Red Bluff was lighted with gas for the first time on the night of the 12th. The illumination caused more excitement than a dog fight.
The frightful increase of crime is, in our opinion, due in a great measure to the uncertainty and inequality of punishment.—Stockton Independent.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, FEB. 21.
Grand Jury.—The grand jury of the Probate Court adjourned yesterday to resume its sittings on Tuesday.
Stormy.—Last night was exceedingly wintry, especially the fore part of it, when there was a fall of snow, which was drifted and blown about by a keen, cutting, blustering wind.
S. L. L. A.—The fourth lecture of the Salt Lake Library Association Lecture course is expected to be delivered at the M. E. Church, on Monday evening, Feb. 23, by Rev. C. C. Stratton. Subject, "Eye to Eye."
Mail Service in Utah.—Washington, February 17th. The contract for carrying the mails from Kelton, Utah, to Dalles, Oregon, was let to Wm. DeLacy, at $67,900. The next lowest bids are, J. B. Kerney, $79,900; C. L. Chapman, $9,500, (?) and L. B. Church, $107,000. The present pay is $224,000 per annum.—Sacramento Union.
Arrests.—Yesterday deputy sheriff Florida, of Alta, arrested, at Granite city, and brought to town, a man named Shafer, suspected of being concerned in the murder of Peter Van Valkenberg. To-day the sheriff arrested and brought to the City, two others, Thomas G. Fox and W. B. Kelly, suspicion resting upon them also. All three are now in the county jail, awaiting the action of the grand jury of the Probate court.
Fire.—About half-past one o'clock this morning a two story frame house on Second West Street, a few feet south of the "Institute" building, was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was immediately rung at the City Hall and at the "Wasatch" engine house, and, in the meantime, by some of the inmates of the house, assisted by citizens, who soon gathered to the spot, a large portion of the furniture and other moveable property was removed from the house. The firemen, headed by Chief Engineer J. D. T. McAllister and assistants A. Burt and G. M. Ottlinger, were at the scene of the fire, with apparatus, soon after the alarm was given, and worked with great energy and good judgment until it was brought under control. The rear part of the building is almost totally consumed, and the interior of the other portion is all but destroyed, but the outer walls and a portion of the roof are left standing.
The efforts of the firemen were considerably directed towards keeping the fire from catching the "Institute" building, and when it was considered that it is in such close proximity to the burning building it is something of a wonder that they were successful. The wind, however, which was blowing from the north, was in their favor. Some men, with more zeal than judgment, went to work to tear down the north wall of the building and had they been allowed to do so the fire, instead of being confined, would have spread and probably caught the nearest building. They were called upon to desist, but they gave no heed to the call until some of the water from the engine happened to fall upon them, which made them scamper.
The water supply for the Pioneer engine was obtained from the tank near the Theatre and there was a delay of about twenty-five minutes, occasioned by the bursting of three sections of hose, before a stream could be brought to bear on the building.
The Wasatch engine could not be used on account of the water supply in the adjacent ditch being insufficient. The "Wasatch" men got a stream for a little while, but it could not be kept up.
The building was the property of Mrs. Valkner, a widow lady, who resides at present in Michigan. Up till last night it was occupied by a Mr. Dempster, who kept boarders. When the fire broke out, there were about fifteen inmates in the place, including Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Gould. Nothing was saved from the chambers or upper rooms. The building was insured for $3,000, and Mr. Dempster had his furniture insured to the extent of $2,000. He considers that his damage amounts to about $3,000, which makes his loss, outside of insurance, about $1,000. The loss of Mr. and Mrs. Gould consists mainly of personal effects, and Mr. G. thinks it amounts to about $800. During the night had his ankle sprained and to-day has to walk around with the assistance of a cane.

A number of the firemen continued to work at the fire till seven o'clock. Between ten and eleven o'clock to-day it was discovered that fire still smouldered in the cellar and in the roof near the engine, when the Pioneer engine was again brought into requisition, and the fire was completely extinguished.
The firemen are entitled to commendation for their energy, perseverance and activity. Many of them were drenched with water and, frost being keen, their clothing was hard and stiff, but they were not discouraged on that account.
The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue.
FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, FEB. 22.
Winter Time.—Regular winter days just now—dull, cold, snow, frosty.
A Good Time.—The reunion party of the Fourth Quorum Seventies, on Friday night, the 14th Ward Assembly Room, was a very enjoyable affair. President Joseph Young was present.
Grinder.—The big coffee mill in the show window of Mr. Geo. Davis is driven by a small steam engine, which was received from the east a day or two since, for the purpose.
Washington's Birthday.—Yesterday was the anniversary of the birthday of George Washington, the "father of his country." As it was Sunday, no particular demonstrations of respect to the memory of the great man could well be made; to-day, however, many of the principal buildings of the city have been decked with the stars and stripes and the principal stores and other places of business have been closed.
More Suspected Poisoning.—It will be remembered that Geo. Hill, a seven year old son of Henry Hill, who lived with his mother, who separated by divorce from Hill about two years ago, died suddenly on Thursday night, and, owing to the symptoms manifested previous to his death, it was believed that it might have resulted from poisoning. An inquest was held on the body on Friday, by Coroner J. Taylor, when, as stated in the News of that day, a verdict was given to the effect that the boy died from convulsions, produced by causes unknown to the jury.
Besides the mother of the deceased boy and her children, there is another family living in the same house in the 15th Ward, Philip Hall and wife, the latter being the daughter of the former Mrs. Hill, now Mrs. Ledingham. Another of the latter's and one of Mr. Hall's children, both girls, about three years of age, had since died, one of them, that of Philip Hall, exhibiting symptoms exactly similar to those manifested by little Geo. Hill, the only difference being that the convulsions were little stronger in the girl. She was taken ill on the same day that the boy died and breathed her last Saturday night. The other little girl, Mary Jessie Hill, died yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. Her symptoms were different, however, and it is stated that she had been ill of scarlatina. Dr. Anderson and the Benedict Brothers visited and examined the bodies yesterday. This morning Acting Bishop Eli Morris and Mr. Ledingham, the stepfather of the Hill child, visited Judge Elias Smith and laid the matter before him. The judge immediately ordered that the funeral services of the two children, which were to have taken place at two o'clock to-day, to be delayed until after an inquest and post mortem examination could be held, which were to commence at two o'clock this afternoon, under the direction of George J. Taylor. Dr. Anderson was to make the post mortem examination, and would probably be assisted by the Benedict Brothers.
If the children have met with foul play it is to be hoped that the guilt will be brought home to those to whom it belongs.
Close of the Session.—During the session of the Territorial Legislature we believe it is not too much to say that the members have probably worked, during the forty days they were convened, as conscientiously, faithfully, and disinterestedly for the benefit of their constituents
