TARIFF REVISION FOR PHILIPPINES.

Prest. Roosevelt Will Make Recommendations to Congress In His Message.

AUTHORITY FOR COMMISSION.

This Decision Was Arrived at at a Recent Session of the Cabinet.

Washington, Nov. 11.-President Roosevelt will recommend to Congress that authority be given the Philippine commission to revise the tariff now in force in those islands. This decision was the principal and about the only accomplishment of the cabinet session today. The matter was brought up by Secy. Taft and his recommendation in the matter was approved.

The present tariff in the Philippines was the work of the Philippine commission. It was put into effect by executive order and afterward approved by Congress. Since it has been in effect many changes have become neces-sary for the development of the isl-ands. The act of Congress approving the schedules, however, was so worded as to preclude further revision by the commission. The commission has aiready prepared a scheme of revision which has been made public for the purpose of securing criticism and sug-gestions from the business interests of the United States. In this plan some of the schedules are raised and some lowered. The revision is planned with a view more to development of the business of the islands than a revenue

New Army Uniform.

Washington, Nov. 11.-By direction of the secretary of war orders have been issued carrying into effect the recommendations of the general staff making changes in the uniforms of the army. The provision for substituting as collar ornaments the letters "U. S." instead of the coat of arms will take effect June 1, 1905. A a rule various articles of the new uniform for enlisted men will not be issued until the corresponding articles of the old pattern shall have bee The cap prescribed is intended for habitual wear in the garri-son with the service uniform, but the campaign hat is retained for wear on certain occasions. The wearing of the white uniform is made entirely optional with both officers and enlisted men. Enlisted men are forbidden to have their clothing altered, owing to their tendency to make the clothing especially about the chest, of too tight a fit. It is also prescribed that no decoration shall be worn by officers and men while on duty with United States troops, the law forbidding such wearing while on duty. A woollen service uniform is prescribed for the United States and cotton khaki for tropical

SECY. JOHN HAY.

President Announces that He Will Remain in the Cabinet.

Washington, Nov. 11, President Roosevelt made the announcement to-day that John Hay would continue as secretary of state during the four years beginning March 4, 1905. "You may state positively," were his words, "that Mr. Hay will continue as secretary of state up to the fourth of March, 1909."

The president was asked regarding other possible cabinet changes, but indicated that there was nothing to be said at present.

His announcement regarding Secy. Hay was made to a number of news paper representatives in his office late in the afternoon. Mr. Hay's succession to the state department portfolio fixes the most important place in the new cabinet, and is the first and only step so far taken in that direction. so fur taken in that direction.

This is being laid at the door of the foreigners."

COR. D. R. ANTHONY DEAD. Was a Noted Dditor and Brother

Susan B. Anthony.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 11.—Col. D. R. Anthony, the noted adjitor of the Leavenworth Times, and brother of Miss Susan B. Anthony, the woman suffragist, died at his home here this morning of heart disease, aged 80

Col. Daniel Reed Anthony, who gained his title in the Union army, was one of the last of a half dozen editors who did much to spread the fame of Kansas in its early days. He was for nearly half a century editor and pro-prietor of the Leavenworth Times, and during that time did much to shape the destiny of his state. He was born years in New York. He was intimately acquainted with Thurlow Weed, Hor-ace Greeley. Senator Seward and others in New York politics of that day. His first entry into Kansas was in 1854, when he led a free state party to the Sunflower state. Soon thereafter he became connected with newspaper work and up to the time of his death he was active in the affairs of the state. He had served both as mayor and postmaster of Leavenworth, as a member of the Kansas legislature and in 1886 he was made a government di-rector of the Union Pacific railroad. He formerly was a member of the advisory board of the Associated Press, Col. Anthony had been in ill health for several years. He was stricken with heart trouble last June. At that time his condition became dangerous, but he railled and in a few days recumed his labors in the office of the Times. A month ago he was again at tacked and espite his remarkable vital ity failed to rally after several sluking

AT FISH SPRINGS.

