

FRAGMENTS.

A RUNAWAY Cashed towards town this morning from the upper part of East Temple Street. The wheel of the wagon struck a granite post at the Tillingoff corner. The horse of the vehicle snapped in two, and the career of the excited animal was cut short by the collision.

SCHOOL trustees who have not received blanks for reports can obtain them by calling on Prof. C. F. Wilcox, 14th Ward, or sending their addresses to Wm. M. Stewart, Draper. These blanks must be procured, filed out and sent to the County Superintendent by or before August 10.

LOCAL NEWS.

Sudden Death.—This morning at about 10 o'clock, E. T. Mumford, formerly of this city, where he was well known, but who has lately resided in Pleasant Grove, died there very suddenly. We are not apprised of the particulars of his death, but expect to state them in our issue tomorrow. A special train has gone to bring the body.

The Coming Immigrants.—A dispatch to the Evening News from the company of immigrants arrived at Council Bluffs on Saturday, June 10th, and were to depart from that place at 10 o'clock the same night. The same telegram stated that they would reach Ogden this (Monday) evening, July 12th. Should that calculation prove correct those of the company destined for the city and points south will reach here either at a late hour to-night or early to-morrow.

A Fine Presentation.—The manner in which "The Banker's Daughter" was presented last Saturday afternoon and evening by the Home Dramatic Club, was simply superb. Mr. Royle acted considerably to the success of the occasion by his fine interpretation of the fine character of John Strebshaw. Miss Edith Clawson rose to what would be esteemed a high degree of excellence in even a professional actress, in her touching and powerful rendition of the title role, while all the remaining characters, without an exception, were well sustained. The house was crowded and the audience were highly pleased.

Mischiefous Boys.—An evening or two since a gentleman was walking at a late hour in the vicinity of the D & R. G. depot, when, on reaching the corner of a certain block he heard a loud noise and saw a crowd of about a dozen boys, aged apparently from 5 to 13 years, quickly disperse. The noise was caused by the sudden throwing to the ground of a number of poles which the young vandals had taken from a fence, and which they had thrown to the ground, seemingly at a preconcerted signal. Those boys were destroying property, violating the law, laying themselves liable to arrest, and their parents to disgrace and pecuniary loss. Parents having boys of such an age should know where they are at such an hour.

Funeral Services.—The funeral service over the remains of Elder John F. Miller was held at the family residence, in the 17th Ward, yesterday (Sunday) morning, July 11th, Bishop Tingey presiding. The rooms of the first floor of the house being insufficient to accommodate all the relatives and friends who attended, a number of seats were procured from the school-house and some of the people necessarily remained in the orchard during the proceedings. The opening prayer was offered by Elder Nathan Davis, an appropriate discourse, in the nature of which the many notable characteristics of the deceased were touched upon, was delivered by Elder John Nicholson. The benediction was pronounced by Counselor A. E. Hyde. The singing exercises were rendered by the seventh Ward choir, under the direction of Brother John Lewis.

A Couple of Gems.—We have seen two specimens of oil painting on japanned tin. One represents a couple of birds, in playful flight, on the wing. It is one of the most charming pictures of the kind we have seen. There is a delightful animation about the objects and the feathers have a peculiar fluffy appearance that gives them a strikingly natural aspect. The other is also very beautifully painted. It consists of a bunch of flowers, principally water lilies, the lower having a most attractive appearance, imparted by extreme delicacy, and taste displayed in manipulation by the artist. They are a couple of gems in their way and would adorn any apartment where they might be hung. They are the handiwork of a young lady resident of the 14th Ward—Miss Lillian Carter—who is to be congratulated as the possessor of no small degree of artistic talent, which should be encouraged by liberal patronage.

A. E. Hyde is Held.—At 10 o'clock this morning the defendant, counsel and witnesses in the case of A. E. Hyde were assembled in Commissioner McKay's office. McKay returned to the assembly for a time, while the Commissioner appeared to be engaged at his desk. At length he began to speak. He commenced by remarking that the case of Mr. Hyde was a peculiar one. The defendant had offered testimony. All the witnesses examined were constantly government witnesses, but in reality they were in sympathy with the defense, being friends and relatives of his. His Honor named two or three of the witnesses, reviewed their testimony and gave it as his deliberate opinion that, in withholding facts which he believed were within their knowledge, they had committed perjury. He admitted, in distinct terms, that the prosecution had not succeeded in eliciting any direct evidence against the defendant, but stated that the behavior of the witnesses afforded, in his opinion, probable cause to believe the defendant guilty. He thereupon ordered Mr. Hyde to be held in the sum of $500 each, and Dr. Shipp in the sum of $200.

