

DEXTER STILL ACTIVE.

Five Thousand Shares Change Hands on the Exchange Today.

STOCK SLUMPED MATERIALLY, HOWEVER.

West Mountain Flows Work—The Dexter at Deep Creek—Wrapped Up in the Dusty.

Trout Fish—It has been said that it never runs hot or cold. Not so. Just as Jupiter Vixen has been recently making herself manifest, so that Dexter, a government trout which the local market has been following year for the last two years, and still continues to pour forth the stock comes out in numbers at rising figures. Today it fell in currents at lower rates, the lower remaining material declined and landed out at least 5,000 shares at from $12 to $15 a share. At the close paper and after were almost together, the former closing at $14 and the latter at $13 1/2. The market is still holding though, although it is not much below the figure established today.

Hannibal was in good humor at the start, and still is at present. The last price at $12 1/2 to $13.

Closing at $13 1/2 a share. At the close paper and after were almost together, the former closing at $13 1/2 and the latter at $13.

Stock market was closed.

South Mountain was for the unlisted class, the number taken part in the trading, exhibited a falling tendency and leads a market of 50 cents, while the market was quoted at $12 1/2 cents, while 50 cents was recognized when a bid of 45 cents was made.

The closing figures were as follows:
