

NEWS OF THE WEST.

Starting the Cause of Attempted Suicide of Father and Son.

ANOTHER GREAT ATTRACTION.

Row at Midway—A Hotel City Setup—Dixie County Teachers—Walter—Sports—Incidents.

There are twenty-one persons in Mountain county, Utah, who are more than $100,000 worth of land each. There are several estates of $20,000 and $10,000 in the county.

Arrangements have already been made for the advancement of over 10,000 head of Mexican cattle from Texico, N. M., for the first quantities to come in November.

Water is getting very scarce at Kaysville, Davis county, and in consequence parties are hastening in bulk among reservoirs and seeking new improvements as well land to serve as little water that does come down from the hills.

The Idaho State Horticultural society will make its annual annual meeting at Pocatello, September 18th and 19th. The society meets to discuss the cultivation of the products, the best methods of growing them, the cause of culture and the best methods of marketing the products in the way of commerce.

At Magna, Owyhee, George Crandall and George Taylor were members of the Magna staff, which is now gone, when a timber fell from above. They had got up upon it, but were not accidently cut off. Crandall was the first to get off, and knocked in the bottom of the shaft and喊ed for help. Taylor was struck upon the head, dislodged his position and was not seriously injured. When the miners reached him he was dead, and had caught the blow of the timber which killed him. He leaves a wife and four young children.

The members of Davis county will hold their annual institute during the week, beginning August 27th, and ending August 30th, says the Deseret Evening News. The institute will be held at the University. He will deliver five lectures on physiology, school management and philosophy of education. Mrs. W. M. Stewart, the instructor on piano, piano, and singing, will also speak. Lewis will speak before the public at Paragon Wednesday evening. There will also be other public meetings during the week.

The success of the great editorial convention at Salt Lake is evident. Delegates are going home satisfied. The great result of the convention is a way to a special train. Thirty Louisiana delegates left Friday. A big crowd is going from Cheyenne. Last evening a concert was given at the hall of the Convention. Every event and every material item is being completed. The vacation will have a grand time—classical, artistic.

John T. Walker, who resides on the left of the street entering Midway, met with a severe and most mortal wound on Saturday evening last. The fire department had his barn of wood 20x20 feet in size in flames. This was not all, however, for the night before he had put the barn on fire, he had a number of horses, mostly mares, in the stable which were destroyed, together with his outfit of horses. Children had been playing with fire about an hour before the barn went up in flames, which was the cause of the destruction. As is generally the case with such occasions, some of the family were at home when the fire broke out. There was no alarm.

A rough-and-tumble fight occurred at Turner's Hall in Hester City last Sunday evening about 10 o'clock, between the "Fives" and the "Tens." Lewis Turner, who generally has charge of the hall, recognized one Walter Phillips, a young man from Park City, as the leader of the "Tens" at the supper on July 24, when he was present, and was a guest of the "Fives," which cost him $20.00. Mr. Turner, thinking it was a $25 certificate, gave Phillips $25.00 back as change. He soon after discovered his mistake, and when he went to see Phillips, he found that he had left the dance at Turner's, and he has not shown up any place since until Monday night. Then the master came up, the "Tens" was pitted against Phillips' partner, Mr. McLaughlin, and Morris, the host, in which McLaughlin was badly beaten.

Glengary Mine, Colo.—According to the news, last year C. W. Darow took eight acres of land adjoining the timberline on the north and a week ago began to clear the land for its owner Mr. J. D. Gardner and H. K. Steckler were examining the property they heard a whistling sound coming from the earth, and they investigated and found a large hole in the side of the mountain, through which a stream of running water was pouring into the opening. They then examined the hole, and found that it had been dug by a bear. Men were hired to make the hole larger, so that it could be enlarged, and when ingress was possible they sent for a team of horses, and discovered these horses were all very lame, and Mr. Darow then decided to make extensive improvements, so that the horses will have a much greater strength. They will be called the "Ice Caves."

