Reports from Vienna state that serious disturbances had broken out in Galicia; the Austrian troops dispatched to quell the disturbance had been repulsed by the rioters; it is believed that the riots were caused by Russian emissaries who worked upon the national proclivities of the Slavonic people and created a feeling of discontent.

The Sultan of Turkey received a brilliant reception to-day; he was received by the Prince of Wales, acting for the Queen, and his Majesty the King of Egypt. The entire route of the procession from the railway depot to Buckingham Palace was guarded on both sides by an unbroken line of troops. The Palace Royal will be re-occupied by his Majesty during his stay.

A Leavenworth special says a fight took place near Fort Wallace on the 26th ult., in which 6 cavalymen were killed and the soldiers driven back to the Fort. A non-commissioned officer was attacked by Indians and mutilated in a most horrible manner.

Thirteen colored soldiers had died of cholera at Fort Harker.

Laporte, 12.

At 5 p.m. of the 10th, some 15 Indians made a dash on a government train of some 40 wagons loaded with returning Mormons from Great Salt Lake City, bound to Julesburg; the train was camped, at the time, three miles from the new post at the Crow Creek Crossing, on the line of the railroad, and about 35 miles north east of this place; a man named Andrew Bourkerson was wounded and died the next morning. The train was in charge of McBurney, wagon master.

The report of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs places the number of Indians now at war with the United States in the north at 1,600 warriors, being the same who perpetrated the Fort Phil Kearney massacre; about 500 composed the whole number known to be making hostile demonstrations on the plains further south. The Commissioner condemns the military movements as inefficient to preserve peace, and recommends the location of the Indians on reservations, and the payment of indemnity for outrages committed on them by the troops.

The yellow fever has subsided. Dispatches from Indianola report an increase of the epidemic there among the citizens, none among the troops; there had been five deaths out of 120 cases.

New York, 14.

A City of Mexico correspondent, June 27, says E. L. Pajan Rogo publishes an order of the general government vitiating the titles of all coveyances, concessions, &c., made by the Imperial Government, and of all foreign representatives, except the American; the consuls are preparing to leave. The affairs in regard to the French Minister has not been settled; his passports are peremptorily refused, and he is told that he cannot depart from the country under any pretence; the authorities informed him that Mexico had accounts to settle with France for the part she took during the intervention, and for the lives and property destroyed during that period; and if the same were not promptly adjusted, the Mexican government would proceed against the property of French subjects throughout the Republic.

Letters from Ft. Wallace, Kansas, June 29 gives an account of an Indian attack three days previously, in which 4 were killed, and 12 had been killed at or in the vicinity of Ft. Wallace; also that during the same time $100,000 worth of property belonging to the stage company had been taken or destroyed by Indians between Clark's, Bluffs and Lake stations, a distance of 180 miles.

Washington, 14.

Seward's reply to the application of Dr. Naphegyn, for the intervention of this government for the release of Santa Anna, has been furnished for publication; it is a lengthy document, in which Seward says the Virginia was not making a regular voyage as a merchant vessel, but was chartered by Santa Anna to convey himself and suite to Mexico on an illegal and belligerent expedition; he prevented the surrender of Vera Cruz, after the terms of surrender had been accepted by both parties; he falsely pretended that he went to Mexico with the sanction of President Johnson and Secretary Seward; the State Department approved the action of the U. S. Consul at Vera Cruz, and commander Roe, captain of the Virginia, did not protest against his capture, but against his landing contrary to orders. Seward shows that he landed voluntarily, and concludes his letter as follows: Nothing but some great national injury, wrong of offense would justify this nation in suddenly assuming an unfriendly attitude towards the Republic of Mexico.
