

LABOR MEET TO RAISE MONEY

For the Defense of Haywood,
Moyer and Petti-bone.

SOME STRONG LANGUAGE.

Openly Charged That Capitalists Were
In Plot Against Officials to Remove Them and Discredit Organization.

A little less than a year ago Secy. William D. Haywood of the Western Federation of Miners unfolded a plan at their convention in Salt Lake City, for a new kind of combination among the working classes. He said it would work where the old kind had failed. When he succeeded in getting the convention to break away from the American Federation of Labor, and launch the movement at Chicago called the Industrial Workers of the World.

Last night at the Federation of Labor hall a Salt Lake branch of this organization met to raise money for the defense of Mr. Haywood in Idaho, and to insure him a "fair and impartial trial," which was the most that was demanded. A motive for his arrest was supplied, and the charge frankly made that it was because the capitalist class saw his new movement working, and saw it encroaching on them more powerfully than had the other labor combinations. Haywood was styled a martyr to the labor cause, and with Moyer and Pettibone, was treated as the victim of a plot to discredit labor unionism, by bringing ignominy upon its leaders. Gov. Gooding was not acting right, it was declared, because he was working up sentiment against Moyer and Haywood, by declaring them guilty and saying they would be hanged, before they had been given a trial. Orchard, who is said to have confessed that Moyer, Haywood, and Pettibone were guilty, was charged with being in the employ of the Mine Owners' association, and used by them to throw the appearance of guilt upon the union officials.

The outcome, it was anticipated, would be an effort to get Orchard freed, and hang the officials. In this "plot," as it was termed, the laws were treated as weapons of the capitalist class, enforced by men who are "capitalistic hangers-on." Back of the whole transaction the picture was painted of the growing consciousness of the gold-greedy trusts and monopolists that the labor fight inaugurated by Haywood was a real battle field would be used by them to bring them to terms.

ADVISED TO LEARN TO SHOOT.

As an outcome the prediction was made that the present state of unrest throughout America, which it was charged, is due to the continued overriding of law by the monied classes, will result in a great American revolution. The working man was advised to go home and learn how to fire straight, and load quick. But this, it was explained, was just for a precaution, as the real battle field would be in the courts and in the next session it was declared a class-conscious laboring multitude will sweep the states, and even the nation, putting in a labor ticket that will give the only class that has a "primary right to existence," its share in the remuneration of its toil.

The meeting last night was one of a series being held in the interest of the union officials all over America, and particularly in Salt Lake. An interesting program of songs, music and recitation was rendered, preceding and following the speeches.

A. Allen, financial secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World, presided, and made the opening speech. He was followed by Joseph Gilbert, editor of Crisis, and both speeches were heartily applauded in a manner which showed that the sympathies of the audience were completely with the imprisoned leaders.

Mr. Allen took the view that America has ceased to be inhabited by one people only, declaring that now there are two classes, engaged in uncompromising warfare, in which no quarter is given, or asked, and in which the mighty giant labor is gradually being awakened to a realization of his power.

CALLLED STEUBENBERG A TYRANT.

Regarding the death of Former Gov. Steubenber, he said: "Not long ago a murder was committed, a tyrant was passed into the unknown without ceremony. It is to be regretted that this tyrant was taken away in this way for the reason that there are others of his kind who can do all the harm that could have been done had he lived. Presumably it was the result of a cattle feed that has been raging in Idaho and Montana. However, regardless of the cause, the Standard Oil company and the Mine Owners' association used the occasion to commence further persecution of the Western Federation of Miners. They hoped that they might railroad these men to the gallows. It may seem necessary for them to take this action because they have seen the Western Federation of Miners extend the hand of welcome to every labor union in the land in the shape of the Industrial Workers of the World at Chicago last year. This forced them to take the desperate action they have taken and they can to tell the truth, they only ask that these men be given a fair trial. That is all they need. Steubenber went out of the world as the result of a plot. I would rather believe that it was a plot hatched at 26 Broadway—the Standard Oil company—than that it was hatched in the minds of the officers of the Miners' Union."

NO SYMPATHY EXPRESSED.

Nowhere in the meeting was there any sympathy for Steubenber or regret expressed that he was gone from the world. Mr. Gilbert, who followed declared that the former governor's record was not clear from collusion with the mine owners, and that he had been

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham, a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years. Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, and for many years under her direction, and since her decease, she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you can easily see why, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

elects as a tool in their hands, to thwart the action of the labor ticket which had been elected in Shoshone county. He then recited the horrors of the Idaho bull pens, and of the sufferings endured by the imprisoned miners, against whom, he said, no charges were ever preferred, or a trial allowed, and said that some imprisoned miner could easily have charged the grudge that resulted in the dastardly dynamite plot.

The officials charged with the crime, he declared, had no motive, for Steubenber was not in the way of the union's progress, while everywhere in Colorado were men it would greatly help Moyer and Haywood to have out of the way, if they were in the dynamite business. Had they struck such a blow, they could not have done it much nearer home.

