

Arrested.—This morning John Wright was arrested on two charges, one of keeping a gambling house and the other of personating an officer.

Left New York.—A telegram from Elder W. C. Staines states that Elder Nelson Empey and accompanying party of missionaries left New York for Europe to-day.

Prisoners Escaped.—We learn from the Junction that Ogden City jail was delivered, on Sunday night, of a couple of tramps named John Wagner and John Logan, who had been confined for petty larceny. They removed the brick in a partition wall, got into the Marshal's office and escaped through the window. They left not a track behind.

Boy Lost.—A Swedish boy, thirteen or fourteen years of age, named Jens Carlson, arrived here with the last company of emigrants. He had no relatives with him, but came in care of the president of the company. The boy is now missing. He has either strayed off, or has gone away with some persons of the company. Brother James Yorgeson, of Moroni, is in town, having been sent by the boy's father in Sanpete to convey the lad to that place. He is very anxious to fulfil his errand. Any information concerning the boy may be left at this office.

The Monte Men.—Yesterday afternoon O'Brien and Briggs, monte sharps, were before Justice Pyper on a charge of gambling. Having been proved guilty, last Friday, of keeping a gambling house, the charge of yesterday was, of course sustained, and each was fined $99 and sentenced to labor fifty days on the streets.

Subsequently they paid up the fines imposed on Friday and yesterday, and the Mayor agreed to liberate them from the imprisonment part of the judgments, on condition that they leave Salt Lake City within three days, which they promised to do. The understanding is that in the event of their not complying with the condition they will be arrested again and compelled to serve out the imprisonment terms.

It is probable the sharps will be induced to seek a cooler pasture than Salt Lake, which has been made very uncomfortable for them.

A Goodly Company.—There were at least one thousand passengers on the S. S. Wisconsin, on which the second company of emigrants crossed the Atlantic, over 700 of whom were Latter-day Saints. Among the latter eight different languages were spoken, and the people had a splendid time on the passage. Sometimes there was singing in Dutch, alternating with Norwegian, Swedish, Danish, English and Welsh, with a few songs thrown in, in the dialect of the "canny Scot." The company celebrated the Fourth of July, Elder John Rowberry, President of the company, delivering the oration. The speech was a stirring one, and was most heartily cheered. There were various toasts, etc., and a pleasant time was spent.

Good health was almost universal in the company, and no death occurred on the entire journey. Captain Forsyth and the officers of the Wisconsin were most kind, gentlemanly and courteous in their treatment of the people. Not a single oath or profane expression of any kind was uttered by any of the officers or crew, the Captain enforcing the most rigid rule in this regard, principally from respect to the views and feelings, on this subject, of our people.

On arriving at New York the company tendered a unanimous vote of thanks to Captain Forsyth and the officers under him, and also presented a written testimonial to the former, expressive of their appreciation of his manly and uniformly kind treatment.

There were no births on the journey, but there were three marriages, all Scandinavian, on the high seas.

Missionary.—This morning we had a pleasant visit from Elder Martin Lenzi, of this city. He left here October 21st, 1875, and proceeded to Philadelphia, where he remained a short time, visiting relatives and friends he had not seen for about twenty years.

He next went to Switzerland, in which country he arrived, in company with Elder Rulon S. Wells, November 25th, of the same year. Some time after his arrival he was appointed president of the Zurich

Conference, in which position he labored until his release to return with the company that arrived on Saturday night. He baptized a number of people, and several were baptized by others, who believed through his testimony and teachings. He preferred others to administer that ordinance, excepting in cases where the candidates for baptism preferred him to attend to it.

He enjoyed his labors beyond what he can express, and had many evidences and manifestations, showing that the Lord was with him in his ministry.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, JULY 13.

To Europe.—We understand that Elder B. H. Schettler has been called to go on a mission to Europe.

More Room.—A Clifton correspondent writes—
"Crops are good here. There is room for more settlers."

Abusive.—This morning a Chinaman was before Justice Pyper for using most foul and abusive language toward a citizen. The offense was aggravated by being committed in the presence of ladies. The accused was fined $10.

