

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

Deseret Hospital benefit concert Thursday night, at the Tabernacle.

Meeting of the Deseret Sunday School Union at the Assembly Hall Monday night.

The latter-day Saints are the most patient and long-suffering people on the globe.

Farmers and others can get fifty loads of manure free of charge at McKinnin's livery stable.

We have just received a new plantation song from Sherman, Clay & Co., of San Francisco, entitled "The Gospel Crown." Price 30 cents.

How can a case of sunstroke be distinguished from a case of intoxication?—Policeman. Examine the man's pockets. If he has any money it is a case of sunstroke.—Evening Enterprise.

"Quack, quack, quack!" is the cry which comes up from the duck ponds and creeks of the land. "Gobble, gobble, gobble!" is the response which comes from Congress.—New Jersey Enterprise.

Heavily laden another jail delivery on Wednesday. The names of the escaped prisoners are Nicholas Jordan, C. Lay O'Neil, both in on a charge of highway robbery near Panguitch, and Dan O'Brien, who is under indictment for murder.

Robinson's circus met with one or two accidents at Truckee. A valuable steed died on its hands, a lot of employees left it, and a camel, while being unloaded from the cars, slipped between the car and platform and fractured its leg.

Some little boys while playing near the Stevens mine, Butte City, a few days since discovered a box 12 inches long and about 8 inches wide, which not smelling pleasant they threw into a prospect hole. It turned out to contain the body of an infant in an advanced state of decomposition.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

A New Comer.—Lately Brother Don Carlos Young has been looking more than usually happy. There is a substantial reason for the feeling. Mrs. Young presented him with a fine son at 3 o'clock on Saturday morning.

Shot his Foot.—On Tuesday last a hunting party met with a sad mishap, near Ryanston. J. A. Holmes, a member of the party was accidentally shot through the foot the bones of which were badly shattered. A portion of the member was amputated.

Contract Awarded.—Mr. Elias Morris and Mr. George Romney have been jointly awarded the contract for the erection of the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad round house and office in this city. The round house will be of semi-circular form, the outside wall 545 feet long and the inside one 341 feet. The office will be 38 x 28 feet. Both structures will be brick.

Left Behind.—Last night a lot of taggards—each with bundle on shoulders—sawed suit under his arm—were seen wending their weary way from the west.

When the Black Rock bathing train was homeward bound four of the cars became uncoupled some distance beyond Jordan Bridge. Somebody notified the conductor, who stopped the train and backed toward the detached cars. After coupling them the train sped on its way to the city, leaving a number of disgusted passengers who had got off the cars when they slowed to back. This was the explanation of the passage eastward of the string of taggards.

Holland or Ogden.—A number of western parties have announced that Mr. J. D. Negus has gone to Holland in the interest of the Utah and Wyoming Railroad. The gentleman's departure for Dutchland is unknown to himself. He imagines he is still in his office at Ogden without any intention of crossing the lake. Surely he must be mistaken. How could the westerners commit an error? Mr. Negus should not be stubborn on this point, but conclude that he is not in Ogden, but rushing toward Holland with his hair streaming in the wind. It won't do for him to place himself as a solid phalanx against the "power of the press," which can easily transfer a man to Holland, while he, at the same time, is quietly attending to his business at home.

Fatal Accident.—On Friday night, John C. Dalton, sixteen years of age, was accidentally killed, by being run over by a wagon at Ogden. According to the account of the affair in the Ogden Herald, he was driving into the yard of Z. C. M. I., when some packages slid from the wagon, carrying him with them. He was not injured by the fall, and, fearing that the team might run away, he sprang toward the head of one of them and seized it. The animal threw him down, and before he could recover himself, the two high wheels passed over him, breaking the dorsal spine in the small of the back. He expired the same evening at half-past eight, his last words being: "I am going, good night, good bye." The deceased son of John L. and Elizabeth L. Dalton, was born at Salt Lake City, June 15th, 1866.

Had his Back Broken.—At Evanston, a few days ago, John Calderwood, a resident of that place, was run over by some passing emigrant, a young broncho horse, which had never been broken. On Thursday afternoon, John undertook to ride the pony, when the animal threw him with great violence to the ground, causing a dislocation of the spinal column, or, in ordinary language, broke his back. He was taken to home, and a doctor called, who soon found that his injuries could not be repaired by surgical skill. He died at about two o'clock Friday morning. Deceased was a native of Scotland, about fifty years of age. He leaves a wife and two children. He was formerly a resident of this city, having been employed at the paper mill in Sugar House Ward, several years ago.

