PRESIDENT YOUNG'S TRIP NORTH.

SALT LAKE CITY, August 26.
THE drive between Logan and Wellsville is always quickly accomplished by President Young and his company. The road is good and the ten miles is generally traveled within an hour. We reached there a little before sundown on Sunday evening. We heard in Salt Lake City that Wellsville crops were almost entirely cut off again this year by grasshoppers; but upon inquiry, were pleased to learn that the citizens had saved half their crop. This place has suffered more than any other in the valley; but we noticed no feeling of discouragement. The people have sufficient to keep them until another harvest, and they are thankful that their condition is no worse. We were hospitably entertained, the Bishop (Wm. Maughan) and the entire settlement being evidently pleased to have the President and his company stay with them. We were lulled to sleep that night by the sweet singing of the choir. Preceded by the brass and string bands they went to the houses where President Young and the different members of the company were stopping, and serenaded them. This is a practice which prevails in the settlements, and the effect is very charming. Since our visit last year to the northern settlements the improvement of choirs and bands in singing and music is very perceptible. The pleasure of the evenings we spent in Logan was much enhanced by the delightful singing of the choir of that place in their serenades. Their selections were very fine, and were sung with much taste and feeling.

BRIGHAM CITY.
Leaving Wellsville on Monday morning we reached Brigham City a little before noon. A School of the Prophets met at 12 m., and was organized by President Young, who spoke in a most pointed and powerful manner. His remarks will long be remembered by those who heard them. After dinner we drove to Ogden City, which place we reached at dusk. The greater portion of the company stopped at Bishop West's. A meeting had been appointed to be held at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, the 25th, at Centerville, Davis County. The company left Ogden at about 8.30 a.m. on Tuesday morning and reached Centerville in time to eat dinner with Bishop Wm. R. Smith before meeting. The display here was very creditable to the good taste and good feelings of the Bishop and the people. A fine arch with the word WELCOME, painted in large letters, spanned the main street, and the children with their banners and attired for the occasion were drawn up to receive the company.

THE MEETING
Was addressed by Elders Geo. Q. Cannon, Geo. Dunford, Wilford Woodruff, Joseph F. Smith, A. M. Musser, and President Young in brief and pointed remarks.

At 6 p.m. the company reached Salt Lake City.
It would be difficult to place too high an estimate upon the value of these visits of President Young to the various settlements. The people have local officers, whose counsels and instructions are sound and reliable; but a visit from the Presidency and Twelve is refreshing to the officers and people. They partake of the spirit which prevails at headquarters, and can better keep pace with their brethren who reside there. Without these visits the people might become narrowed up in their feelings and sectional: intercourse between the settlements, and between the officers of the Church who reside at this city and those who live elsewhere, has the tendency to prevent this. In the early days of our residence here, when President Young and his brethren visited the settlements, they had to go prepared to camp out. They took with them their own food, feed for their animals, bedding, &c., and they slept in their vehicles. But now all this has changed. The settlements are close together, and he and his companions can now travel from Salt Lake City to the extreme north and the extreme south without being under the necessity of carrying any provisions or bedding or camping out a single night. A still greater change awaits us ere long. It is not too much to expect that in a few years hence we will have a line of rails laid from one end of the Territory to the other, and if President Young wishes to attend a Conference at St. George, he can step into the cars on Saturday morning and be there by evening, and with a night's rest be ready for meeting next morning.

"Not in vain the distance bosoms. Forward, forward, let us range,
Let the great world spin forever down the ringing grooves of change."

GENERAL.

Hartford, 25.—The campaign in Connecticut has been opened by George H. Pendleton, who addressed a large audience in Allen Hall, to-day.

Richmond.—A Republican mass-meeting was held to-day; there was a procession of 2,000 blacks and about 50 whites, who marched through the city with flags, music, &c. Spring Square was densely crowded. Speeches were made by Gov. Wells, Gen. Wickham, formerly a rebel General, and others. There was no disturbance.

Washington.—Nathaniel Bowdler, conservative member of Congress in the sixth district of North Carolina, has come out for Grant and Colfax.

Re-ports from South Carolina say the Democrats are treating with marked kindness any holding out various inducements to secure their vote for the Democratic ticket. This system is being prosecuted with all possible show of success.

South Pass City, 27.—The body of Wm. Rose was found and buried on the 27th, by the party who left here on the 24th in search of it; no Indians were seen.

A resolution was introduced in the House to-day for the appointment of a committee to investigate the charges against Gov. Wainwright of having bribed to sign certain bills and to withhold his signature from others; also against the members of the Legislature for receiving money to secure their votes. The committee were to report to the Senate with a view to the impeachment of the Governor. The resolution was tabled, 16 to 8.

Chicago, 26.—The campaign is becoming very active throughout the north and north-west. Both parties have a number of speakers in the field. Mass meetings are being constantly held, and great earnestness is manifested on both sides, but the canvass is progressing thus far in the most orderly manner.

The Republican's Washington special says that Secretary Browning is going to White Sulphur Springs. He will undoubtedly represent the views of the Executive in the conference which is progressing with the rebel leaders.

