SENATE. WASHINGTON, 27 .- In the Senate Washington, 27.—In the Senate Ingalis presented a memorial from the Legislature of Kansas, praying; for the establishment of two additional military stations in that State as a protection against Indian depredations.

The papers were appropriately referred.

Dawes denied this, and said the present administration was disposed to remove settlers without regard to the hardships involved, but the Department, Dawes said, was desirous of relieving in some way the honest settler who went on those lands in good faith.

Jones, of Arkansas, said the amendment of Ingalis would hurt nine honest men to one dishonest man. He admitted there had been some talk by a few men among the settlers, of resistance to the President's proclamation, but such men were relatively very few.

After further debate the matter went over. The electoral count bill was postoned until Monday next.

On motion of Ingalis, his bill to provide for a national university was taken from the table, read a second time and referred to the committee on education

We should remember who those people were who inhabited this Territory of Dakots. They had been until lately citizens of several States, and had exercised all the privileges of citizenship. They therefore knew how valuable was the privilege of citizenship. Harrison spoke of the immense products of the Territory last year and of the general thrift of its people, and continued: 'How could we justify ourselves in denying to a people capable of such rapid and prosperous development the right to admission as a State? They were people largely made up of the brave men who had fought in the Union armies, having by their service in these armies given perpetuity to the institutions of this government. That fact may account for their discontent with their present political condition. Dakota had by its proposed constitution made ample provision for the perpetuation and maintenance of public schools, and had made a compact with the United States forever, securing religious liberty to all the residents of the State. South Dakota had made herself fully and lawfully ready and now stood at the door of Congress asking for admission into the Union."

Butler asked Harrison to give the names of the States on whose cases he reded as precedents for the method of admission proposed in the case of Dakota.

Harrison replied that the cases were Tennessee, Michigan, California, Iowa, Florida, Arkansas and Oregon, and, in turn, asked in what respect the Sena-ator from South Carolina disputed that Daxota had come within the line of precedents.

ilarrison concluded with the remark that the people of Dakota, not cringingly but respectfully, requested to be allowed to participate with the other States of the Union in all the privileges of American citizens.

Butler then took the floor to reply to flarrison, but yielded for an executive session, after which the Senate adjourned.

Washington, 27.—A smile ran through the House this morning when the Chapiain, in his opening prayer, returned thanks that "our silver and gold have been multiplied. The silver men pretended to see in the fact that silver had been placed before gold, an indication that the religious portion of the community was in favor of the double standard.

The Senate resolution touching the death of Vice-President Hendricks was presented to the House, and, on motion of Iloiman, of Indiana, it was laid upon the table for the present, and indiman gave notice that on Tuesday next he would ask the House to consider a similar resolution.

The bill is identical with the one passed by the House in the 48th Congress, with the exception of the Committee on Public Lands recommending an amendment excepting the Gulf and Ship Island Road of Mississippi from the operation of the bill; the question being on the amendment of the committee excepting the Gulf & Ship Island Road, it was rejected—yeas 83, nays 173.

Wired From Weshington-Washington, 27.—The House Com-nittee on Coinage, Weights and Meas mittee on Coinage, Weights and Measures to-day began the consideration of the silver question. The whole subject was discussed in an informal way and while the frembers spoke more freely than heretofore they did not state their views specifically but in very general terms. The discussion took a wide range reference being made to the French monetary system and our own paper money. The following resolution was introduced by Lanham during the session:

Resolved, That it is the duty of the Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures, at as early a day as practicable, to report to the House a bill looking to the free coinage of standard sliver dollars. following:

Resolved, As the sense of this committee, that the best interests of the country cannot be promoted by any bill now before the committee looking to the free coinage of silver.

Bynum introduced a resolution as follows:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the committee that the laws regulating and providing for the issue of gold and silver certificates should be so amended as to provide for the retirement of the same and for the issue of coin certificates in their stead.

No action was taken by the committee upon any of these resolutions, nor did they elicit a distinct expression of the views of any of the members. It was resolved that the question should be further discussed and an opinion sought frem the different persons interested in the question until February 10th, when the committee will proceed to consider the distinct propositions now before them:

San Francisco, 27.—A telegram received at Presidio to-day from Fort Bowie, Arizona, signed Gen. Crook, gives the contents of a dispatch received by the latter from Lieut. Mans, dated Nocori, Sonora, Mexico, Jan. 21. It states that the troops, under Capt. Crawford, on Jan. 11th, surrounded and attacked the Indian camp, 50 miles southeast of Nocori. A two-hours' running fight took place. A number of Indians were wounded, but all escaped. The hostiles sent word that they wished to hold a consultation with the white troops in the camp. Awaiting the time fixed for the conference, they were attacked by 154 Mexican soldiers. Efforts were made to let them know the troops were Americans and friends. Captain Crawford and Lieut. P. Mans advanced to talk with them, when a volley was fired. Captain Crawford was ahot in the head, and Mr. Horn, the interpreter, was slightly wounded in the left arm. The Mexicans' fire was partially returned by the scouts in Captain Crawford's command, but only sufficient to keep them at a distance. The firing lasted half an hour, when Lieutenant Mans succeeded in having a talk with the officer in Mexican Troops.

hour, when Lieutenant Mans succeeded in having a talk with the officer in command of the Mexicans, their captain having been killed. He was told that the Americans were taken for hostiles owing to the darkness. The Mexicans signed a paper to that effect. The loss to the Americans by the unfortunate affair was: Captain Crawford, mortally wounded; Mr. Horn, chief of the scouts, and two Indians, slightly wounded, and another severely wounded. The Mexican loss was four killed and five wounded.

