OGDEN SOCIAL NEWS.

One of the leading social events of the season took place Thursday morning, when Miss Gertrude Myers and Mr. Frank M. Brookie then united in marriage. The affair took place at the pretty home of the bride's mother, No. 2532 Madison avenue, Rev. J. E. Carver of the Presbyterian church, officiating. At 11 p. m. the bride, attired in a beautiful gown of cream silk dimity, trimmed with lace and ribbons, entered the parlor on the arm of the groom, Miss Rachel Farley playing a wedding march. Miss Kelle Myers, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and her uncle, Mr. Henry Last, acted as best man. A short time was spent after the ceremony in extending congratulations, and then the wedding party retired to the dining room, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served.

The home was very artistically decorated with roses, carnations, asters and ferns, all making a pretty effect. At 2:45 in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Brookie were accompanied to the depot, where they took the Southern Pacific train for San Francisco, their future home.

There were present at the reception only the relatives of the contracting parties and a few friends. The bride is the beautiful and talented daughter of Mrs. A. C. Myers and one of Ogden's favorites, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Brookie, prominent citizens of Vincennes, Ind. He is a graduate of the Stanford University, and a civil engineer by profession.

Mr. and Mrs. Brookie have a host of friends in Ogden and San Francisco who will extend congratulations.

The employees of the Z. C. M. I. were given an excursion to Ogden canyon on Monday. The party left the store about 4:30 p. m., and after a most delightful drive, they were given a trout and chicken dinner at the Hermitage.

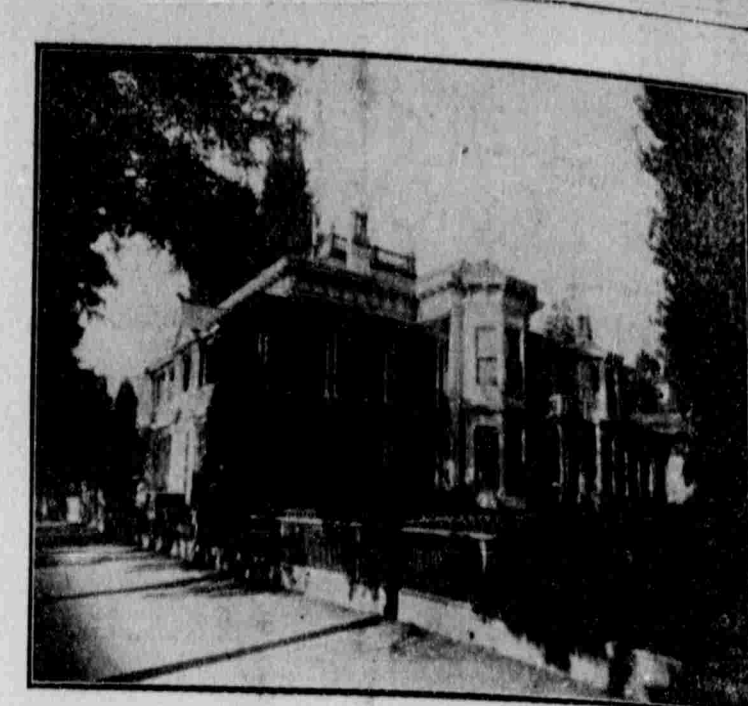

The dinner was given by Manager John Watson. There were about forty-five persons constituting the party.

Among the pleasant events of the week was the wedding of Miss Clara Bell Myers and Stanley Edgley.

Hon. James A. Miner of Salt Lake spent Monday in Ogden on business.

Bishop D. H. Ensign left for the Fall River country during the week, for a short visit.

Mr. Carrol of the Standard returned

FAMOUS OLD HOOPER HOUSE.