DROWNED IN THE LAKE.

MR. J. D. FARMER IS DROWNED WHILE BATHING AT BLACK ROCK.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. J. D. Farmer, accompanied by his wife and a party of friends, went to Black Rock on the "bathing train," to enjoy a bath in the waters of the lake. All appeared to be going well with the party until the time of departure for home arrived, when it was discovered that Mr. Farmer was missing. A search for him was immediately instituted, but no trace of the gentleman could be found. The train was delayed ten minutes to admit parties scattering out in every direction to renew the search, but again these efforts proved fruitless. The suspicion that the bathing man was drowned forced itself upon the minds of his friends, and the news of his disappearance created a good deal of excitement.

Late last night, a special train with a party of Mr. Farmer's friends went out from the city to Black Rock, and renewed the search, which resulted in the discovery of the unfortunate gentleman's clothing in one of the bath rooms. This appears to place the matter of his fate beyond doubt. It appears that Mr. Farmer was not much at home in the water, being unable to swim, and that a gentleman who was bathing yesterday, his request assisted him twice to regain his feet when he was floating on his back. It is probable that in a subsequent effort to right himself he raised his head got under water, and strangulation ensued, or that he was suddenly submerged by a "wind cap."

This morning a party went out to Black Rock with the intention of passing over the lake in a boat in the hope of finding the body. Mr. Farmer was the proprietor of the "One Price Store," 55 East Temple street, having resided in this city about two years. Previously he carried on a mercantile business in the town of Corinne. He was about fifty years of age. He leaves a wife and five children.

The latest information, up to 3.30, was to the effect that the body had not yet been recovered.

ATTACKED BY INDIANS.

HOW JACOB S. FERRIN MET HIS DEATH IN ARIZONA.

We are indebted to Peter H. McBride, of Smithville, Arizona, for the following account of an attack on some of the brethren by Indians on the 19th of July:

Brother Jacob Samuel Ferrin met his death as follows, on the 19th inst., while on his way from Globe, a point to which he had been freighted, in company with Brothers John Nettle, Joseph Roseberry and Oliver Lewis. They camped for the night about five miles above San Carlos, A. T. While preparing supper three mounted Indians rode up. To all appearance they were very friendly, so much so that the brethren were entirely off their guard. Supper being ready at dark, they all sat down to eat.

At this point the Indians, with a whoop and a yell, ran to the wagons, seized their arms and commenced shooting and swearing, telling them to run for there were 35 hostile Chiricahua Indians in the brush close by. The brethren secreted themselves behind their wagons as best they could. I should judge from the splintered spokes and felloes they were in a very critical condition.

The savages then ceased firing and surrounded the horses. Brother Ferrin thought the Indians would not kill him, and not wishing to lose his team, he walked out to them notwithstanding the boys pleaded with him not to go. He spoke to one of the Indians when one of them shot and killed him instantly. When the other brethren saw him fall they thought it best to leave as quietly as possible. In their excitement they got separated, Brothers Roseberry and Nettle going down the river to San Carlos. Oliver Lewis went up the river and arrived at the sub-agency at daylight. He procured a horse from a freighter who was camped there, and made all possible haste, arriving here on the 20th at 3 p.m. A company left that evening to bring in the body of the deceased. They traveled about 12 miles, when they met J. Roseberry bringing the body.

He reported that a company of scouts left San Carlos in search of the hostiles, who were Chiricahua. There were five in all. Their trail crossed the river Gila about 15 miles below Camp Thomas. They are supposed to be making their way to their old haunts in Sonora. A company left Thomas to try and head them off at Eagle Creek. Another company left Camp Grant to head them off before they reached Clifton. As yet we have heard nothing from them other than that they had killed one horse for food. J. Nettle arrived here on the 21st. He stated he had found eight horses, and that six are still missing, and the Indians have got without doubt.

On the 23d a company of brethren went to bring in the wagons and make another search for horses.

Missed His Mark.—On Saturday night, on Plum street, somebody wanted to introduce George Little to William Price. George said he did not desire the introduction, at the same time casting a reflection upon the character of William, by stating that he was by no means what he ought to be. This so aroused William's indignation that he drew a pistol and blazed away at the intruder, the bullet passing close to Little's head. Price's arm was seized by a colored man, who prevented him doing any more shooting. But for this circumstance George Little would probably have speedily become a fit subject for a coroner's inquest.

Price was arrested and will have an examination on to-morrow.

