State May Epact Statute Regulating Increase of Capital Stock-Powers Of Commissions Defined.

St. Paul, March 28 .-- The state supreme court today upheld the Great Northern Railroad in its contention that it had the right to issue the $60,000,000 of stock authorized by the board of directors some months ago and which was enjoined by Atty, Gen. Young, who claimed that the company should first come before the state railroad and warehouse commission and submit to an examination to show the necessity and the purpose of the issue. This con-tention of the state was upheld by Judge Hallam in the Ramsey county district court, who ordered an injunc-tion to issue. The supreme court to-day reverses that decision. The opinion of the court was unani-mous. Chief Justice Start delivered twhich is as follows: J. Tokio, March 28.- According to infor-mation received from Kloto. James Henry Smith of New York, who died there yesterday, began to complain of toothache while in the Indian ocean. Upon reaching Shanghai he consulted a physician who succeeded in relieving the pain to some extent. When he ar-rived at Nagasaki the pain again be-came severe, but with medical assist-ance he reached Kobe where another physician was consulted. He finally proceeded to Kloto by train, but when that city was reached he was so weak that he had to be carried to his hotel, where he underwent a surgical opera-tion on his gum on March 25. After the operation he was progressing fairly well, but suddenly on March 27. grave symptoms developed, and he expired at s clock that evening. First Regular Session.

PREST. KERR'S RESIGNATION.

A meeting of the board of trustees of the Agricultural college, which will probably do much to determine the future policy of the institution is being held this afternoon. The meeting is the most important one in recent years because of the fact that the last appointees by Gov. Cutler to the college board, give a voting majority to three members on the board who heretoford have been in the minority.

These members have not been favorable to the policy pursued by Prestdent W. J. Kerr. It has held that President Kerr sought to make a great university out of the institution instead of a school for the study of agriculture. Two years ago friction arose between President Kerr and Prof. John A. Widtsoe, head of the experiment stations, and a great worker in agricultural lines. Prof. Widtsoe says he prefers consolidation to a starved college, though he prefers separation as now prevails with agriculture as a predominating feature. In the battle which was then beginning, Dr. Widt-soe resigned to pursue his agricultural experiments in a private capacity, and to become an instructor in the B. Y. U at Provo at Provo. There are many people who inclined to Dr. Widtsoe's view of the situation, and ever since he left the college he has and ever since he jet the contege he has been looked upon as the center of that line of thought. His friends have been active in his behalf, in the be-lief that he could utilize, the college facilities to do a great work for arid farming, and in solving other problems connected with Utah soils.

afternoon the public feeling This afternoon the public feeling is that Dr. Widtsoe will be invited to take President Kerr's position, but at this hour this does not appear certain. There is decidedly a lack of united opin-ion within the board of trustees, and one member said this morning that he thought the meeting would last near-ly all afternoon. Prof. George Thomas of the Logan faculty is mentioned as a candidate for the position, as is also State Supt. of Public Instruction A. C. Nelson.

Nelson. Prof. Kerr's resignation is to be acted on this afternoon. He wrote his resignation right after the governor's appointments were announced, and aft-er President McCornick said that he would no longer serve upon the board. Mr. McCornick was a strong backer of President Kerr's policy.