Every old Salt Laker will recognize the above cut as that of the famous Hooper residence. For thirty years it was the home of the late Captain William H. Hooper and his easy and graceful hospitality rendered it one of the most sought after homes in Utah. For the last four years the home has been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. David C. Dunbar, it being the property of the latter. But she recently sold it to Michael L. Effinger, the well known mining man, for $29,000. It is estimated that Capt. Hooper expended nearly $40,000 in the building of the home and improving its surroundings. The house was originally built by the late Quincy Knowlton, Captain Hooper's brother-in-law, during the early sixties, and the latter bought it about 1867. Mr. Hooper added to the house and in 1873 remodeled it. It was then as it is now, with the exception of the north wing, which has been taken down. It contains about twenty rooms conveniently arranged. It is of colonial style, the type of house Captain Hooper delighted in. In his day the house had as beautiful surroundings as any in the city. Commanding a picturesque position under the brow of a hill its natural attractiveness was greatly enhanced by the terraces on the hillside arched with arbors covered with grape vines. Apple and peach trees also had a place in the beautiful orchard and with the broad, well-kept lawns to the north and south of the house combined to make the home ideal. Many eminent men and women of this nation and of others, Captain Hooper's Washington friends, have enjoyed the bounteous hospitality of the Hooper home, which has been the scene of many a brilliant social gathering. After the death of Mrs. Hooper the house was used as a kindergarten school and later was rented by the state for the deaf and dumb school. In 1896 Mrs. Dunbar had the house overhauled and repainted, after which she moved into it and has lived there, with the exception of one slight interval, ever since. While the grounds have not been kept as they once were, the house is in an excellent condition and will remain one of the most attractive homes in the city.

Warren L. Watts and Maurice Fretwell. They returned tired and sunburned but declaring the trip one never to be forgotten.

On Wednesday evening a merry party visited Ogden canyon in the persons of employees of the Boyle Furniture company. The excursion was given by the manager in honor of the employees and their wives, there being about sixty-five who participated in the affair. A delicious dinner was served at the Hermitage and after all had partaken of the repast, they retired to the grove where a program consisting of songs, speeches and recitations was rendered after which all enjoyed dancing until near midnight when they returned to the city pronouncing the affair a grand success.

Thursday evening a tallyho party was given to the Utah Hot Springs by Mrs. J. H. Rhine. There were about thirty in the crowd, and an evening of much

CLUB CHAT.

The three prize essays selected in the competition among club women, conducted last winter by the Woman's Auxiliary of the New York Civil Service Reform League, are now being sent out to the women's clubs as reading matter. They are: "Civil Service Reform," by M. C. Smith of the Woman's club of Orange, N. J.; "Some Salient Points in the History of the Civil Service," by Miss Abbie C. Smith of the Ladies' Literary club of Ypsilanti, Mich.; and "Equal Rights for All and the Greatest Good of the Greatest Number," by Mrs. B. T. Rice of the Worcester Woman's club.

The Working Girls' Vacation society is beginning its seventeenth year of successful summer work. As its name indicates, its purpose is to provide rest and recreation for working girls who without its aid might become subjects for the sanitarium or hospital. It is a rule of the society to assist only those to whom a term of rest means removal from the world of work again. The strength to take up work again. The society has under its charge eight houses, two at Santa Clara, in the Adirondacks, where girls with a tendency toward lung troubles are sent; the other six being at Greycourt, Orange county, and Thompsonville, Sullivan county, N. Y., and Farmington, Greens Farms, and Westport, Conn. The society, which is unsectarian in its work, is entirely dependent upon voluntary contributions; the number helped, therefore, directly depends upon the amount of money received. Last summer six hundred and fifty girls were given vacations of about two weeks each. Already this season, demands upon the society at its office, No. 361 west Thirty-fourth street, are heavy, and it makes an urgent appeal to old friends and new ones for contributions, great or small. Checks may be sent to Miss Edith Bryce, treasurer, No. 29 west Fifty-fourth street. President, officers for the season are: President, Mrs. William Herbert, vice President, Mrs. Richard Irvin, secretary, Miss Marion Davis Collamore; assistant secretary, Miss E. A. Buchanan.

The New York State Federation calls attention in its preliminary circular, just issued, to the fact that application for the South is being heard in regard to the color question. The Woman's club of Louisville, Ky., has sent out to the clubs of the General Federation a set of resolutions, which, it is said, voices the opinions of the whole state. This declares in a somewhat long preamble that Southern clubwomen have
