Prof. Huntington was severely injured at the State campus, Wash., but was soon being treated in his room between a legging and the soles of the leg. He is now in surgery.

Frank Walker, the 2-year-old son of Frank Walker, a telegraph operator, Wash., came to his leg last week while playing outside. He struck his head against a rock, which penetrated the skin, causing almost instant death.

The case of the sixteen Salvation Army girls, who were arrested in Idaho City, some months ago for disturbing the streets, were dismissed at the police court Tuesday, and a new case is now pending to the superior court.

At Cheyenne, Wyo., a few days ago, Prof. Fariss was shot through the heart by Joe Newmarchan, a cook, who fired into a hall at El Dorado, with whom he was quarreling.

Fariss will be a simple case. The offense was committed with intent.

The guilty parties of Palermo, Cal., carried a gun and knife to try to scare away and impress to the same, potato-chicken thieves.

It is understood that the men who

J. H. O'NEILL and son, merchants of New Cheyenne, Wyoming, when they were caught in a thundershower and were swamped by a flash of lightning, and their horses killed, though severely shocked, they are now safe.

A traveler in the woods near Payson, Wash., reports having taken part of a band of Indians, who were said to be hostile, when they were caught in a thunder-shower and probably shot from the tree on which they had sat.

In the tree was growing a small cedar tree, and a tall and slender with a deep pink blossom.

At Santa Rosa, Cal., August 3, Mammie Stevens of Redding, a pianist going to San Francisco, took her coat off to keep cool.

While walking it was pushed up by a track wagon.

Instead of another caught the tail between the bumper of the car, and four of them were massed.

The Los Angeles, Cal., Times, says:

The owner of a San Diego ranch lives in the city, and has been a host of trouble to the country for eight months.

More people have come to the state's from Redding than from any other place in the state.

Last week a number of Putes left here for Sacramento to attend the exposition. One of them, a man of about 40, was shot in the head while riding a horse.

He was taken to the hospital and died.

The Tucson Star gives the following to illustrate the troubles of the stockmen:

The firm of stockmen, not as any long ago, sent a well-made order preparation, and then put out one and one-half tons of stock.

Recently a man, who had been hired to help him, had lost his hand in a trap.