Splendid Time.—The Tabernacle Choir Excursion to Lake Side, yesterday, was an enjoyable affair. The party had some delightful music, and various sports were greatly enjoyed by them.

There was a general feeling of appreciation of the kindness of Superintendent Sharp, and the officers of the U. C. road generally, for courtesies tendered.

Coal.—The Union Pacific Railroad Company have run a construction train down to the depot in this City. Their purpose in doing so is to build a side track and coal sheds. When this is done the Company will throw their Grass Canyon coal into the market. Having the advantage, in the matter of freight, over all competitors, they will probably govern the coal business.

"Fourth" at Clifton.—The people at Clifton had a gay time on the "Fourth." Musket firing, by Captain D. Littlefield's company; flag hoisting; procession; meeting, opened by Chaplain W. Littlefield; reading of the "Declaration;" oration, by J. L. Thompson; songs, toasts, etc.

In the afternoon a public dinner, racing and other sports.

J. W. Henderson was marshal of the day and E. Clayton, J. O. Thompson and Nephi Packer were the arranging committee.

Obsequies.—The funeral services of Sister Anna Wilken, daughter of Elder C. H. Wilken, were conducted at the 2nd Ward School-house yesterday morning, the hall being crowded on the occasion. Deceased was a highly esteemed young lady. She was an efficient teacher in the Sunday school, and the pupils of her class were present, wearing bands of crape, fastened with white ribbon, on their arms.

Remarks were made by Elders George Teasdale, R. F. Nelsen, S. B. Young, and President John W. Young.

The musical exercises were rendered by the 18th Ward choir, conducted by Brother C. J. Thomas.

Should Be Stopped.—Every Sabbath day a large number of boys and young men, who should know better, assemble on the banks of the Jordan, in the neighborhood of the 5th and 6th Wards, and devote their time to bathing in that river and adjacent sloughs. But this is not the most harmful practice, the language indulged in by them is not all becoming those who profess to be in the least degree Christian. Nearly every ward in the city is represented in these gatherings. These disgraceful proceedings should be stopped as they do not tend to improve the morale of the rising generation. Besides, this is a most dangerous stream, a great many persons having lost their lives in it, and some of them good swimmers, too.

City Council.—The Council met last evening, Mayor Little presiding.

Petition of S. P. Teasdale, for the privilege of piling building materials on a portion of the street in front of his residence, South Temple Street; granted.

The committee to whom the bill of J. W. Fox, $316.88, for professional services, as surveyor, was referred reported it correct and recommended its payment; adopted.

The committee on improvements were instructed to proceed to erect a house for the use of the City jailor.

One hundred dollars was appropriated for the purchase of shirts for members of the Fire Brigade.

One thousand dollars was appropriated, subject to the order of the supervisor, and to be applied in improving the streets.

The committee on municipal laws was instructed to draft a bill to amend certain specified sections of the Ordinance in relation to Crimes and Punishments.

Council adjourned till next Tuesday evening, at seven o'clock.

Phonetics.—Every person who has given the matter intelligent consideration is ready to acknowledge that the existing system of English orthography is greatly in need of reform. The necessity of a system of spelling the language by sound is strongly apparent, and many attempts have been made in that direction. Numbers of methods have been invented, some of which are excellent, as for instance that of Mr. Isaac Pitman, but their adoption has been so exceedingly limited as to scarcely cause a ripple in the world of letters.

The Latter-day Saints are necessarily, to be in harmony with the genius of the work they are engaged in, reformers and innovators. Why should this reformatory course not apply to orthography as well as any thing else? It must be evident that many benefits would accrue from the adoption in the schools of the Territory, as a portion of the education of the youth, of a phonetic system of orthography. If this should be done, the system adopted should be the very best now in existence. There are men of culture and intelligence who have given a large portion of the study of their lives to such subjects and they must surely have produced something worthy of consideration.

