There has been such a demand made for the superintendent's last bi-ennial report from various parts of the country that he is today mailing a copy of the report to every normal school in the United States.

A report gained circulation Wednes-A report gained circulation Wednes-day evening that George Summerhays, son of J. W. Summerhays, had been accidentally killed. The family and friends were considerably worried, as George was with his sheep and quite a distance from any station. Their fears were dispelled, however, last evening by the arrival of their son, who was not aware of the excitement he had caused. caused.

Paul F. Ludwig of the Frontier mag-azine, published at Denver, is in the city on a business trip. He is an old-time newspaper man, having served on the Chicago and New York papers, as well as those in Denver. He says the election fight in Denver that comes off this month, is between the people on the one side and the corporations on the other. The new charter provides for the purchase by the city of the lo-cal public utilities, and these the corfects of the operation.

A man giving the name of C. S. Cannon was arrested by the police last night on the charge of housebreaking. It was alleged that he broke into a room at 216 south State street and stole a revolver valued at $6, and a razor worth $3. In Judge Diehl's court this morning he waived preliminary hearing and was held to the district court. In default of $250 bonds he was taken to the county jall. The case of Julia Flynn, the 13 year old girl arrested for taking money from the Salvation Army boxes, and charged with incorrigibility, will be heard before Judge Diehl tomorrow.

Ferdinand and George Jaeschke, the wo boys implicated in the stealing of 844 from Mrs. Kronmeler, were $344 from Mrs. Kronmeler, were charged with incorrigibility but on motion of the county attorney, the cases were continued indefinitely and the boys released on their own recogni-Ferdinand will be sent to Sentile at once, and the $131 recovered by the police was ordered returned to Mrs.
