

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
One Year.	$10.00
One Month.	1.00
One Week.	.25

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

NO. 48.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 18, 1861, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH TERRITORY.

THE BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM
IN UTAH HOMES.

HAYES DEAD.

The Sudden Announcement a Shock to All.

THE GENERAL'S LAST WORDS.

A Quiet and Painless Departure from This Sphere of Action.

PALYSIS OF THE HEART.

A Brief Biographical Sketch of the Career of the Departed Ex-President.

President O. H. Jan. 17.—Ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes died at 11 o'clock tonight of paralysis of the heart. Information of his death was not obtained for some time later as everything was kept exceedingly quiet in the vicinity of the Hayes' quiet. The early report of the condition of the ex-President, who was said to be improving slowly and resting easily, alighted suspicion, so the sudden announcement by Webb Hayes that his father had just passed a shock to all. Mr. Hayes had been awaiting the condition of his health during a quiet change early in the evening and rapid dissolution followed.

Mr. Hayes had been watched during the day and evening by Dr. Hillis and friends, and, unusually the case, was conscious until the time of his death; but an interview early in the evening with Webb P. Hayes appeared to reduce the facts to the statement that his condition was much improved, so that the difference between the North and the South.

Since his retirement from office in 1869, Mr. Hayes has lived quietly at his home at Fremont, Ohio.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 17.—Public interest in the quarantine bill has been transferred to the House since the Senate passed the bill without division, but not without an earnest effort to pile up amendments on the bill. This bill is in some respects one of the most remarkable that was ever passed by the United States Senate, although it does not, as some have supposed, actually establish a system of national quarantine, but it gives the President more authority than ever exercised by a president. He may, if he chooses, make a law, whenever in his discretion it is necessary to keep out contagious or infectious diseases, not only suspend immigration for any period not to exceed one year, but he can also suspend the importation of merchandise from infected countries. The authority to invest possession of state property when it becomes necessary to use the same for quarantine purposes without the consent of the state authorities, gives the national government all the power it could exercise under a national quarantine.

The members of the family and their physician had passed a comfortable day, and nothing seemed to indicate that the death of the general was expected. Webb Hayes went to the bank where he is employed as usual this morning. The bank had been recently reorganized, and the cashier, a former friend of the patient, who had been a frequent visitor, had recommended him to the new physician. The physician had been told that the patient had been ill for a week, and that he was evidently improving.

Notwithstanding the change in the quarantine bill, giving the President power to suspend immigration for any part of a year, whenever in his discretion it is necessary to keep out contagious or infectious diseases, not only suspend immigration for any period not to exceed one year, but he can also suspend the importation of merchandise from infected countries.

The authority to invest possession of state property when it becomes necessary to use the same for quarantine purposes without the consent of the state authorities, gives the national government all the power it could exercise under a national quarantine.

Notwithstanding the change in the quarantine bill, giving the President power to suspend immigration for any part of a year, whenever in his discretion it is necessary to keep out contagious or infectious diseases, not only suspend immigration for any period not to exceed one year, but he can also suspend the importation of merchandise from infected countries.

The national board of trade, called together in the banquet hall at the Sherman at 12:30 today by its venerable president, Frederick Frerichs of Philadelphia, who has been president since its organization, after the speech of the ex-president, one from each organization represented, was then announced. The board then adjourned until tomorrow.

TO FIX THE SALARIES OF RAILWAY POSTAL CLERKS.

The House committee on post offices and post roads, today voted favorably in favor of a bill to fix the salaries of railway postal clerks. The bill will classify the posts, and the salaries of railway postal clerks received a favorable report. The bill will be introduced in the Senate.

The bill will give the Postmaster General power to fix the salaries of railway postal clerks, and will provide for the classification of the posts, and the salaries of railway postal clerks received a favorable report. The bill will be introduced in the Senate.

The bill will give the Postmaster General power to fix the salaries of railway postal clerks, and will provide for the classification of the posts, and the salaries of railway postal clerks received a favorable report.

THE NATIONAL BOARD OF TRADE.

The national board of trade, called together in the banquet hall at the Sherman at 12:30 today by its venerable president, Frederick Frerichs of Philadelphia, who has been president since its organization, after the speech of the ex-president, one from each organization represented, was then announced. The board then adjourned until tomorrow.

TO FIX THE SALARIES OF CALIFORNIA AND NEVADA.

The committee of the currency, today appointed William P. Whigham of San Francisco national bank examiner for the states of California and Nevada.

THOUGHT TO BE CHOLERA.

An immigrant from India dies in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 17.—According to the health department this city was visited by a case of genuine Asiatic cholera, the eighth instance. The department received notification of the death of one Englebert Hogg, a German emigrant on a S. S. train from the East.

The health department had come under the impression that the opposition to the bill providing for the suspension of the right to vote for the election of the lands known as the Cherokee strip, and it is expected that the bill will shortly become a law. Mr. Hobart said all along that he would oppose the bill till the time of the election, and that they will be compelled to kill the bill in the House, in some manner not named, but there are reasons for the belief that they also will be compelled to kill the bill in the Senate.

The bill will be introduced in the Senate by Mr. Wixson of Missouri, and will be referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations, and the bill will be referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF THE CENSUS.

The report of the Commissioner of the Census was read before the Senate yesterday morning, and it was voted to accept the report.

The report of the Commissioner of the Census was read before the Senate yesterday morning, and it was voted to accept the report.

THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF THE CENSUS.

The report of the Commissioner of the Census was read before the Senate yesterday morning, and it was voted to accept the report.

THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF THE CENSUS.

The report of the Commissioner of the Census was read before the Senate yesterday morning, and it was voted to accept the report.

THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF THE CENSUS.

The report of the Commissioner of the Census was read before the Senate yesterday morning, and it was voted to accept the report.

IDAHO LEGISLATURE.

Three bills introduced in the House.

BELMONT, Ida., Jan. 17.—Very little of general interest occurred in the legislature today.

The senate held no morning session and made little progress in the afternoon.

In the house this morning only three bills were introduced, but they may all be regarded as commendable.

Mr. Atkinson of Owyhee introduced a bill providing that there shall be

ENGLAND AND SCOTLAND.

Three bills introduced in the House.

BELMONT, Ida., Jan. 17.—Very little of general interest occurred in the legislature today.

The senate held no morning session and made little progress in the afternoon.

In the house this morning only three bills were introduced, but they may all be regarded as commendable.

Mr. Atkinson of Owyhee introduced a bill providing that there shall be

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis, the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums, was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds. His most strenuous defense was that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.

He also claimed to have a system by which he broke the banks at Monte Carlo.

AN EXPORT LAW.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Charles Wallis,

the most expert swindler of modern times, his shady transactions having cost him enormous sums,

was brought from France today and arraigned in court under twelve charges of causing loss of 45,000 pounds.

His most strenuous defense was

that he was not guilty of means to push mythical patent rights.</