The present system of orthography is full of incongruities and inconsistencies, so much so that the language is comparatively difficult of acquirement by foreigners. There is year after year, a large population emigrating from the countries of the eastern hemisphere to Utah, and therefore there are many of the people of the Territory who experience this inconvenience in the difficulty of obtaining a knowledge of English. Were there a system of simplified orthography, spelling by sound, this obstacle would be greatly lessened. The adoption of a system of that character as a portion of the education in schools would form a nucleus that might eventually "leaven the whole lump." Great results generally have small beginnings, and a commencement should certainly be made in the direction indicated.

Fatal Accident at Cedar.

[Special to DESERET NEWS.]

CEDAR CITY, 17.—Yesterday, Bro. David Williams left here for the sheep herd, on the mountains east, on a two wheel cart, drawn by a span of lively horses, he ran his cart against a stump on the dog-way and broke the tongue. While descending the other side of the mountain the horses floundered, drawing Bro. Williams under their heels, dragging him fifty yards and injuring his brain and other parts of his body. He lived about two hours. One of the horses broke loose, galloping back towards Cedar. Some young men caught the horse and took him back, and found Bro. Williams and the other horse. Bro. Williams had but just recovered from a severe illness and was still quite weak.

MONTREAL, 16.—The procession was formed with the police at the head, and bands beating a slow march, and with the various Protestant societies and Orangemen, bearing emblems of the order. The hearse was drawn by four horses and decorated with orange. Two pistol shots and a slight fracas, at one point alone, marred the solemnity and order of the occasion. The church services were most impressive and the audience large. The Montreal Orangemen will en-tain their brethren, to-night, in the rink.

At Point St. Charles an immense crowd of menacing roughs, met the contingent Orangemen going home to the western suburbs, but no encounter occurred. The cowardly ruffians, however, attacked some youths who lagged behind, and shooting them as they ran, struck one in the neck with a ball, then had a jubilee over the act. No arrest.

ST. PETERSBURG, 16.—It is officially announced that the advance guard of the Russian army had passed the Balkans on the evening of the 13th, without firing a shot.

Gen. Gourke, on the afternoon of the 14th, surprised 300 Nizans, who fled toward the village of Kanari.

LONDON, 16.—The Times would not consider it surprising if the main body should not attempt to cross the Balkans until Rusebuk has been nearly reduced. With that fortress the invaders might do what it would be rash to attempt now. It is no answer to this to say, as the telegraph informs us, that swift Cossacks have crossed the Balkans and gone so far south as the railway station between Yanboli and Adrianople. This can only have been done to learn the practical difficulties of crossing, and the Cossacks may withdraw as quickly as they came. The Russian progressive power can only be measured when they have besieged Rusebuk and fought a great battle for the possession of the line to Varna.

The Times says, Yakob Kahn, deceased, was the chief rival of Russia in Central Asia.

The Turks have seized a Persian caravan conveying provisions to the Russians. The resources of the district of Bayazid are exhausted.

Armenia is ruined by the ravages of war.

Five thousand wagon loads of Turks, old men, women and children, are on the road from Eskijuma and Osman Bazar to Shum'a. Horrible massacres have been committed by the Russians and Bulgarians at Tirnova, Grabana, and Ilyana. From all directions fugitives in large numbers are coming in, who state that in the districts occupied by the Russians most horrible cruelties are perpetrated upon the Mahomedan population by Cossacks and Bulgarians. Mahomedan children and old men are slaughtered, and the women violated and carried off. Official dispatches substantially corroborate these statements. The greatest panic exists among the Mahomedan civil population, who are fleeing as fast as they can.

A Constantinople official dispatch announces that Eyoub Pasha has attacked the Russians under the Grand Duke Nicholas, north of Tirnova, and defeated them with a loss of 12,000, and the Grand Duke is surrounded.

The Porte officially declares that the Russians have burned alive the inhabitants of Jouis, near Tirnova, who had taken refuge in a Mosque.

Mr. Gladstone made many friends by his visit to Birmingham, but Mrs. Gladstone lost more by wearing a shocking bonnet, which was a source of poignant distress to all the ladies of the city.
