Last Night's Dispatches.
EASTERN.
The Swine Disease.
WASHINGTON, 29.—Mr. Dodge, of the Statistician Department of Agriculture, reports as the result of investigations of the losses from disease of swine during the past twelve months, a destruction of four million animals, of all ages, and the money loss is more than $30,000,000. One fifth of the loss occurs in Illinois; next in prominence are Missouri, Iowa, and Indiana, which together lose $10,000,000.
Several southern States, such as Ohio and the Atlantic Coast States, stand better than the all-around districts. The apparent loss is equivalent to a third of the sum of the exports of the pork products last year.

Appointment.
The President has appointed Edward McTimoney, of the District of Columbia, register of the land office at Boise City, Idaho.

The United States and Mexico.
The action of the Cabinet, to-day, does not involve the formal recognition of Diaz's government, but merely deals with it as the only party that can be addressed. Some weeks must necessarily elapse before a response to our demand can be received, and hence there is not likely to be any immediate increase in Mexican sell by United States troops.

The Apache Indians.
St. Louis, 29.—A round about report has reached here that the Apache Indians have taken Texas Town, of Double Mountain, with all the stock in town. The letter also states that many hunters have been killed by Indians during the winter, and that in the recent fight between sixty hunters and over a hundred Apaches the hunters for many days pursued the Indians for murdering one of their number, and though nearly starved, were length they came upon the Indian village, they attacked it, and had a fight of several hours, from which the Indians retreated under cover of the darkness, with it, it is believed, great loss.

The American Insurrection.
NEW YORK, 29.—At the session of the board of delegates of the American Insurrection, to-day, the committee on statistics made a report showing the state of their charitable institutions, the number of newspapers, etc., under Jewish control. Four secret Hebrew societies were mentioned, showing a membership of 50,000. Simon Wolf, of Washington, vice-president of the meeting, read the following letter from Secretary of State Evarts:

Washington, May 29th, I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 1st inst., in relation to the hardships, outrages, and persecutions of the Israelites dwelling in Turkish provinces.
In view of the oppression of these unhappy people, and of the dangers to which they are now being exposed, the Department is instructed to the United States ministers and representatives near the Turkish provinces to co-operate with their colleagues in such measures as may be deemed for the relief of the principalities, and you instance especially those in Roumania. Much of the trouble they are now experiencing is inseparable from the state of war in which the country is now engaged. The provinces are all more or less under military control, and it is feared ordinary diplomatic protests and representations would be of little avail. It is therefore as is wished by all who desire to see right, justice, and humanity prevail. In furtherance of your wishes the Department will refer a copy of your letter to our minister at Constantinople with instructions to take such action in the matter as will, in his judgment, be best calculated to secure an amelioration of the condition of the oppressed people.

I am, etc.

The Times Washington special says the May debt statement will present a very favorable showing.
The debt will be reduced for the month about $1,000,000, and an equivalent reduction for eleven months of the fiscal year of about $35,000,000, which includes $10,000,000 received from the Geneva Award fund, and converted into Treasury notes. The balance, exclusive of the $25,000,000 received from the sale of bonds under the resumption act, will be about $100,000,000, of which about $48,000,000 are coin certificates and currency. The balance, including the amount held to redeem fractional currency, will be upward of $13,000,000. The customs receipts will be about $11,000,000, and the internal revenue receipts about $13,000,000. The balance legally tender, added during the month, for additional circulation issued to national banks, is $1,081,000.
About one half of $7,000,000, due for pensions of the Civil War Army, has been disbursed this month.

Details of the Kemper Butchery.
The Times Washington special says Mr. Clarendon, who is to visit Washington, under date of May 29th, furnishing additional details of the Kemper Butchery.
She says—My husband was murdered for no cause except loyalty to the flag which he thought would bring him citizenship. Glimer was murdered on the street on the way to deliver himself to the sheriff. He was held by one of his guard while shot by his captives. McJannet was an old gray-haired man and a British subject. He often assured me that he could not become a naturalized citizen because the United States was not doing enough for the people of France.
Knowing that he could neither be bought nor frightened, the sheriff called him down and delivered him up to the mob, who dispatched him, firing two loads into his head after he was dead. This I saw myself. My boy, after having had his hand shot off, turned quickly and placed his shoulder to the door, which the mob were breaking open with axes and iron bars. At the same time I was on the outside, having gone home a short time previously by the direction of my husband. Putting my hand through the grating, I implored my captives, My son Clay caught him in his arms and ran behind a large iron cage, but before Clay could spring back to take his place against the door, Johnnie died, and my father and I sprang before his father and his son, whom he saw in the act of shooting him. Rosser placed his gun at the heart of my little boy and fired, and contents into his body.

At the instant my husband contained the only loaded gun there, which had been brought from our house, and killed Rosser. When I put my head through the grating I saw Cornelia fainting and rubbing her face. I told her for her father's sake to rally. She gathered her little dead brother in her arms and laid behind the cage. After the lock had been chopped out of the door I sprang inside to give the alarm that the mob had fired the jail. My daughter's face was covered with blood from wounds caused by a shot which had rebounded after striking the iron bars. It told my husband to fight his way through, not knowing then that the guns which had been left by the guard had been loaded with live ammunition. The sheriff, with Clay's assistance I carried Johnnie's dead body down stairs through the hall to the outside; turning, I saw a renewal of the attack, and my husband confined down with our daughter's arm around his waist. At this time old Henry Gully was at the door. I urged him back, holding the door with both hands. He put his gun into the grating and began shooting his way through, not know-
