

But in Salt Lake tramps do work. If anybody doubts the assertion let him visit the gravelbank where the city prisoners while away their time. Goon a day when two or three hardened "rags" have been taken in hand, and see them swing a pick or shovel, and they do it too, till the sweat rolls off them.

And that is why Salt Lake is so free from tramps. The treatment accorded them is too "heroic."

This morning three of these worthies were ushered into the august presence of Justice Piper. They were Matt Graman, D. H. Ray and John Smith. The trio looked dejected. They had evidently heard of the "condu kang" and were in mortal dread of its association. But they had stolen a ride on the D. & R. G. W., to which offense they pleaded guilty, imploring the mercy of the court, which administered to them a dose of twenty days labor.

Le Baron Livingston, an aged individual whose mysterious actions and shifty ways indicate that he is troubled with dementia, was brought before the Court to-day. Herebefore he had been considered as perfectly harmless, but his "crankiness" seems to be taking a dangerous turn. Quite a number of boys—on whom a house of correction might have a salutary effect—have been in the habit of "sassing" the old man and otherwise annoying him. He knew no better than to stop and argue with them, and this morning, during an altercation with a newsboy, Livingston whipped out a huge revolver, with which he proposed letting daylight through the boy's body, and he probably would have made the attempt had not a bystander interfered. When he was placed in jail he insisted on being represented by eminent counsel, and demanded that Hon. Thomas Marshall be immediately ushered into his presence. Finally he changed his mind, and said that Attorney Fred. Kessler would do for the Police Court examination. The case was set for hearing this afternoon.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY AUGUST 29.

Sowing Lucern.

Elias Johnson, of Dale, Piute County, in answer to a query published in the News some time since, writes us that he has sown lucern as late as August 15th with satisfactory results.

An Anniversary.

To-day is the tenth anniversary of the retirement from mortal view of one who, for all time, must stand as one of the central figures of American history, and be rated among the greatest leaders of men. Ten years ago President Brigham Young departed this life.

Two More.

This morning two others of the "Mormons" who have been confined in the penitentiary for disregarding the law of Congress against a tenet of their religion, were released, having served their term of imprisonment. In addition to the sentence imposed by the Court—the full term allowed by law—these two brethren, Andrew W. Winberg and Thomas Butler, were required to serve thirty days additional because of their inability to pay the fine of $300 and costs assessed against them, and were detained by the Warden until to-day (Monday), instead of being brought out on Saturday, their term having expired on Friday night.

Gored by a Cow.

This morning as Mr. Hansen, of Fountain Green, was returning from the penitentiary in company with Brother A. W. Winberg, just released from prison, he met with an accident that occasioned his considerable inconvenience and some damage. When coming along the drive he met with a herd of cows. Two of the animals were fighting, and just as Mr. Hansen drove up, one of the bovines ran, and the other in following came with full force against Mr. Hansen's horse, her horn striking him in the breast, and entering to a depth of about eight inches. The horse was thrown aside, breaking one of the buggy wheels. Mr. Hansen took his injured animal back to the race track to receive attention, but it was thought by the horsemen there that the wound would prove fatal.

From Mexico.

To-day we had a pleasant call from Elder W. W. Cluff, Jr., son of President Cluff, of Coalville, who accompanied his son. The young man has just returned from a mission to Mexico, on which he spent two years and two months, having left this city June 24th, 1885. He spent this time principally in the City of Mexico and Ozuumba. He reports fair progress in the spread of the Gospel in that country. On his return home he spent a month among the Saints in Chihuahua. He speaks warmly of the kindness that was almost always shown him by the people with whom he came in contact while on his mission, both in and out of the Church.

The Immigrants.

A private telegram received in this city at 3 o'clock this afternoon states that a company of Saints numbering 418 souls, sailed from Liverpool late on Saturday last, and that the next company will leave October 8th. The company now en route will reach

Utah about Sept. 13th. The time for the leaving of the next company has been announced as October 15th, but a change in the date, to one a week earlier has been made.

An announcement was made that a small company would leave Liverpool on the 13th inst. There was for a time uncertainty as to whether or not it had sailed, but it is now certain that it did not. The Saints expecting to come then are evidently with the company now en route.

In Butte.

Mr. J. J. Kelly, a well-known artist who is now here, says the Butte Miner, awaiting material orders from the East prior to opening his studio, has been willing his time to good advantage. His best effort is now on exhibition at Elliott's photograph gallery, and those who have had the pleasure of examining this magnificent work of art are unanimous in their verdict that Mr. Kelly has secured a grand success. The subject chosen was the old story taken from German mythology, entitled The Siren's Kiss. As will be remembered, this maid of the ocean devoted her spare time to luring susceptible seamen away out on the billows, and to eternity. In the painting you can see that the sea-gulls anticipate a feast, for they hover round the frail craft, while the bold mariner, fascinated by the siren, little dreams that his is one of the ships that "will never return." Kelly is a western artist, and Butte may well feel proud of him. The gentleman and his work are well known here, both having received notice in these columns.

Electricity on Pike's Peak.