Arthur H. Dodge, hardware proprietor of Salt Lake, has sold his business and移居 to San Francisco, Calif. With his wife attempted to commit suicide yesterday evening. Dodge, who has been suffering for the past three years from salient lesions, having undergone a series of operations, and has been confined to bed ever since, declined to tell his wife all he had been doing in San Francisco. Having lost everything of value they possessed, Dodge surrendered his residence to his wife, and took a room with whom, with the purpose of continuing his studies. The new house was five grades away, but owing to the weakened condition of their steamer, due to the fact that they were unable to provide the proper amount of steam, the house collapsed, and was entirely lost, the same day, as when found. There were silver and coffee & tobacco. After leaving the attention of a doctor it was determined that Dodge had been forced to take a walk, and was not able to walk for three days and were unable to move his arms that much to add to all these pains. The neighbors, who had been in constant touch with their employer, were greatly worried about their safety, and when they were told that Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco, they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch with their employer, who was greatly worried about their safety, and when they were told that Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco, they were greatly relieved.

WHY?

CARTWRIGHT & HUMELBAUGH, 802 FIFTH STREET, 140 Main, OPPOSITE ALBERHAUSEN.

Are you looking for the best of Salt Lake City, and guarantee their work the longest?

These are twenty-one persons in Mountain county, Utah, who are more than $100,000 worth of land each. There are several estates of $20,000 and $10,000 in the county.

Arrangements have already been made for the advancement of over 10,000 head of Mexican cattle from Texico, N. M., for the first quantities to come in November.

Water is getting very scarce at Kaysville, Davis county, and in consequence parties are hastening in bulk among reservoirs and seeking new improvements as well land to serve as little water that does come down from the hills.

The Idaho State Horticultural society will make its annual annual meeting at Pocatello, September 18th and 19th.

The members of Davis county will hold their annual institute during the week, beginning August 27th, and ending August 30th, says the Deseret Evening News.

The great result of the convention is a way to a special train. Thirty Louisiana delegates left Friday. A big crowd is going from Cheyenne. Last evening a concert was given at the hall of the Convention. Every event and every material item is being completed. The vacation will have a grand time—classical, artistic.

A rough-and-tumble fight occurred at Turner's Hall in Hester City last Sunday evening about 10 o'clock, between the "Fives" and the "Tens."

Lewis Turner, who generally has charge of the hall, recognized one Walter Phillips, a young man from Park City, as the leader of the "Tens" at the supper on July 24, when he was present, and was a guest of the "Fives," which cost him $20.00.

Mr. Turner, thinking it was a $25 certificate, gave Phillips $25.00 back as change.

He soon after discovered his mistake, and when he went to see Phillips, he found that he had left the dance at Turner's, and he has not shown up any place since until Monday night.

Then the master came up, the "Tens" was pitted against Phillips' partner,

Mr. McLaughlin, and Morris, the host, in which McLaughlin was badly beaten.

They will be called the "Ice Caves."

Glengary Mine, Colo.—According to the news, last year C. W. Darow took eight acres of land adjoining the timberline on the north and a week ago began to clear the land for its owner Mr. J. D. Gardner and H. K.
Steckler were examining the property they heard a whistling sound coming from the earth, and they investigated and found a large hole in the side of the mountain, through which a stream of running water was pouring into the opening. They then examined the hole, and found that it had been dug by a bear. Men were hired to make the hole larger, so that it could be enlarged, and when ingress was possible they sent for a team of horses, and discovered these horses were all very lame, and Mr. Darow then decided to make extensive improvements, so that the horses will have a much greater strength. They will be called the "Ice Caves."

Arthur H. Dodge, hardware proprietor of Salt Lake, has sold his business and移居 to San Francisco, Calif.

With his wife attempted to commit suicide yesterday evening.

Dodge, who has been suffering for the past three years from salient lesions, having undergone a series of operations, and has been confined to bed ever since, declined to tell his wife all he had been doing in San Francisco. Having lost everything of value they possessed, Dodge surrendered his residence to his wife, and took a room with whom, with the purpose of continuing his studies.

The new house was five grades away, but owing to the weakened condition of their steamer, due to the fact that they were unable to provide the proper amount of steam, the house collapsed, and was entirely lost, the same day, as when found.

There were silver and coffee & tobacco.

After leaving the attention of a doctor it was determined that Dodge had been forced to take a walk, and was not able to walk for three days and were unable to move his arms that much to add to all these pains.

The neighbors, who had been in constant touch with their employer, were greatly worried about their safety, and when they were told that Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco, they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch with their employer, who was greatly worried about their safety, and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had been in constant touch
with their employer, who was
greatly worried about their safety,
and when they were told that
Mr. Dodge was in San Francisco,
they were greatly relieved.

They had