance under the wheel, before his feet got loose from the tongue. The wheel then ran over his injured leg very badly, knocking his stomach out of place, and hurting his ankle.

Street Car Changes.—Supt. Arnold is making several changes in the system of running cars on the street railroad, and contemplates instituting others shortly. They are of a character that will give gratification to the portion of the public using the now indispensable street car. The run is now continuous between the terminals of the First Ward Branch and the Warm Springs for one fare. This arrangement also takes passengers within one block of the U. O. R. R. depot. The cars for the D. & R. G. W. depot now connect with the Warm Springs corner, running every half hour.

In addition it is intended before long to run the Twenty-first Ward branch cars to and from the terminal of the D. & R. G. W. line, and to institute a transfer arrangement for the Utah Central depot.

THE MURDER CASE.

THE MYSTERY NOT YET PENETRATED.

The inquest was resumed at three p. m. yesterday. Dr. Diabrow was sworn and examined, his statement being in substance as follows:

On Thursday night I was in my office at half past seven, when I went to the Pacific Restaurant to dinner. There were about three-quarters of an hour. Went to Greig's house, and saw two patients of Dr. Hamilton's. I am connected with him in business but we are not partners. Remained probably half an hour. The patients were Mr. Mathews and Mrs. Greig. I came back by the City Hall, went down to Chadwick's lodging house, next to Geo. A. Lowe's. Stayed ten minutes then went to the Pacific Restaurant to see a man named Porter, who was having some talk with the cook about getting an oyster sent and arguing about a dish to carry it out. Then went to the office where I got mail and returned to my office. Got there at 9.25 and remained till after 10. Then went down and stepped into Smith's drug store adjoining and remained in there nearly an hour in conversation with three gentlemen—Henry Easton, Wm. Graham, of Joslin & Park, Fred. Ferguson, and the clerk in the store. Went to my room at 10.30 by my watch, which I remember looking at shortly after heard a rap on the door. I opened the door and saw the girl Jennie Porter. This was within two or three minutes after I returned to the room. The girl gave me a note with an empty bottle done up in paper. The note was from Miss Walton requesting a bottle of port wine, stating that she would be over at my room in about one hour. The girl asked me if there was any answer; told her no; that I would be over to the house presently. I then put on my overcoat and went to Moore & Allen's drug store in the Wasatch Block, on the corner. Had been there but a few moments when Mr. Allen came in. Had some conversation with him. Told boy to fill the bottle with wine. The boy asked which wine he should put into it. Allen pointed to the bottle and told him the best. I stayed there about 20 minutes after that. Then went out and was proceeding to Mrs. Wilder's residence. When in front of Wallin & Pickard's harness shop met Mr. Farrell, proprietor of the Pacific Restaurant, and one of Kate Flint's girls walking with him. The girl was bareheaded. Her name is Eva. Then he passed on toward Wilder's. Passing by Kate Flint's house, I saw some parties at the door. Thought nothing of it and marched on. When I reached the corner of First East street I saw a man walking slowly before me. He went almost to the gate of Mrs. Wilder's residence. He was a tall man, with a mustache. I think he had on a light-gray overcoat, dark-brown or black hat. I then passed by the gate, passed up the porch and rung the bell. I heard steps on the walk. I looked around and saw a woman approaching, who, seeing me on the porch, turned away. I recognized the voice of Jennie Porter. I answered, it's the Doctor. By this time she was coming up on the porch. She said as she was coming on the porch, "Oh my God! my God! I don't know, there's something terrible happened." She then proceeded to the window to the right of the door. I tried the door and found it fast. She opened the window and was passing in. I said to her, Open this door as soon as you can. She cried out from inside, "Oh Miss Nellie is killed." I hallooed to her to open the door. She came and opened the door and I passed into the house. She stood in the room occupied by Mrs. W. where, lying on the green cloth I saw Mrs. Wilder's body. Then passed into the next room looking for the girl Jennie. Did not see her—but did see lying on the floor a flower which I picked up and put in my pocket. It is a five shooter, 38 calibre. One chamber was empty. The girl Jennie had taken the pistol from my room—the day of the killing, about six p. m. I saw her put it in her pocket on the day of the shooting. She asked what she wanted with it. She said the back of the house is all open and I dare not stay there alone. I've seen men prowling around the back part of the house, and you know Miss Nellie has no. I said all right, you can keep it until I got you another one. Have had this pistol about a year and a half or two years. Bought it of Tom Carson. After picking up the flower passed out of the house, and gate, near which I saw parties whom I went to go for the police. When I went to my room thinking to find the girl Jennie there, I examined the revolver—while there took out the empty shell—put in a new cartridge and laid it in my pocket. After that I went to the case of instruments and bandages in pocket, and started back for Mrs. Wilder's house. When in front of Kate Flint's, Kate and one of her girls came walking out from the gate, caught hold of me and told me that Jennie was in the house; that I went in—found her on the floor in a room near of room where her left arm exposed, upon which I saw a wound. I took a probe and passed it through the wound. Then ordered the girl to be carried into the next room—a bedroom. I had her undressed to see if there were any other wounds. I found none. I wrote a prescription, sent to drug store, and gave her a dose of bromide of potash as a sedative. The girl was quite excited. Applied a bandage and compress and cold water.

I asked Flint where Charles Rich was. They said he was over at Nellie's house. I then went over and found him there.

I asked him if I could put the girl in his room in the Wasatch, which he assented. A gentleman named Argal went with me. We came back together—Rich, Argal, myself and Mr. Goodwin, of the Tribune. There was a carriage standing there which officer Thomas had secured. We moved the girl into the carriage and took her to this room in the Wasatch. I remained with her the balance of the night. Was not there all the time but someone was there. Was not absent over half an hour. The police were there in and out all night. Had known deceased two months.

