

The Convention.—The Constitutional Convention met at 2 p.m. today, Vice-President Harrington in the chair.

Mr. Booth's motion that the rules of the 25th session of the Legislature be adopted for the guidance of the house was voted down.

Measures, Young, Booth, Sheeks, Stout, Tanner, Rawlins and Riter were added to the committee on completion.

C. W. Penrose, chairman, reported on legislative department.

John T. Caine, chairman, reported on municipal and other corporations.

Geo. W. Thatcher, chairman, reported on finance and State department.

John R. Winder, chairman, reported on militia.

Wm. W. Cluff, chairman, reported on taxation.

E. G. Woolley, chairman, reported on impeachment and removal from office.

Silas S. Smith, chairman, reported on public institutions.

James Lowe, chairman, reported on boundary and miscellaneous provisions.

The rest of the committees are making progress but were not prepared to report.

The committee on printing, by Charles W. Nibley, reported that the DESKERT NEWS Company had kindly agreed to do the printing without any contract for payment.

The other committees represented that they were unable to present reports, but good progress was being made in their preparation to do so, and they expected to present the results of their labors to the convention shortly.

Adjourned till 2 p.m. to-morrow.

Got the Money.—Rev. Dwight Spencer, of the Baptist persuasion, whose Utah location is Ogden, will soon return from his mission to the States. He has been on a part-time expedition, for the purpose of getting money with which to build a brick church in Ogden. In one of his speeches before a Baptist conference, he passed a scathing criticism on his brethren (?) of the other sects in Utah, asserting that they didn't have influence enough to hold a prayer meeting of respectable proportions, and intimated that the Baptist denomination, numbering 19 members, was the only sect having any vitality to speak of. He also struck a blow at the "Mormons," but didn't hurt them much, as they are used to that kind of thing from modern Pharisees, but the slaps he gave his fellow-sectarians made them squirm.

Mr. Spencer appears to have got his hat pretty well filled, as he is making arrangements to build a Baptist church in Ogden. While Mr. Spencer is not much to boast of, he is about the best of the sectarian cloth in the Territory.

Indians and Whisky.—The Beaver Enterprise states that last Sunday evening:

"Some Indians who were camped about three miles west of Beaver, got on a drunken spree, and after waking the night air with demoniac yells, attacked the residence of Mr. Charles Booth, who is living on his farm in the west field. About 9 o'clock at night the Indians called at Mr. Booth's house and demanded admittance, but were refused by the inmates. After trying in vain to force the door, they got an ax from the wood pile and broke open one of the windows, but Mr. Booth succeeded in keeping them out.

On Monday morning Mr. Booth came to town and entered a complaint before Commissioner Wilkins, who placed a writ in the hands of Sheriff Cooke for their arrest. The latter named gentleman took an interpreter and a posse with him, and proceeded to the camp, but before they reached the place, all the offenders except two had fled to the hills. Mr. Cooke arrested these two and brought them to town. They had a hearing before the Commissioner, and promised to do better in the future. Mr. Booth withdrew the charge, and they were permitted to go. The persons selling whisky to the Indians should be found out, and receive the full penalty of the law.

A Close Call.—The Ogden Herald states that a number of graders started from that town on Monday night, on the Utah & Northern, to work on the Oregon Short Line at and around American Falls. Among their number was Mr. John Child's son, Lester, a young man of about 19 years of age. In the night, while the train was going down the hill on the east side of the divide, about four miles this side of Mendon, Mr. Child was stepping from a flat car to the caboose, to get a drink of water, when his foot slipped and he fell to the track, the train continuing its career. The hard fall stunned Mr. Child, and he lay unconscious for several hours. On his awaking, he picked himself up, considerably bruised but fortunately without any broken bones. The same morning he reached Mendon afoot, and on telegraphic inquiry from Logan, informed his comrades of Corey Bros' outfit that he was not hurt badly and would soon join them.

The Harp.—To-day we received a call from Mr. James Blamphin, of Liverpool, England, an excellent musician, whose specialty is that delightful instrument, the harp.

To-morrow, at 10 o'clock, Mr. Blamphin and a couple of local musicians purpose trying the effect of the organ and harp combined in the Tabernacle. The following piece will be performed on the occasion: "La Source," Blumenthal; "Harmonious Blacksmith," with variations, Handel; "March of the Men of Harlech," John Thomas; "Bacchus," Alvars; and a trio—organ, violin and harp, "Ave Maria," Gounod.

The trial is merely to ascertain the effect of the harp in connection with the organ, and is of a private character.

The Utes.—A Washington dispatch says:

The Senate took up the bill allotting to the Southern Utes the agricultural lands in or near the Utah reservation, in Utah Territory, the deed of which has heretofore been provided for them on the La Plata river and vicinity, in Colorado and New Mexico. The committee amendment requiring consent to the Utah removal and settlement was stricken out, after a statement by letters that this bill held no title to this reservation, and that the committee was assuming otherwise. The bill passed.

Dr. Anderson's Condition.—Dr. W. F. Anderson, who was accidentally hurt last Tuesday, passed last night rather restlessly, in consequence of severe pains in his bowels. The pains in his chest have somewhat subsided, but he still suffers considerably in that region when attempting to move. Notwithstanding he suffered a concussion of the brain and spine from falling upon his head and shoulder, no such symptoms as paralysis has appeared. The condition of the patient is therefore as favorable as could be expected, although, considering that the doctor is in his 60th year, the result at this early stage cannot be unqualifiedly predicted. His numerous warm friends hope for his speedy recovery.

High Council.—The regular meeting of the High Council will be held in the Council House on Friday evening April 21st at 7 p.m.

Wm. W. Taylor, Clerk.

Coat Stolen.—Last night somebody stepped into Order & Patterson's establishment, took the first named gentleman's coat from the hook on which it was hanging and walked off with it. It was the act of a sneak thief laboring under a fit of abstraction.

Milton Nobles.—Mr. J. Duke Murray, business agent for Milton Nobles, is in town. The celebrated comedian and author will present "The Phenix" on Thursday evening, April 21st, and "Interviews, or Bright Bohemia," on Friday.

Theatre.—The Giganteans are pronounced the best minstrel troupe that ever visited this city. They drew another large house last night and the audience were delighted. To-night and to-morrow there will be an entire change of programme.

On Saturday afternoon there will be a grand matinee.

The farewell performance will be given on Saturday night.

Good Portraits.—We have seen a life-size bust portrait of President Young, in India ink, by Willard Clawson. The likeness is most excellent, and does credit to the skill of the progressive young artist. The picture was executed on the order of Mr. L. D. Young.

Another portrait, of Mr. H. B. Clawson, the father of the artist, is also very finely executed, the expression of the subject being preserved to a marked degree.

The Watch Case.—The suit instituted by Mr. George E. Kirkham, of Cache County, against Mr. J. A. Turner, whom he charged with selling him a watch on a misrepresentation of its real value, was to have come up to-day. It was dismissed on motion of the prosecuting attorney, who stated that Kirkham had left the city, and he had no other witness upon whose testimony a case could be made out against the defendant.

It appears that Kirkham had been offered $18 for the watch, declined to accept, and left for home last night, taking the article with him. Mr. Turner states that the watch was full value of the money paid for it by Kirkham.