Yesterday a party of nearly forty ladies and gentlemen, a number of whom were from this city, made the ascent of Pike's Peak, and had an experience which they will never forget. While they were up there violent electrical disturbances took place and a storm arose. The clouds around and below them could be seen moving about, discharging their contents upon the surrounding forests and fields, and half formed in the air all about them and fell in showers. What was most striking was the wonderful electric phenomena. The very air was charged with electricity, and about half the ladies were so paralyzed that they were stretched out on the floor of the signal station quite helpless. The electric lights sparkled all about the persons of the explorers, and they breathed it in with every inhalation. It sparkled and crackled upon their lips and shoulders, and was visible on their finger tips. Strange miniature auroras formed and dissolved all about them. It played about every pointed object and every bit of metal was strongly magnetized. As the public is aware, the government has recently abandoned the signal station on the peak and has turned it over to Harvard College. Several of the University men were there, and being new comers they were as badly frightened as the visitors. One of them, a professor who had just arrived, wore a large pair of spectacles. The electric sparks crackled all about them and could be seen running from his eyes to his ears and thence darting into his hair. He threw the spectacles off and hurled them to the ground. The entire party felt the effects of the disturbance in more or less degree, and some were greatly overcome.—Denver News, Aug. 25.

KILLED BY SHAME.

Sad Ending of an Unfortunate Girl's Life.

Ella Kremer, a young girl 18 years, died rather suddenly at No. 243 E. Second South Street, on Saturday last. As Dr. White was the attending physician, and the circumstances were rather mysterious, Coroner Taylor called upon him this morning in order to ascertain the facts in the case as they had come to his knowledge. Dr. White stated that, being sent for, he called upon Ella Kremer on Monday last and found her suffering from the consequences of giving premature birth to a child; that he attended her several times later in the week, and she was progressing quite favorably but for trouble occasioned by persons who insisted upon pushing themselves into her apartment and causing an excitement which, in her feeble condition, she was unable to bear. He observed this first on Wednesday, but she was gaining ground again until Friday, when parties again intruded and she was thrown into hysterics by the excitement and gradually failed until she died, just before 12 o'clock on Saturday last, from the effects of shame and excitement acting upon her enfeebled condition. The father of the young woman has been telegraphed to. Mrs. Mary Hall, who rents the house in which the body of deceased now lies, stated that before death Miss Kremer refused to divulge the name of the father of her child, who had deserted her in her distress, and left her alone to bear the burden of disgrace, while he goes scot free to continue in his fiendish course. The deceased was brought to Salt Lake by her father, from Nevada, about three years ago. His name is John Kremer and his present address is said to be Erie, Idaho.

In view of a circumstance that took place on Tuesday evening, when a newborn female child was left at Dr. Benedict's, it would seem that there is some connection between the two events, and that the "premature birth" statement is erroneous. The following note was found with the infant placed on Dr. Benedict's doorstep:

Dear Doctor:—This missive I leave to explain why I thus impose upon you the charge of my little babe, who is legitimate, but whose father is a cruel parent who will not support its invalid mother. I have been forced to give away my other little girl for want of bread, and, in my illness, I am obliged to live upon the scanty earnings of my little boy. God knows if I were able to work, my little son would not now bear this precious little burden to your door. Care for it kindly, as your generous heart will yield in sympathy to a "Little Deserter." God will award you, and I will pray for you. I trust and plead that you will keep this sad, and seemingly heathen, act a secret, so far as possible, and please have nothing said in the papers, for my husband will make it so disagreeable for me, I would be forced to end my trouble by taking my own life. You may not remember me, though perhaps Dr. King will recollect a lady who called some time ago, seeking employment, which I am not now able to take; but if God lets me live, and I regain my strength, I will call and see you personally. With an aching heart I trust her to your care, pleading for you to keep the affair from the public. With a broken heart I subscribe myself,

Yours cordially,
AN UNFORTUNATE MOTHER.

The assertion that the child was legitimate was probably made so that if it lived it would not have to bear the shame of illegitimacy. The rest of the note was evidently intended to deceive, and there is but little doubt that the mother of the babe referred to is Ella Kremer. If this be the fact, the matter should be thoroughly sifted until it is learned who carried the child to Dr. Benedict's, and what other persons have been connected with the case.

FATAL EXPLOSION.

J. M. Alexander Blown Several Hundred Feet and Killed.

News was received here early this morning of the explosion of the steam boilers at H. S. Alexander's saw mill, on Lake Creek, about twelve miles from Heber City, in which J. M. Alexander was instantly killed and his two brothers were seriously injured.

The facts, as fully as can be learned at this time, are as follows: Yesterday afternoon the mill was running, as usual, to its full capacity, young James filling the position of engineer and fireman and Charles and a younger brother manipulating the saw. It appears that in the rush to accomplish as much work as possible, the attention of James was distracted from his water and steam gauges and he allowed the boiler to run dry. It is supposed that as he discovered the state of affairs he became excited and started the feed pump, a few strokes of which forced the cold water into the red hot boiler, instantly generating a heavier pressure of steam than the boiler would stand. A terrific explosion followed, in which the body of James was hurled several hundred feet through the air and was caught in the topmost branches of a pine tree.