CHARGED CRIME TO ORCHARD.

Referring to the Independence horror, he asserted that after that dastardly crime, bloodhounds were put out to trace the murderer and the hounds went right to the home of Harry Orchard. Orchard was not wanted. He was employed by the mine owners, and the hounds were called off at once. Orchard was allowed to disappear for a time, and then went free.

The Commune in Paris, the Haymarket hangings, the Coudert d'Alene strikes, the formation of the Industrial Workers of the World, and the present "persecution" of Moyer and Haywood were all treated as outcroppings of the fight of the labor class, which is gradually shaking itself into form to assert its power.

"The workers of Colorado," he declared, "had not fought the mine owners. Their leaders had said, 'Discretion is the better part of valor.' They said, 'No, we must suffer; we must die if need be in order to open the eyes of the other class. If we only hold the fort long enough reinforcements will come and victory will be ours.' That day is here."

"Some men speak more eloquently from the tomb than from the platform," he declared, "and these anarchists were executed for doing what I am doing here tonight. They were prototypes of those who were to come and they went to their graves silently."

SHALL NOT COMMIT MURDER.

"I stand here tonight to protest for law and order, but where human life is at stake, when the ruling class are not willing to abide by the law, then it is time for us to say, 'We have played your game with the ballot and you have broken the law and denied our rights. We are still willing to play it because we know we will win, but in the meantime we shall say unto them, 'You shall not commit this murder.' If they dare to resist it, they shall again will you hear that old refrain: 'Shall our leaders die? Shall our leaders die? Then there's half a million men Shall know the reason why.'"

At this point cries came from all over the hall, "Two million! Two million!"

HAVE SOWN THE SEED.

In concluding the speaker advised his hearers to vote together at the next election for a self-conscious working class. "We have sown the seed," he declared, "we are now ready to reap the harvest. The remedy is in the ballot box and next fall they will carry Colorado and in 1898 they will only carry Colorado and Montana; they will carry the United States, and at last we'll drive the capitalist to his last stamping ground, the backward South, and we will kill the beast in its lair. Are you always going to carry guns for them and never for yourself? Go and vote and then back up that vote with a rifle. That vote stays put and here's the thing that says so."

Following the adoption of a set of resolutions, expressing the feelings of the United Industrial Workers of the World in the evening by the United Industrial Workers of the World. The former organization is allied with the American Federation, but disregarded its instructions in order to extend the hand of fellowship last year to the convention of the Western Federation of Miners, which then broke away from the Federation. Mr. Haywood taking the initiative, in the movement.

PRECEDING THE PRESENTATION OF THE TWO MASS MEETINGS.

Resolutions Passed by the Organizations and Protests Made.

Two mass meetings were held in Salt Lake yesterday to protest against the treatment of the officials of the Western Federation of Labor, and to raise money for their defense. In the afternoon resolutions were passed by the Utah Federation of Labor, and in the evening by the United Industrial Workers of the World. The former organization is allied with the American Federation, but disregarded its instructions in order to extend the hand of fellowship last year to the convention of the Western Federation of Miners, which then broke away from the Federation. Mr. Haywood taking the initiative, in the movement.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

There was a most bitter feeling between Germany and France, papers of the former country fiercely attacking the latter. Striking railroad men began the burning of bridges on the Texas & Pacific at Marshall, Tex.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY.

Mr. Bayard, United States ambassador to Great Britain, was censured in the house of representatives for criticizing the Republican party at a banquet in Edinburgh.

The situation at Tien Tsin, China, was acute. English and Russian troops were entrenched on either side of trenches, with orders to shoot any one commencing work.

resolutions in the afternoon Atty. A. J. Weber, Atty. William Newton, and D. J. Elton spoke in strong language against the "plot to murder the association officials." The document as adopted is as follows:

Whereas, the state officials of the state of Idaho in conjunction with the state officials of Colorado, have taken from their homes in Colorado, President Moyer, Secy. Haywood and others of the Western Federation of Miners without granting them the privileges guaranteed every citizen in this United States. Therefore, be it

Resolved, that we, the members of the Utah Federation of Labor, here assembled, do condemn the course pursued by the above named state officials and consider by their actions that they are men devoid of principle and unfit for the high official positions they now hold in their respective commonwealths. And be it further

Resolved, that this organization pledges its support to assist the officials of the Western Federation of Miners in procuring a fair trial. And be it further

Resolved, that the Utah Federation of Labor ask each affiliated union to pledge also their support to the same cause. And be it further Resolved, that one copy of these resolutions be given to the press, one sent to the Western Federation of Miners and one to Gov. Gooding of Idaho.

INDUSTRIAL WORKERS ACT.