A large Democratic meeting was held at Richmond on Saturday.

Washington.—Instructions have been sent from the Adjutant General's Office to the Department Commanders, relative to the use of troops in aid of the civil authorities in the south. A letter from the Attorney General is embodied in these instructions, setting forth the conditions under which the Marshals and Sheriffs may command the assistance of the military to execute lawful precepts issued by competent authority. The letter concludes as follows: "It is an obligation of military individuals, both officers and soldiers, in common with all citizens, to obey the summons of a Marshal or Sheriff, but this must be held subordinate to their permanent duty as members of a permanent military body, since troops can act only in their proper organized capacity, under their own officers and in obedience to the immediate orders of those officers. An officer commanding troops, when summoned to aid a Marshal or Sheriff, must also judge for himself, on his own official responsibility, whether the service required is lawful, necessary and compatible with the proper discharge of his ordinary military duties, and must limit his action absolutely, to proper aid in the execution of any lawful precept exhibited to him by the Marshal or Sheriff. If time will permit, every demand from a civil officer for military aid, whether for the execution of a civil process or to suppress insurrection, shall be forwarded to the President, with all the material facts of the case for his orders; and in all cases the highest commander, whose orders can be given in time to meet the emergency, will alone assume the responsibility of the action, by a timely disposition of the troops, where there is reason to apprehend a necessity for their use; and by their passive interposition between hostile parties the danger of a collision may be avoided by the Department commander. And in cases of necessity their subordinates are expected in this regard, to exercise authority on their own responsibility, and use discretion, to the end that peace may be preserved by the commanding General."

Philadelphia.—Hon. Chas. A. Gilpin, the present incumbent, declines to succeed to the office of United States Attorney for the Eastern district of Pennsylvania to the Hon. Charles O'Neil. The President has submitted the case to Attorney-General Evarts. Judge Cadwallader has refused to administer the oath of office to O'Neil, on the ground that his appointment was illegal.

Atlanta.—A minority of the committee on privileges and elections have presented a report against the eligibility of negro members. A point of order made that a minority could not report before a majority; the speaker overruled the point on the ground that the question had been before the committee six weeks, and that the majority had failed to make a report. The House sustained the Speaker's ruling. The Speaker also decided that one class of members on trial for ineligibility could not be allowed to vote on the eligibility of others. An appeal was taken from this decision, but the chair was sustained.

Rochester.—The fifth national convention of Spiritualists is now in session in this city. Dora M. Fox was elected President. The attendance is large.

St. Louis.—A Denver telegram says that a large band of Arapahoes are committing depredations in Southern Colorado. Gov. Hall has applied to General Sheridan for assistance.

Chicago, 27.—Specials say that Secretary Fuller has been appointed Collector of Customs at New Orleans.

Judge Advocate Holt has decided that the offences charged upon Gen. Dyer, Chief of Ordnance, having been committed over two years before the demand for a court martial, the trial is prohibited by the Eighty-Eighth Article of War. It is understood that General Dyer will appeal to the Secretary of War.

FOREIGN.

Southampton.—The international yacht race, at the Isle of Wight took place to-day. The following yachts completed. The Condor 120 tons, Oneacre 183 tons, Alice 122 tons, Cambria 185 tons, and the American yacht Sappho. The Cambria won in 6 hours and a quarter; the Alice two minutes later; the Condor was third; the Sappho was last. The Oneacre was not placed. The result was hailed with great delight by the spectators.

London.—Notwithstanding a sharp opposition from a large portion of the British press, Earl Mayo, present secretary of state for Ireland, will be appointed Gov.-Gen. of India. He will leave in October to assume the duties of his office.

The charred remains of thirty-two victims in the recent terrible railroad accident in Wales, were buried to-day.

New Orleans.—Gen. Buchanan has relinquished the charge of the freedman's bureau to Gen. Hatch.

London, 28th.—It is rumored the Ocean Mail Service with the United States via Southampton will be discontinued, and that the mails will be forwarded via Queenstown. This is in accordance with a proposition made by Mr. Trollope to the American Postmaster General.

Reverdy Johnson has had an audience with Disraeli.

Southampton, 26.—The defeat of the yacht Sappho, yesterday, is explained by the fact that she was not in proper condition, her hull and rigging having been damaged a few days previously by a collision with another vessel, and the repairs being incomplete she encountered a series of provoking accidents during the race; but nevertheless made good time with prospect of coming up with the others, when the fore binnacle parted, and the jib boom broke off. All efforts to win the race were then abandoned. Capt. Baldwin offers a new challenge to English yachts for a long run at sea.

Berlin.—Official journals say that the Prussian government has accepted the proposals of the government of the United States for the establishment of effective regulations for the protection and welfare of emigrants. An agent has been appointed to negotiate with the American authorities on the subject, and is instructed to bring the negotiations to a speedy and satisfactory result.

London, 27.—Advices from Hong Kong to Aug. 15th give reports of the Imperial troops totally defeating and routing the rebel forces. There was great rejoicing over this at Pekin.