It thus follows, as a literal fact, that Mr. Hyde is held, not because the record of his examination contains one word, jot, or title of proof against him, but for the reason that the commissioner chooses to discredit the witnesses who swore that they knew nothing of his alleged unlawful combination. In other words Mr. Hyde is held, not because the witnesses testified against him, but because they did not. Not because the prosecution succeeded in adding evidence against him, but because it did not. It is pretty safe to say that such a complete and violent reversal of the natural order of things—such an utter gravity on the principles and forms of law—could not be paralleled in these days of enlightenment outside of Utah.

KILLED BY THE HEAT.

TWO CASES OF FATAL EXHAUSTION FROM HEAT AND OVER EXERCITION.

Yesterday evening a man named J. D. H. Stewart, a member of the party of dead mules, now in this city en route for California, was taken violently ill at the Valley House, where he was stopping. He suffered great agony during the entire night, and though medical aid was summoned promptly, and every care bestowed upon him that could be, he died this morning at just nine o'clock. He arrived with the party yesterday morning, visited different portions of the city in the forenoon, went to Beck's hot springs and bathed in the afternoon; returned to his hotel, went up town again to a barber shop and walked back to the hotel. By this time he was very ill and had to be assisted to his room as stated.

Another case of a similar kind occurred a few hours earlier. A young man named Samuel Taylor, who is the late Dr. Tait of this city, who lived with his widowed mother in the Eighth Ward, was working for the D. & R. G. at Lake Park. Between 5 and 6 o'clock p. m. he sank down, completely prostrated, and shortly afterwards breathed his last. Between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning his body was brought to the establishment of Undertaker Skewes, where it was lying this forenoon. It was taken to the home of his mother, who is now in the city, where the funeral will be held to-morrow.

Deceased was about 23 years. No cause, save working hard in the excessive heat, is assigned for his death. What might have been still another case of a similar kind, occurred on Friday last. A little son of a gentleman residing in the Seventeenth Ward, aged two years, was picked up on the street near his home by some neighbors who took him to the house. It seemed to be asleep, but looked very pale. Its head and face were freely bathed in cold water and other efforts were made to restore it to consciousness, which, however, were unsuccessful for some time. At last the little fellow opened his eyes, and soon he was all right. Care should be taken not to unnecessarily expose to the heat.

Narrow Escape of Four Children.—At about noon to-day, four children of James Lucas had just seated themselves in a one-horse cart, which was standing in front of his store on First South Street, and were on the point of starting to attend a birthday party at the house of an acquaintance, when the bystanders were horrified to behold a span of horses attached to a light country wagon, flying with the speed of the wind on a lee line for the cart containing the children. There was not an instant of time in which to make a move to avert the calamity, and it seemed that instant death would certainly be the fate of some if not all of the children. The horses, made frantic by some cause, ran squarely into and literally over the cart and its human contents. The wagon drawn by the horses, and the cart were both upset, and the children lay scattered upon the ground. Assistance in abundance was quickly rendered. Frank, aged 11 years had a thumb broken and his face bruised and cut. Eva, aged 9, received a cut in the back of her head. Harry, aged 7, received a bruise on his side and a cut on his forehead. George, aged 5, was bruised around the mouth, and behind the ear. The injuries of all are comparatively slight, especially when the imminence of their danger is considered. The team that did the damage was tied opposite Z. C. M. I., but was frightened by some animal that approached it, and broke its fastenings.

A Foundling.—At ten o'clock last night the family of Brother Henry Riser were surprised by hearing a sharp knock upon the door of their dwelling. The person who answered the summons was astonished to find that no one appeared to be near. Finally a bundle was observed on the doorstep, and it took but a casual examination to discover that its contents consisted of a plump little piece of humanity in the shape of a pretty baby girl. The little stranger was taken into the house and made a welcome guest. With the bundle was a note, evidently written by the mother, addressed to Miss Josephine Riser, to the effect that the little one was presented to her because the donor felt sure that, owing to her kindly nature, she would rear it tenderly. Who the parents of the child are is a profound mystery, but the Riser family—especially Miss Josephine—are charmed with the little foundling, and purpose taking the best possible care of it. The poor little waif has fallen into good hands.

A JUNCTION CITY BUDGET.

ODGEN CITY, Utah, July 9th, 1890.

Editor Deseret News:—Sickness, death and burial of a near friend of mine prevented my attendance at Court since Wednesday until this afternoon. The first case of importance was that of Ambrose C. Greenwell, who had been indicted for perjury. Judge J. H. Rogers appeared for the defense. When the defendant was arraigned and called to plead, Judge Borenman occupied the bench, as O. W. Powers was the prosecuting witness. Greenwell entered a plea of

NOT GUILTY. An animated and rather lengthy debate then ensued relative to the time within which the defendant should be tried. It was finally set for Thursday the 10th inst., when some important developments in the case were expected. This case has already furnished much food for sensationalists and scandal lovers and mongers in this region. This matter also involves the probity and honor of a Federal Associate Judge of the Supreme Court of this Territory; and what is the result?