In the believes the Mexicans expected to thrive the Americans off with an overwhelming force and secure the Camp and effects.

Captain Crawford died on the 18th during the march to Noconi, where he was buried. He was unconscious until his death.

Lieutenant Maus then assumed com to Nocont. Two squaws entered the camp, through whom arrangements were made by Lieutenaut Maus for s conference with two bucks of the hostile band. This ended by Chief Nana and one buck, the wife and chief of both Geronimo and Natchez, a sister of Geronimo, one boy and a woman being given as hostages to Lieutenaut Maus for the observance of peace until Geronimo meets General Orock, with whom he expresses a wish to have a talk. The meeting between Crook and Geronimo will take place in about a month and will undoubtedly end in the Indians surrendering. The hand consists of Chief Geronimo, Natchez, Chihuahua and Nana, twenty bucks, and some women and children. Lieutenaut Maus is now heading for Lang's ranch.

The Cattle Convention

DENVER, 27.—The First International Range Cattle and Horse Growers' Convention was called to order at the Grand Opers House this morning at 11 o'clock, by the preliminary Secretary H. M. Taylor Nearly two thousand delegates and visiting stockmen were present representing Texas, Wyoming Dush, Nevads, Colorado, Montana, Indian California, Nebraska, Arizona, Indian Territory, Hansas, New Mexico and Mexico. The Secretary on calling the convention to order read the call under which the delegates assembled, stating that "white the convention had no desire to cut loose from the National Association at St. Louis, we realize that the people of the East are not familiar with the requirements of the cattle, growing interests of the plains. They know but little of our system of breefing and maturing cattle which is whoily different from that followed in the agricultural regions; that they cannot, with wisdom, participate in the deliberations concerning our business interests. The entire range country is so homogeneous that we are confident that an organization, limited to its members engaged in the range industry, will prove of the greatest beneficial results."

Sturgle, of Myoming, was put forward as temporary chairman, Governor E. Jutt, who so ably presided a the St. Louis Conventions, was unasimously endorsed and chosen chair man, with G. L. Brooks, of New Mexico, secretary.

The committee on credentials was then appointed by the Chair, composed of one from each delegation present. Governor Easte, of Colorado, welconed the cattlemen on behalf of the city, after which A. B. Mathews, of Kansas City, brought on to the stage a mammoth Galloway sicer—Jumbo—weighing 2,500 pounds, and presented it to the Convention. It was intended that he should be siaughtered and diffided among the delegates, but upon the motion of Colonel J. W. Dyer, of New Mexico, the animal was sent to the Colorado Agricultural Farm.

The committee on credentials retired.

Mexican Reciprocity. San Francisco, 27.—The California fruit growers have addressed a memorial to Congress setting forth that the Mexican reciprocity treaty to come before Congress for action will seriously injure the fruit-growing interests of California if passed; that the present duty of 35 per cent, ad valorem OUR or prenes, 2 cents per cent, ad valorem or prenes, 2 cents per pound on raisins, and $i a gallon on clive oil affords no real protection to these enterprises. Congress is therefore asked to raise the duty on prenes to 50 per ceut, raisins to 3 cents, clive oil to $8, and to decline to ratify the Mexican recli

FOREIGN.,

The Greek Figet. CONSTANTINOPLE, 27.—The inhabit ants of the Island of Crete, three-fourths of whom are Greeks; are incited over the prospect of the arrival of the Greek squadron. There are only two Turkish irouclads in Cretan waters and they are stationed at Zalba Bay. They would not be able to resist the progress of the Greek fleet. The Turkish garrison on the Island numbers 10,000 men.

The Political Peril in Great Schola London, 27.—The Times says: Gladstone is face to face with the greatest problem and the greatest opportunity of his public life. His position is extraordinary is its possibilities. The "Three acres and a cow" doctrine is the Parliamentary stock in trade of the member for Ipswich. To have fallen in opposing such a motion puts the in opposing such a motion puts the Tories at a serious disadvantage in the pext and propably not distant general election: for the entranchised voters, some 2,000,000 in number, are to a large extent directly interested in Collings's somewhat visionary schemes. The Herald special cable quotes the London Times as saying: 'It will be the duty of all who regard patriotism more than party attachments to maintain an unfinehing resistance to the measures of such a government as that now threatened, and to wage war against it till the Commonwealth has been delivered from the peril which is greater than any that has impended over England for seventy years.' The Times ascribes the defeat to the hesitations and delays of the Cabinet and claims that it goes out needlessly on a side issue. It says Gladstone's arms have to rest on the country, and it is certain his Parliament will be short lived. ived. The Chronicle denies the Irish victory acknowledged by the Post, and this in the face of the fact that while the majority was 79, the Irish members gave 82 votes.

The London Standard says: The political outlook is gloomy in the ex-