Missionary.—On Saturday we had a visit from Elder Helen H. Tracy, of Marietta, Weber Co., who returned from a mission with the last arrival of immigrants. He left home on the 19th of April, 1881, and visited Michigan, Missouri and New York States, and during six months held four hundred public meetings.

He then proceeded to England, where he labored in the Leicester District of the Nottingham Conference, and met with gratifying success. He baptized 26 new members, including some of his wife's relatives, six or seven of whom came to Utah with him when he came home, and others expect to follow.

The Stray Animal Nuisance.

SALT LAKE CITY, August 7th, 1882.

Editor Deseret News:

We were disturbed last night by some of our neighbors' horses and cows being allowed to run all night on the streets, breaking into people's lots. Some broke into our lot and not only disturbed us, but ate the fruit from the trees. We would feel obliged to our neighbors in the 20th Ward if they would keep their horses and cows in their stables. If they do not we shall be obliged to drive them to the stray pound.

CHAS. FEINBERG.

Salt Lake Theatre.—To-night Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bruno, late of the Tourists and Goblins, will appear in the comedy of Muldoon's picnic. They are supported by a strong company.

Opera House.—To-morrow the first of the two concerts by the Mendelssohn Quintette Club from Boston, will be given. The lovers of fine music may look for an exquisite treat.

Another Coal Oil Victim.—At Rock Springs, last Friday morning, Ann Herra tried to light a fire with coal oil. The can exploded, setting fire to her clothing and burning her horribly. She is not expected to live.

Tree Borer.—This morning Dr. Groves drew our attention to something new connected with tree borers. Heretofore these insidious pests have not attacked evergreen shrubs. They have evidently changed their custom in this respect, however, as the Doctor showed us a branch of a juniper tree completely killed from this cause. Some of the borers were in sight. They had worked their way up through the wood, circling around it close to the bark.

A Streaky Storm.—The Beaver Unionist says that one day last week a violent gale of wind, succeeded by a terrific hailstorm visited the eastern entrance to the Minersville Canon, completely threshing out and destroying the entire crop of wheat and barley on the farm of Mr. W. H. Jones at that place. The saloons were so large and came down with such force that they killed outright some ten or a dozen chickens on the farm. The storm evidently passed over in a streak, for, strange to say, that with the exception of a light shower of rain at the time, the farmers on either side of Mr. Jones did not experience any storm whatever.

The proper course to be pursued by any one troubled with a disease of the skin is to procure and use without delay GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, the most reliable of purifiers. It completely removes those eruptions which sometimes so often fall to cure and remedies irritation, abrasions and roughness of the skin. Pimples, blotches, tan, freckles, in short all complexional blemishes are eradicated by it, and it affords prompt relief to muscles and joints racked by rheumatism. Clothing and linen which have been used in the sick room, can be thoroughly disinfected by it, and diseases of an obnoxious nature prevented by its use. It completely does away with the necessity of costly Sulphur Baths, since at a merely nominal expense it produces the same effects. Physicians of eminence speak in the highest terms of its remedial properties, and it has been used as a disinfectant and deodorizer in hospitals and infirmaries with the most satisfactory results. It is extremely popular, and the fair sex on account of the clearness and smoothness with which it endows the cuticle, thus heightening personal comeliness as well as promoting a healthy condition of the porous system.

BENEFACTORS. When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were sceptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubts, and today the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.

PARLOR MATCHES are now made so that they have many advantages over the old brimstone match, and are the only matches used among the Eastern consumers. They give a light and are ready for use immediately, and do not have the offensive smell that the common match has, and in a very short time we may look for a change here.

FROM "THE TIMES." Editors Times:—The veterinary department in your valuable paper is always read by me with great interest and I value the information received from a hundred fold more than the small amount paid for the paper. One year ago you published a letter from Dr. John Bates, relating the wonderful success he had in curing various and painful ailments with Kendall's Spavin Cure, and his allusion to using it now in his practice for several human ailments on account of the success he has always had with it. The above statements from so prominent a Physician gave me great faith in its efficacy, and as I had been afflicted for years with rheumatism and hip-joint lameness so bad that I could hardly walk at times, I procured a bottle and as it has completely cured me I wish to proclaim it to all the world the most wonderful discovery ever made for the benefit of afflicted men as well as for the poor horse, for which it was first used. As this remedy must be of incalculable value to the world, I write this letter to express my thankfulness to you for ever mentioning it in your columns and to ask another favor in behalf of my fellow men who are afflicted in body, that you continue to make known to the world, the great value of Kendall's Spavin Cure for both man and horse as best. Respectfully,

ARNOLD PARKER, Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 1st, 1881.