JUDGE OF THE FIRST DISTRICT here. Several spicy, sensational articles have appeared in the local journals in this city, the subject of which has excited interest, surprise, wonder and inquiry in the public mind. I have refrained from commenting upon the alleged scandal hitherto, preferring to await the development of facts that will warrant me in speaking without reserve when the proper time to do so shall arrive. It is no small matter to ride in a scandalous manner with the character and chastity of a young lady, and no less so to challenge the honor and the virtue of an official. I believe that truth is mighty and that it will prevail, generally, and also in this case. I can therefore afford to wait and see. Mr. Dickinson will assist in the prosecution. Luigi Riser, the Italian who was indicted for arson was called up again to-day. He pleaded not guilty, but was bound over to the next session of the court to be arraigned on a charge of perjury, asserting at the same time that he did not set fire to the property.

under the influence of strong drink, which he had freely imbibed previous to the conflagration. The court after a little reflection, refused to allow him to make the change, and the trial is set for Wednesday the 14th of July. A conviction in this case is not only inevitable, but it seems to be inevitable. Mr. Riser was appointed to defend him. After disposing of this case for the present, that of HON. LORIN FARR was called. It will be remembered that Mr. Farr had been indicted for perjury on Wednesday last made a motion to quash the indictment on the ground that the names of the witnesses were not endorsed on the back of the document; and further that one of the grand jurors was absent when the indictment was presented in court. The Court ruled that these grounds were insufficient; the motion to quash was denied; the defendant, by his counsel, moved for a continuance, which was overruled, and Mr. Farr was ordered to stand up.

The five counts in the indictment were then read by the clerk of the court, to all of which the defendant answered "Not guilty." Being informed that this was all that was required of him at that time, Mr. Farr left the room without being notified as to when to appear again for trial. Subsequently he was called to the court, but was not called up again during the present term.

It was learned this morning that Elder E. A. Box, of Brigham City, was arrested on

THE POPULAR CHARGE, namely, that of living with, and supporting his family, in contravention of the Edmunds law. He was arrested in Salt Lake City, and was brought to this city. He was taken before Commissioner Black. He waived an examination and was bound over in $1,000 bonds to await the action of the grand jury. David Kay and John Scott were accepted as his sureties.

BISHOP DAVID M. STUART who, on the 4th of January last, was sentenced by Judge Powers, to six months imprisonment for the violation of the Edmunds law, and pay a fine of $300 and costs of suit for "unlawful cohabitation" and refusing to make a covenant to serve the law in future as interpreted by the courts, was released yesterday, his term having expired.

THE HEATED TERM is upon us. This is no joke. It is here with all that the words imply. For several days the heat has been almost unbearable. The streets at times have been nearly deserted; the people who are not compelled to go to work, have sought the shade—and even there many of them found it difficult to breathe freely, while to "keep cool" was an utter impossibility. The nights have been well nigh insupportable, "while all nature" appeared to be "wrapped in sweet repose," there was across the land a breath of relief. The leaves of the trees, and the general complaint has been, "How restless on my bed I lie." How restless on my bed I lie. How restless on my bed I lie. How restless on my bed I lie.

All are praying for rain, but there are at present no signs of its advent. The waters in the rivers are very low, and are growing less day by day. It has been with much difficulty that irrigation has been obtained of late for irrigation, and while water is so scarce, some of the garden crops have suffered.

Sometimes the vapors will gather and become piled up like fleecy mountains in the UPPER DEEP. Anon the heavens "will gather blackness," and the clouds loom in the distance, and the people prognosticate rain. "A storm is imminent," one will say. His neighbor will shrug his shoulders, and shake his head doubtfully. The question is, when will the winds spring up, blow briskly, the clouds roll by, for a little time we are cooler, but the earth and vegetation remain parched and dry.

Harvest is near, and I am not sure that much rain, just now, would be very beneficial, but still we would all like a good downfall. The SECOND CROP OF LUCERN is about ready for the mow, and the grain will shortly be ready for the reaper, and when these crops are harvested there will be no more need of rain. The weather may continue until the harvest home.

There are a number of things for which we should be grateful, notwithstanding the heat and drought. Among these are: the health of the people generally is good. Hence there is not much sickness and but few deaths among us. There is bread enough in the land, and some to spare, and the poor do not call in vain for the necessities of life. None need go hungry; for if they cannot work, they need neither beg nor starve. If their wants are made known in proper manner to the proper authorities, they will be supplied.
