The surrey was completely overturned and the lighter rig badly smashed. The runaway rig became tangled up with the others and there was great danger for a few moments of the ladies being kicked to death by the maddened animals, but Miss Zina by main force lifted her mother and jumping out of the biggy saved her perhaps from fatal consequences. Mrs. Fleids, who is about 60 years of age, was badly bruised by the fail but no bones were broken. A lady, who was sitting in the surrey, was thrown out but she escaped with a few minor bruises.

After the mixup willing hands took the injured ladles into the Utahna Drug store where the injuries were attended to. Later they were able to proceed to their home at Riverdale.

GRASSHOPPER INVASION.

An invasion of grasshoppers An invasion of grasshoppers is threatening the crops to the north of Ogden and near the Hot Springs. The recent big grass fires along the moun-tain side are supposed to have driven the pests into the fields and orchards. One of the heavy losers is W. B. Wedell, the local real estate man, who has a farm near the Hot Springs. But he has found a means of stopping the invasion of the insects by killing them and wishes all who are threatened with the hoppers to know of the preparation he uses. It is a mixture of one part arsenic, two parts sugar, four parts bran or other grain product, thoroughbran or other grain product, thorough-ly mixed dry.