The young man who was killed is a brother of Mrs. Geo. Clift, of this place, and has other relatives here also. He was about 22 years old.

How badly Charles and the younger brother are hurt we have not been able to learn, any more than they were not dangerously injured.

A man who was working about the mill immediately took the remains of the dead man and his two brothers to their home in Heber.

The Alexanders are all well known here in the Park, and the deepest sympathy is felt for the sorrowing family.—Park City Record, Aug. 27.

Cache County Jottings.

The schoolhouse at Smithfield is being enlarged. Two rooms, with a hall running between them, are being joined to the main building on the south side.

We are informed that the electric light company are awaiting wires from the east with which to put the electric light in the post office.

Yesterday morning when our foreman, Mr. J. P. Smith, arose from his slumbers, he found in his shanty a large porcupine. After chasing it a short time, he managed to strike it on the head with a club, which killed it.

On Thursday little Ada Ferguson, whose age is nine years, fell from a fence causing a comminuted fracture of the bone just below the elbow of one of her arms. Dr. Ormsby attended her injuries and made her as comfortable as possible.

On Wednesday night some party or parties entered Wilkinson's store on Third Street and took from the drawer several dollars in money. Mr. Wilkinson offers a reward of $25 for information that will lead to the arrest of the burglars.

On Thursday a Mrs. Gessle, of Providence, was before Justice McAllister of this city, charged with disturbing the peace. At seems that while Mrs. Gessle was in Logan on business the children of a Mrs. Bentler went to her house and were there on her return home. Mrs. Gessle sent the children away and followed them to their home. They shut the door upon her and she became angry and threw rocks at the house. Mrs. Bentler coming up at this time Mrs. Gessle called her bad names. The result was a complaint to the officers and an arrest followed. She was found guilty and fined $5.—Logan Journal, Aug. 27.

Excursion to Nephi and Manti.

The Sixth Ward Silver Band will, on September 13th, take a four days' excursion south from this city, to American Fork, Pleasant Grove, Provo, Spanish Fork, Payson, Santaquin and Nephi and return. An extension to 30 days may be had on paying one half excursion fare extra. The trip to Sanpete will cost $1.50 over the Nephi rate, which is placed at $3.50.

A Young Fiend.

On Tuesday evening Jesse Stockdale, a youth aged about fifteen or sixteen years, of Hyde Park, was arrested on the charge of assault with intent to commit rape. It appears that several days ago he met a girl of about thirteen years of age on her way from Logan to Hyde Park, and made improper advances to her; she refused her assent, whereupon he attempted to accomplish his ends. A person coming along prevented the success of the fiendish effort. The matter coming to the knowledge of the officers, he was arrested and brought before Justice Christianson, of Hyde Park, for trial. The boy pleaded guilty to the charge and was bound over in the sum of $500 to await the action of the grand jury.—Utah Journal.

SANPETE STAKE CONFERENCE.

The regular quarterly conference of the Sanpete Stake was held at Mount Pleasant on the 20th and 21st of August, 1887.

Conference opened at 10 a.m. on the 20th, President Canute Peterson presiding. Opened by singing and prayer. President Peterson made the opening remarks and spoke encouragingly to the Saints.

The Wards of Fayette, Gunnison, Mount Pleasant, North Ephraim, South Ephraim and Fountain Green were reported as in good condition.

Elder C. H. Wheelock made a report of his late mission in the southern part of the Temple district, and gave a good account of the feeling manifested by the Saints to continue their help towards the Temple.

Recess till 3 p.m.

2 p.m.—After the opening exercises, Spring City, Wales and Mayfield wards were reported. Bishop Farnsworth also made a report of his labors among the Saints.

President Malben addressed the conference; said he had felt to rejoice in listening to the reports of the Bishops. It is good to meet on these occasions and pass in review. Each should seek to promote the welfare of all and should cultivate the spirit of humility. The gifts of God are dispensed according to His will.

President Peterson gave notice of a priesthood meeting at 8 p.m. Adjourned to 10 a.m. Sunday.

Sunday, 10 a.m.—Met as per adjournment. Opened by singing and prayer.

President Peterson passed in review the last twenty years experience of the Saints in this valley, Indian troubles, grasshopper depredations, etc., and showed that the Saints are many times better off now than twenty years ago. In view of the completion of the Temple in the near future, he urged upon the Saints the necessity of continuing faithful and in purity of life.

President Beal referred to the labors performed on the Manti Temple and the necessity of preparing to receive the ordinances of the Gospel. In relation to the liquor traffic, that is increasing, he said it is the duty of the Saints to refrain from the use of liquor and make every effort to restrain the traffic.

Recess until 2 p.m.

2 p.m.—Opened as usual. The sacrament was administered. President Malben, presented the general, stake and local authorities of the Church, all of whom were sustained unanimously.

The speakers of the afternoon were Elder Caldwell, of Tooele, Presidents Peterson, Beal and Malben.

All of them spoke encouragingly to the Saints and dwelt particularly upon the necessity of pure life and a strict observance of the commandments of God.

Altogether we had a very enjoyable time. A quiet, peaceable spirit prevailed.

Conference adjourned, for three months, to meet at Manti.