The resolutions passed in the evening were by the Industrial Workers of the World, a movement inaugurated by the Western Federation of Miners, in the belief that the Federation of Labor's organization was ineffective and along unsuccessful lines. Nationally the two organizations are hardly in harmony. The resolutions read:

Whereas: The official lackeys of the capitalist class have ruthlessly overthrown every safe-guard which the law provides and by brute force have kidnapped and imprisoned Charles H. Moyer, William D. Heywood and Vincent St. John, officials, and R. A. Pettibone, a member of the Western Federation of Miners, and

Whereas: The daily press, with a few honorable exceptions, is doing its utmost to prejudice and inflame the minds of the people against our comrades by holding them up as criminals and assassins for the purpose of railroad them to the gallows, and

Whereas: The Mine Owners' association and the Standard Oil company for years have vainly endeavored to destroy the Western Federation of Miners by means of bull pens, deportations, manufactured "confessions" and brute force of every kind, and have been met and defeated by peaceful, legal appeals to the courts and ballot, and

Whereas: In every case where a union man has been accused and a trial had, the members of the Western Federation of Miners have been acquitted.

Resolved: That we, as members of the working class in mass meeting assembled, declare our belief in the innocence of our imprisoned comrades and in the Industrial Workers of the World, of which the Western Federation of Miners is an integral part, as law abiding labor organizations and denounce this attempt of the law-breaking Standard Oil company and Mine Owners' association to murder our brothers, and we warn the tools and lackeys of capitalism that we will not stand by and submit to this outrage on American citizenship.

Resolved: That we denounce the unfair and vicious course of the prostituted press and we call on the working class of Salt Lake to repudiate these organs of plutocracy and to support the crisis and all other papers in sympathy with unionism.

Resolved: We declare that the private ownership of the means of production by the plutocrats is the real cause of this and all other outrages and crimes against the people and we call on the working class to join the Industrial Workers of the World and the Socialist party of Utah, and to legally and actually take possession of the mines, railways, factories and trusts in the name of the American people and thus put an end to the usurpation and despotism of the trust-owning plutocracy which has debauched our institutions, impoverished our people and is seeking to murder the labor leaders who cannot be bribed to betray their class.

Mr. Corbett then rendered the "arsellaise," and a song on the freedom of labor, the audience joining in the chorus, and the proceedings terminated.

GRAND FREE DISTRIBUTION!

An entertaining and educational contest open to everyone (with exceptions as noted below) that will prove interesting and beneficial to all who participate. This distribution of prizes will be made to those sending us the largest list of correct words made from letters used in spelling the three words

THE KIMBALL PIANO

The distribution of this large amount in prizes is only made possible by the liberality and progressiveness of the W. W. Kimball Co., who are determined that the name "KIMBALL" shall become a household word; to fix the name "KIMBALL" indelibly upon the minds of all who may now or at some future time, need a piano.

A Few Pertinent Facts.

The W. W. Kimball Co. manufacture and sell 35,000 instruments every year. Kimball Pianos are sold on the one-price-to-all system. They have a fixed value. They are not sold to Mr. Jones at once price and to Mr. Brown at another. All dealers who sell the Kimball Piano must sell them at the established price. No more is allowed to be asked, no less accepted.

Every dealer who handles the Kimball Piano must mark them in plain figures.

FIRST PRIZE—$450 Kimball Upright Piano, Cabinet Grand, will be given as first prize to the person sending us the largest list of correct words as above mentioned, and according to rules and conditions named below.

SECOND PRIZE—$325 Kimball Upright Piano, cottage size.

THIRD PRIZE—A credit bill for $150.00.

FOURTH PRIZE—A credit bill for $150.00.

To the next five largest lists of correct words will be given Credit Bills for $100 each. To the next five largest lists of correct words will be given Credit Bills for $85 each, and following this in groups of five, each of the competitors sending us the five largest lists of correct words will be given Credit Bills for $1.00 less the preceding prize, until the entire $10,000 shall have been distributed.

Important Features.

By special arrangement with the W. W. Kimball Co. these Credit Bills will be honored at their face value towards the purchase of any new Kimball piano in our store. The winners are thus assured of a genuine reduction of the amount of their Credit Bills. There will be 112 Credit Bills distributed. They are worth striving for.

Rules and Conditions of Contest.

No lists received after March 31, 1906, will be considered.

Only such words are to be used as are found in Webster's International Dictionary. No proper names, foreign words, names of persons, towns or places are to be used.

Do not use a letter more times in forming a word than it appears in the words "The Kimball Piano."

Words spelled the same but having a different meaning can be used but once.

No one now owning an upright piano can compete.

No one connected with the piano business in any way can compete.

In the event of a tie, prizes of equal value will be given.

Contestants compiling list must sign same, together with coupon accompanying list.

In the event of list and coupon not being signed by contestant the right is reserved to reject such list.

Easy payments will be granted those wishing to be accommodated by applying their Credit Bills, and paying the balance in small monthly payments.

Not more than one Credit Bill will be accepted on the same piano.

Lists must be made in alphabetical form or will be subject to rejection.
