

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

The Salt Lake Temple will close on Friday, September 27th, and re-open on Monday, October 7th, 1895.
LORENZO SNOW, President.

The Mantl Temple will close on the 27th of Sept. and open again on the 3th of Oct. 1895.
JOHN D. T. MCALLISTER, President.

E. A. Watkins, a well known resident of Ogden and formerly of East Bourtitul, was paralyzed yesterday. There is little hope of his recovery.

There have been several cases of diphtheria here, where the patients have been treated with anti-toxin, and the treatment has been successful.

Elder Alma V. Huish has been released from laboring as traveling Elder to the Cheltenham conference and has been appointed to labor as traveling Elder in the Leeds conference.

Thursday a painful accident occurred on State street near First South by a horse falling on its rider and breaking his leg. It was reported, in three places. The patrol wagon was called, and the sufferer was removed to his home in the eastern part of the city.

Mr. James Hornaley died on Saturday at the residence of Joseph Pergree from a paralytic stroke. The deceased was 65 years of age. He came from New Jersey several weeks ago, accompanied by his son, to look over the country and examine the pottery clay here. The son, who is 35 years of age, will continue the work and establish a pottery manufactory here.

J. D. Swift, while crossing the U. P. track at the intersection of Third West and Seventh South streets, Thursday night, made a discovery that probably prevented the derailment of a train. The rails for a rod or more were carefully covered with large tie spikes. By whom they were put there is not known. Mr. Swift at the time was riding in a street car. From this he alighted and removed the spikes.

Elder George B. Matson, of Mapleton, Utah county, returned to this city Sunday from a mission to Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Elder Matson took his departure from home for that part of the country on October 7th, 1893. He reports having enjoyed excellent health and spirits and having also met with good treatment and fair success. After his release he visited Pittsburgh, Chicago, Council Bluffs and Denver. He will leave for his home on this evening's train.

Particulars were given out Wednesday of a coal contract of unusual magnitude to which the United States government and Ellerbeck & Morris are the principals.

The deal contemplates that Messrs. Ellerbeck & Morris must furnish Fort Douglas with all the coal necessary for use there up to the end of the fiscal year, July 30, 1896. Under the contract 7,000,000 pounds must be delivered, a task that will keep six men and as many teams constantly employed.

When the NEWS went to press on Saturday the Democratic judicial convention was still in session. The prognostication was made that Judges Hiles, Howat and Attorney Le Grand Young would probably be the nominees. This conclusion proved to be correct, the gentlemen being the choice of the convention on the first ballot.

The following judicial district committee were named: Judge C. C. Dey, J. H. Moyie, S. W. Darke and Heber Benulon of Salt Lake; Solon Spiro and John L. Boyden, Summit; J. C. De La Mare, Tooele.

Mr. John C. Sandberg, of this city, is the author of a useful invention, for which a patent has been applied, that should be a welcome adjunct to every household. It consists of a laundry or kitchen table, so constructed that it answers several purposes and consequently is economical from more than one point of view. To it is attached two ironing boards and two clothes racks. It can be used as an extension table and has drawers of considerable capacity. It will be understood from these hints that the table is an exceedingly useful piece of furniture, which will be conceded by all who will examine the little model the inventor is exhibiting.

The Latter-day Saints College in this city opened this week under most favorable auspices, the attendance being larger than for several years past. The students are mostly of high advancement, none lower than the eighth grade being admitted.

The efficient faculty has taken the large number of students in hand in a most satisfactory manner, all the classes having been organized today, and work assigned for tomorrow.

At the Social hall yesterday afternoon pleasing exercises were held to mark the formal opening of the College for the tenth year. The program consisted of musical and literary exercises, with addresses by Principal Done, Elders John Nicholson and Angus M. Cannon of the College and Stake boards respectively, and Dr. Karl G. Maeser of the general board.

With enlarged faculty, extended courses, and earnest, advanced students, the College has a most prosperous year before it.

The sensational case of Sadie M. Kelsey vs. Louis P. Kelsey was heard in the Third district court. The story of the plaintiff in brief is that on her seventeenth birthday in this city, she was induced by the defendant to become his wife and permit the ceremony to be performed in secret; that at his request the marriage was kept secret here, and she moved away at defendant's request for this purpose; that they lived together afterwards in Colorado as husband and wife; that after a lapse of time defendant told her she was not his legal wife and he would not recognize her as such; that she pleaded with him to do her justice but he refused; and that, believing their relations were lawful, she now brings action for alimony and support of her child, pending the conclusion of divorce proceedings which have been instituted. The defendant denies that the ceremony of marriage ever was performed, or that he ever represented that the plaintiff was his wife.

The health department officials have become tired of the indifference of physicians in this city in reporting cases of typhoid fever, and the following letter is being sent by Health Commissioner Dalby to each of them:

It has again become necessary for the health department to call your attention to the fact that all cases of typhoid fever must be reported to the health office in the same manner as diphtheria and scarletina are reported.

From information received at this office it is evident that not more than one-half of the cases of typhoid fever are reported as prescribed by rule 1 of the quarantine rules, a marked copy of which is enclosed.

The health department is desirous that these cases be promptly reported so far as they shall come under your observation, and prevent thereby the necessity of enforcing the penalty imposed for the non-compliance thereto.

The necessary blanks for reporting these cases will be furnished you on application to the health office.

Harvey Hardy, sheriff of Salt Lake county, is at work on a project to place Utah in line with Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, South Dakota, Montana, Texas, North Dakota, Wyoming, Missouri, Kansas and Colorado in the matter of having a Sheriffs' association and becoming a member of the Sheriffs' Inter-state association. It is proposed to hold the first meeting in this city on the evening of Friday, October 4, to effect an organization.

Sheriff Hardy has sent out letters to every sheriff in Utah, detailing his purpose, and has received replies from nearly all, heartily commending his course. The date is selected because of the low railroad rates at that time, and it is expected that all of the twenty-seven counties in the Territory will be represented. As deputy sheriffs also will be admitted, the organization will include upwards of a hundred men engaged in the enforcement of the criminal law by searching out offenders.

The object of the association is to form a compact by which all sheriffs will operate in harmony to bring criminals to justice. If a criminal is at large in any county, all the officers in the other counties will be notified so as to be on the alert. The following, which is one of the articles of the proposed association constitution further states the design:

"The object and purposes of this association are hereby declared to be to mutually aid and assist each other to enforce the penal laws of this State; to arrest and bring to trial criminals fugitive from justice; to suppress lawlessness and crime, using all lawful and reasonable means within our reach to accomplish that end by prompt and energetic action."

Shortly before 11 o'clock Friday evening, the fire ladders were aroused by an alarm which told the tale of the burning of the Z. C. M. I. tannery, situated on Fourth North between First and Second West streets.

The boys made a quick run, but the flames were fanned by a strong wind
