COOD NEWS FOR FISHERMEN.

Steps Taken to Restock Rivers from Uncle Sam's Hatcheries --Railroad News.

The recent experiment of Maf. S. K. Hooper in stocking Utah streams with trout has proved so successful that the Rio Grande proposes to make every stream adjacent to the system a veritable fisherman's paradise. With this object in view the general passenger agent wrote to the department of commerce and labor, bureau of fisherles, recently for several million rainbow trout and other fry to place in Provo river and other streams of Utah. In response J. S. M. Smith, acting commissioner at Washington, has written Maj. Hooper, inclosing the necessary blanks. The correspondence on the matter was received by Col. I. A. Ben-ton here this morning, with instructions to take steps in furnishing the necessa-ry data relative to Utah streams and the number of fry required for stock-ing purposes.

the number of fry required for stock-ing purposes. Mr. Benton is decidedly pleased at the outlook, for not only will the fisher-men of Utah appreciate the steps taken in their behalf, but the Rio Grande also will be enabled to build up quite an excurison business on the strength of certificates of well stocked trout streams along the right-of-way.

The signifi-cance of this trip, it is anticipated, will develop at an early date. Gen. Manager Schlacks of the Den-

AUTOMATIC SIGNALS.

Rio Grande Installs Gongs at Grade Crossings on Main Line.

During the past 10 days the Rio Grande has installed automatic cross-ing signals on all important roads crossing the tracks between Salt Lake crossing the tracks between Salt Lake and Provo. This innovation will be appreciated by those whose calling compels them to drive across the right-of-way at intervals. Each signal is furnished with a gong which com-mences to ring furloualy as soon as the train reaches a point 1,500 feet from the crossing, and continues so to ring until the cars have traversed 1,000 yeards. At Murray on "Deadman's Bend" are these signals escpecially welcomed by the residents and farmers of the vicini.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

National Committeeman Peery re-turned yesterday from his eastern trip. Aftr attending the convention and var-lous committee meetings, and inter-viewing casterners on the situation, he expresses himself as very well satisfied with the outlook for Democratic vio-tory. Further than this, Mr. Peery did not care to be quoted.

WATERMAINS EXTENSION.

County Will Run Them From Sandy To Bingham Junction.

The county commissioners, at their meeting today, awarded the contract for furnishing 3,000 feet of pipe for the extension of the county water mains from Sandy to Bingham Junction to the Crane, company. At the present time water for the sprinklers at Bingham Junction has to be hauled a mile, and it is impossible to properly sprinkle the roads under such conditions. This extension of the waterworks system from Sandy to Bingham Junction will furnish plenty of water for sprinkling purposes. It is expected that the pipe will be here within a month, when work will be at once commenced on the extension. the extension

George Craner was the son of George B, and Elizabeth West Craner, and was born in Warwickshire, England, June I, 1829. He was converted to the teach-irgs of the "Mormon" faith in his na-tive land, where he grew to manhood, and received his education in the com-mon schools of that country. He emigrated to America in January, 1851, on the sailing vessel George W. Bourne. The journey from Liverpool to New Orleans consumed ten weeks, and in 1852 he crossed the plains to join the main body of the Church, arriving here Oct. 7 of that year. He at once set to work to bring his father and moth-er, three sisters and one brother to Utah, which he succeeded in doing in 1854. His father, however, died in Kansas en route here. His mother came on to her destination and lived with her son until her death. April 8, 1869. George was married Jan. 1, 1857, to Miss Emma Jenkins, daughter of Edward Jenkins. SALT LAKE & OGDEN.

Indications That There is Now Something In the Wind,

President Bamberger of the Salt Lake & Ogden, while in St. Louis, visited the big car works there and looked over the plant. In relating the incident Mr. Bamberger stated that he asked for specifications on electric cars that would run 35 miles, including five stops, in an hour. In response he was told that the company was prepared to build him cars which would run that distance him cars which would run that distance and make eight stops in 46 minutes, or make the continuous run between Salt Lake and Ogden in 35 minutes with ab-

ARe and Ogden in the olute safety. Regarding the route to be taken by he projected inter-urban electric road, Mr. Bamberger has decided to alter the line from that originally selected when it was the intention to make the Salt Lake & Ogden a steam road. The new line which has been surveyed, practical-ly parallels the Oregon Short Line from Kaysville into Ogden. While the pre-liminary work has been done on this survey no definite location has as yet been decided upon

Above Farmington and in the vicini-ty of Kaysville some very heavy cut and fill work is under course of construction, operations, however, now are sus-pended until harvest, when the farmers can get to work grading with teams and scrapers. Mr. Bamberger's policy is to keep the money right at home and spend it among his prospective patrons as far as possible.

AFTER HANLON'S SCALP.

Herrera is Camping on His Trail and Thinks He Can Win Easily.

Aurelio Herrera is again camping on the path of Eddie Hanlon. The Mexican considers that his recent record is good enough to effitle him to a match here with Hanlon, or with Nelson in case he should defeat "Cute." His manager, Joe Wood, writes as follows from Bakersheld to the sporting editor of the San Francisco Builetin: "In a recent issue of your paper I notice that Eddle Hanlon says that he never refused to fight Aurelio Herrera and that he is also ready to fight him now. About his refusing, all I have or will say is that he was asked for a fight will say is that he was asked for a fight and Herrera offered to bet him $1,000 on the side. Again he was offered $1,000 for his end, win, lose or draw, to fight Herrera six rounds in Chicago and two roundtrip tickets from Philadelphia for a go before the Waverly club of Chi-cago. Now, if Eddie means business and will take Herrera on at 128 pounds at 3 o'clock we can very soon come at 3 o'clock we can very soon come to terms. He can also have a side bet of $1,000. If he also thinks Herrera is easy, he can fight winner take all, or in fact any way he wants. I really think we are in line and justly entitled to a fight with Hanlon, and all his wrang-ling can be easily avoided by Hanlon or his representative naming a place of meeting, and I will come to the city, sign articles, post forfeit and make all the necessary arrangements for a match. Aurelioo Herrera is in good condition. He is building some houses the condition. He is building some houses on a piece of property here in Bakers-field, and while overseeing the work keeps his mind and body working all the time. With a few days on the road and in the gymnasium he can easily be to weight and ready to fight. Hanion must in the meantime defrat Nelson, as a San Francisco club has aiready made me an offer for the match if Nelson beats Hanion. Hoping that you will give this matter small space in your valuable sporting columns. I in your valuable sporting columns, am yours, with much respect. "JOSEPH M. WOOD."