Miners Quarrel and One Kills the Other in What Appears to Have Been Self-Defense.

VICTIM'S NAME IS ALMA WHITE

Had Been Drinking and Became Quarrelsome -Shot by E. R. Weed, His Companion.

(Special to the "News.") Eureka, Utah, Nov. 12.-Particulars of a fainl shooting at Fish Springs on Wednesday last, reached here yesterday afternoon, when J. P. Reed came in from that camp, bearing in his wagon the body of Alma F. White, who was killed by E. R. Weed on the day named. Beside him on the wagon sat the slayer of the dead man who, immediately after the shooting, gave himself up, although there was no offlcer of the law authorized to take him. However, Mr. Reed, who for some years past has acted as constable, took the man in charge and brought him to Eureks, where he was locked up in the county jail, awaiting a hearing on the charge of murder.

STORY OF THE KILLING.

According to the story told by Mr. Reed, White and Weed have been Reed, White and Weed have been working a lease at one of the mines at Fish Springs. They lived together in a log cabin. On election day White began drinking quite heavily, and his companion did everything possible to get him to sober up. This caused iff feelings between the two, and White became so quarrelsome that it is said he reached for a gun which was in the cabin. Fearful lest he should be killed, Reed drew a six-shooter from under his pillow on the bed and fired two shots, one of which penetrated the left breast and came out near the shoulder, while the other entered the shoulder, while the other entered the forehead, killing him instantly. At the time of the shooting, there were three other persons in the cabin. Weed immediately gave himself up, and on Wednesday night an inquest was held and a verdier rendered in accordance with the facts here stated. On Thursday morning Mr. Reed stated for Eucks with the prisoner and the heavy of reka with the prisoner and the body of the murdered man.

WHO THE MEN ARE.

White, the victim, was about 40 years of age and leaves a divorced wife and daughter. He has resided at Fish daughter. He has resided at Fish Springs for the past 15 years. Weed, who did the shooting, is about 21 years of age and unmarried. He has spent seven years at Fish Springs, where he has a good reputation. His father, the only relative living, is a resident of Idaha. of Idaho.

The inquest was conducted by the citizens of Fish Springs, who, under oath, inquired into the case of White's death and signed a statement setting forth the facts as brought out in this

EDWARD'S APPLE PORTRAIT.

The cut illustrates one of the novel uses to which the so called "photographic fruit" has been applied. It is an apple of the Nonsuch variety, and it bears on one of its rosy cheeks an excellent portrait of the king of England.

These curious imprints are obtained by fixing on the tender surface of the apple while it is still very young a photographic film. It is then exposed fully to the sun, and the film stencils itself, as it were, on the developing skin of the fruit. The idea originated in France, but it has been most successfully carried out in American orchards. It is purposed to make these pictured apples of commercial value since it is believed that they will become popular for table

To give a detailed account of the beauty and merits of his many russ would be a colossal task. Words can hardly describe the beauty of the delicate hues and intricate workmanship of his Kirmanshah and Tebritz rugs or the rich celoring or the silky gloss of his antique Shiras, Iran and Kurdistan rugs. There is one rug, however, which descrives special mention. In order to impress the mind of the reader with the interest attached to that rug, we must diverge from our point rug, we must diverge from our point and look at the history of five of the most valuable and renowned rugs in existence, four of them in possession of Mr. Chas, T. Yerkes and one in the Kensington Museum in London. Mr. Yerkes paid $200,600 for one of his rugs, which is the exact replica of the one at the Museum. The maker of these rugs was one Maksand, who lived in the city of Ardebii, Persia, during the 18th century. He wove an inscription on two of his rugs which has proven to be the source of considerproven to be the source of consider-able dispute and discussion. It seems that two great authorities on dead languages, an American and a Geron, gave different translations of e inscription, and on further investi-tion the version given by the German expert was proven to be correct. Mr. Yerkes refused to pay the fee asked
