

REVIEW OF PREVAILING ATHLETIC SPORTS

MADDOK HAS BIG JOB FORMING TEAM

Experienced Gridiron Men But Plots of Raw Material to Work With.

Coach Maddock of the "East Benchmen" like everyone else, always welcomes a change from the monotony of routine, and for this reason looked forward with no little bit of anticipation to the present season. But he seemed to be disappointed; for at the dawn of the new semester, he faces the same old problem, developing a winning team from new and less experienced men. While Maddock feels confident that he can put out a team equally as good as those of previous years, the "Benchmen" of the town all agree that the situation at present is a little uncertain, and they all attribute it to the extreme care taken by the eligibility and discipline committees. And until there is a "juring loose," varsity fans will have to listen to the future to the same old story: "new old men but lots of green material." Nevertheless, Fred Bassett of the Western Arms school, though the "C" has far stricter eligibility rules than any other school in the country, its athletes are clean, but in my estimation, as soon as this new system becomes thoroughly established, there will be a loosening.

MANY OLD MEN OUT.

Though the university loses a number over every year through graduation, this loss is but a fraction of that comprising those who "lose their heads." The result of the rulings of these committees above mentioned, of course, varies much with the actions of Captain Conville, styled by the popular critics, "that mighty master of the game," will be hardest to fill.

Tom Shaw, whose conduct was a feature and guard to the weasels in the game, paid his last respects to the team during the season. Just then again, to find a man able to duplicate the accurate catches and rapid speed playing for Monahan and will be a hard problem for Maddock to solve. Gardner and Brown at center left, with 300 yards to their credit, are another weasel to be reckoned with.

Among those now ineligible for one reason or another is "Deutsch" Richards, who notwithstanding last year was his first season in "varsity football" played a star game. Then there was Houston, Dex Benning, "Fat" Richards, Jessup, Ben Grant, George Roberts, and a score or more of others many of whom would, no doubt, have made a place on the team.

BROTON TO TRY OUT.

Yet, still Coach Maddock, who in shirt sleeves, was wading through a stack of correspondence, "we have a large number of men and many others yet to come. Men who have to work during vacation time, quit their jobs to train for football. For this reason we had but 10 or 12 men at Lagoon. Those there, however, showed up pretty well, and, everything considered, the trip was a success. Already we have had so many applicants that our lists are about all gone and we are unable to recruit any more."

It may be a little weak at this end of the season, it will be as strong as any we have ever had. It is that same thing again, make a team from green men, but we are going to do it, or break our necks trying.

JEFFRIES-JOHNSON FIGHT NEXT YEAR

When James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson come together, and the indications are now that they surely will, come together, it will be some time during February or March, 1910. It is very probable that Jeffries and Sam Berger, his manager, will make a short tour around the states when Jeff returns from Europe before going into active training for the big battle.

In a letter from Sam Berger we have just received word from Jeff, who has been at Carlsbad in Germany, and he is feeling fine. As soon as Jeff gets back the final articles for the match with Johnson will be signed, and the date will be set for the fight.

We will probably take to the road for a few weeks in connection with some good show for Jeff will not start active training for the bout until two months before the date set. His fight will be in the ring, training right along, so that two months hard work will be all that is necessary. You can put it down for a fact that Jeff will insist upon the matching taking place in the United States and California looks pretty good.

There is no doubt that Jeff will weigh $100,000 in the big fight and his theatrical venture. I never expected that Jeffries would be as good as when he retired from the ring, but when he did, he could go within ten per cent of what he was able to whip Johnson, and from what we have learned, Jeff will be all of that when he faces the colored man.

It begins to look more and more as if Jeff will be the victor in the Jeffries-Johnson fight.