Paris, 27.—Marshall Vaillant, Minister of the Emperor's household, made a speech at the opening of the Council General at Lyons which was calculated to have a highly tranquilizing effect.

The Marshall made a happy allusion to the pacific speech of the Emperor at Troyes, and assured the people that they would enjoy prosperity and peace.

The Pays editorially says that France will accept the possibility of war if Prussia refuses to disarm.

New York.—Foreign advices by mail, to the 15th, say that it is generally rumored in English political circles that an understanding had been arrived at between Gladstone and the Roman Catholic Bishops of Ireland, that when the disestablishment of the Irish Protestant church is sanctioned by Parliament, he will be prepared to recommend the grant of a million pounds to the Maynooth College, as a compensation for the abolition of the annual grant made to that establishment. This sum is to be produced by the sale of an adequate portion of the landed estates of the Protestant church.

Menken was buried on the 13th, in the portion allotted to the Jews, in the cemetery of Pere La Chaise. Several dramatic authorities and theatrical friends attended the funeral.

A letter from Berlin reports that Bismarck's health is not satisfactory; he continues to suffer from want of sleep, and is obliged to take opium to procure repose. Another letter from Berlin says that great importance is attached to the interview between the sovereigns of Prussia and Russia, and that an alliance between the two countries is more than ever spoken of.

Correspondence.

MILL CREEK, Aug. 27, 1868.

Editor Evening News.—Yesterday afternoon a terrific hail storm bore from the west mountain, passing this point half a mile northeast of Bishop Miller's Ward House. The hailstones were larger than pigeon's eggs, and broke panes of glass in the Ward House and dwelling houses; stripped cane and corn, and leveling to the earth potatoes, squashes and other vines; and in some cases forcing themselves into the squash. The hail thrashed about forty bushels of peas for one man; and killed seven chickens for one family. A herd boy was knocked down by one hail, about the size of a hen's egg, striking him on the back. A neighbor told me that about 150 bushels of his peaches were knocked off from his trees. It passed only a little to the south of this point and but a short distance north, clearing Bro's Gates' and Lemon's orchards of all their apples. In this immediate neighborhood what the hoppers had left the hail has finished.

EDWARD STEVENSON.

Mixed "Crowd."—We find in the Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise the following account of the "congregation" patronizing the theatre in that burg, which is evidently considerably mixed:

"We venture the assertion that no theatre in Uncle Sam's dominion ever presented a more striking admixture of the various races of this mundane sphere than has Piper's Opera House, in this city, for some nights past. To begin with, the Japanese troupe of gymnasts, acrobats and jugglers attired in their semi-barbarous costume and uttering their strange gibberish, unintelligible to any in the house but themselves, while the audience has been quite as curious in the eyes of the thoughtful sight-seer as the performances of those appearing for entertainment. In the dress circle are to be seen fashionably dressed ladies and gentlemen of nearly every European nation, as well as American born, but this we might see in almost any city in the United States, and we might mention the occupants of this part of the house for the sake of the strong contrast presented when we glance through the parquette. Above we have seen ladies and gentlemen with opera glasses at their eyes, hats, bonnets, feathers and jewelry of a style that would probably pass muster, even in Paris, and faces that are no darker or more strange in feature than those belonging to the people of Mexico; but when we go below, and look about us, we seem to have landed in the midst of a convention of the people of a nation. About one-half of the seats of the parquette are occupied by Chinamen—both men and women. The women generally occupy benches by themselves—a row of dumpty creatures in blue cotton bodices, black smocks, and heads covered in handkerchiefs of red and white gingham—while about them are the men, dressed but little different from the women (except those that affect the American style) with their long tails hanging down their backs or coiled up about their heads. A small opium pervades the vicinity but none appear to be smoking. Behind the Chinese we find a wild group of Putes, men, women and children; some of the women are bareheaded while others wear a sort of a basket, or merely have a strip of calico tied about their foreheads. Two or three little, half-naked Pute boys are paddling in a barrel of water and drinking, greatly to the endangering of their lips, from a broken tumbler. A Sandwich Islander, with hideously pock-marked face, is trying to make love to a young squaw who understands nothing he says, while a tall "buck" Indian, in a plug hat and with hair hanging about his shoulders, watches him out of the corner of his half closed, snaky eyes, and two or three other Sandwich Islanders look on and encourage the pock-marked fellow to excite the wrath of the noble red man; another "big Injun," attired in a coat of the claw-hammer style, and with a twine string confining his shock of bristling black hair comes out grinning cunningly from the alley behind the parquette boxes occupied by a fat old squaw, who shakes her sides with laughing—others of the Indians look steadily on at the performance of the outlandish "Japs," doubtless wondering greatly at their feats, yet showing no sign of astonishment. On the opposite side of the parquette we find white men—teamsters, miners, gamblers, men about town, merchants and their clerks—East Indians, negresses, mulattoes, Mexicans, etc. The Chinamen are seen to carry down from the saloon above bottles of soda water for themselves and women, the Putes pitch into their water barrel, while the whites and most of the others present on their side of the house, of whatever shade of color, go above to the bar at convenient intervals and take their regular whisky straight.