Question—Why did you take the pistol?

I—I scratched the name off because I did not want to be implicated. I removed the empty shell and put in another cartridge for the same reason.

Several other witnesses were examined, but their testimony was comparatively unimportant. We have given Dr. Diabrow's evidence rather full for the reason that he has been an object of popular suspicion in the case, and that the details given by him may lead possibly to other developments bearing upon the murder. The jurors met this morning but owing to the absence of witnesses adjourned till 3 p. m.

MRS. DR. BURT, HOMEOPATHY and Electrician, treats the diseases of women and children. Pleasant accommodations for lady patients, 3rd South, 13 blocks West of Cliff House, 7th Ward.

A gold ring was lost Oct. 7th. The finder will be rewarded on leaving it at this office. See advt.

"Not Guilty" Again.—The Salt Lake Dramatic Combination will repeat the play of "Not Guilty," with its thrilling scenes and beautiful scenery, including the Great Steamship Scene, painted by Mr. H. C. Tryon, of the Tabor Opera House, on Saturday evening, October 28th.

The new drapery and presentment of the play, as painted by the time talented artist, will be exhibited that evening for the first time. Messrs. McKenzle, Lindsay, Margette and Graham have all got characters well adapted to their respective talents.

Return Those Papers.—Yesterday while Bishop Watson was absent from his office, opposite the Eagle Cafe, somebody walked in and carried off a coat belonging to him. He cares nothing about the loss of the garment, but in one of the pockets was a pocket-book containing papers of value only to him, and to no one else. If the party will be considerate enough to return the papers to him he will make him a present of the coat. Perhaps the party could place the papers somewhere so the owner could reach them. He would even be willing to pay something for their recovery.

Manifestations of Respect.—A correspondent writes from Sugar House Ward that, a week ago last Sunday, the usual Sunday school exercises were temporarily suspended and the occasion transformed into a meeting in which the good feelings of all present were manifested to Asst. Supt. James Briggs, who was about to depart on a mission to Europe. Appropriate addresses were delivered, among those who spoke being Bishop Briggs and Counselor Eldridge. Sister Isabella McGhie, in behalf of the Primary Association, presented Brother Briggs with an Oxford Bible. There was a similar demonstration a few weeks since, at the time of the departure of Elder Job Hensley.

Beaver Bombs.—Our new way contemporary, the Utopian, of Beaver has several items of interest.

Constable Baker of Minersville started out last Saturday with a warrant of arrest for an alleged cattle thief named Wm. Brown, who is accused of stealing a large herd of stock off the western desert, in the neighborhood of Sulphur Springs, and running them eastward towards Colorado.

Hardly a day passes but what emigrants from the northern cities pass through to Arizona. Mr. Chas. Allen and family, late of Richmond, Cache County, passed through lately, his destination being Mesa City in the Salt River Valley. The trustees of the Beaver Central School have purchased and had delivered, a fine large tower bell for the new house. The bell is 28 inches in diameter, and along with its mountings, weighs upwards of 425 lbs.

The grain crop of Minersville for the past season amounts to about 5,000 bushels. The crop of alfalfa hay is, however, larger than ever, amounting to about 800 tons; the corn crop is comparatively small, and can hardly be approximated from the fact that the greater portion is yet in the shock.

That Stabbing Case.—In Saturday's issue we gave an account of a serious stabbing affair, in which E. A. Musson was dangerously, if not fatally wounded. It appears clear that the accusation against James Evans, of Malad, as having committed the crime, is well grounded. A Beaver correspondent of the Blackfoot Register says on the subject:

"(While) did its work on the 13th at Williams' Junction, M. T. A young man by the name of James Evans, son of Richard Evans, of Malad, got drunk and stabbed a man by the name of A. Musson. The man was stabbed in the back revealing his kidneys, and his coat shows a dozen cuts; he also has a severe cut over his left eye, and the prospects are that he will lose the sight of it. After the stabbing Evans jumped on a horse and endeavored to escape, but Roadmaster Payne followed and caught him, and returned with him to Beaver Canyon, where he was held till the Sheriff from Montana arrived, who took him to Dillon, where I understand he is now in jail. The man that was stabbed lived in Ogden, and has a family there depending upon him for support. Evans, after stabbing Musson attempted to talk his hat, but failed, and left without it. We think it will go hard with the young man, and the people here all regret the affair and sympathize with his parents. The doctor who attended the very grave doubts of the recovery of the injured man, as the cut in the back and over the eye is very serious."

CARD.

To the Public and Whomever it may Concern:

I have this day sold to the John W. Lowell Wagon Company, of which I am President and principal stockholder, my good will and stock in trade and buildings.

I take this occasion to tender my sincere thanks to the public at large for their generous patronage for the eleven years I have been in business here, and especially to those warm friends who have taken such an interest in my welfare. But few days have elapsed for years without some new customer saying to me: "I was recommended to come to you by Mr. Richards, a friend of yours." Kind friends, your friendship, sympathy and assistance will never be forgotten.

Messrs. Justin E. Morse, John Farmer, Martin O. Johnson and Carlin D. Joslyn, who are the other directors and own the balance of the stock of the new company are all young men who have been in my employ from four to seven years, and are pretty well known to the general public. We shall continue the same line of business as heretofore, and I trust that the John W. Lowell Wagon Company will merit and receive a fair share of public patronage.

Yours, very respectfully,
JOHN W. LOWELL.
