sian cities.

"On the day of the czar's manifesto," he said, "there were marchings and great procession waved red flags through the streets. A great party of Loyalists gathered and were addressed by a clergyman, who said: "It is true that the czar has decreed liberty, freedom of the press, speech, and of conscience.' And he express, horted faithfulness to the czar, after which his followers marched, carrying aloft pictures of the czar. When this procession met the other paraders it was stoned and thus the fighting began. During the next two days the streets of Odessa were a battlefield." Chanoch, the tinsmith, took up the story at this point, saying:

"During the first day after the man-ifesto it seemed to me to be very quiet.

for nearly all the Jews remained indoors, hiding. Sometimes I heard people marching through the streets. Six weeks ago today I lay with several others for hours in the garret of a house to escape from a mob in the rooms below. It was a three-story building, and those who lived there escaped by crawling along rafters into dark holes a few inches underneath the roof.

"While we were hiding in this house men came in after dark to escape from the streets and to tell us what hap-pened in the other houses where the Jews were caught. A man told me that one of these houses had been en-tered, where perhaps 200 Jews were in hiding. The members of the mob carried butcher knives, stone slabs, some | tets for stringed instruments,

HENRY HOLMES DEAD.

San Francisco, Dec. 12.-Henry Holmes, formerly musical instructor to Queen Alexandra of England and for the past 17 years a resident of San Francisco, died at his home in this city on Saturday last. He was born in London in 1839 and came to this city in 1888, after attaining a distinguished ident.

reputation as a violinist in the capital cities of the old world. At the opening of the Royal College of Music in London he was appointed professor of the violin and he created the celebrated orchestra of that institution. During this period of his life he did much work in composition, his contributions to the literature of music including many excellent symphonies, cantatas and solos, as well as quartets and quin-

Make Your Soup Taste Better

Home-made or Canned Soups are greatly improved in flavor by the addition of a trille of Armour's Extract of Beef. It gives that rich beefy color and delicious taste. You will be surprised how much it improves even the best of soups.

It is the best for making Beef Tea as a beverage or for the invalid.

Only the best beef is used in making Armour's Extract of Beef. This makes it stronger than the cheaper brands, more delicious in flavor and much more economical to use, for it goes much further.

ARMOUR'S Extract Insurance company realized only $30,000 on the sale of the collateral. Com-panies in which Mr. Hadley was inter-ested failed and he committed suicide. "It cost the insurance company just $132,000 for Mr. Hadley to get control of it." said Mr. Hughes f it," said Mr. Hughes, Besides the $162,000, Mr. Hadley had berowed $200,000 to pay for the assur-ance company's stock, and had put up that stock as collateral. Mr. Scott tes-tified that he bought that stock at auction, after Mr. Hadley's death, and orrowed the money to do it from th New York Securities & Trust company John A. McCall, president of the New York Life Insurance company, Mr. Scott said, "stood back of him" in the negotiation for the loan. Other wil-nesses have testified that the New York Life Insurance company controlled the Security and Trust company,

After he got control of the company, Mr. Scott said, John A. McCall was made comptroller of the Provident Savings Life Assurance company at $10,000 a year. Mr. Scott testified also that his four sons and a nephew are employ. ed by the company of which he is pres-

Mr. Hughes pointed out that, although the Provident Life wrote $155,000,000 of insurance in the last five years it lost a total of $170,000,000 of insurance, a net loss of $5,000,000. He was asked if this did not indicate a high percentage of lapses. The witness said he did not

Mr. Hughes asked the witness to explain increases in the company's ex-penses over the increase in its receipts from premiums. The witness said the figures in the report of the state depart. nent of insurance are incorrect.

Mr. Hughes read from a statement of the legal expenses of the Provident Life company a list of five payments made to Andrew Hamilton, the legislamade to Andrew Hamilton, the legisla-tive agent of the New York Life Insur-ance company, who is now in Paris, and who has been asked to come to New York and testify. The payments cover-ed a period from 1898 to 1901. One was $500 and another $2,500, the amounts of the others not being stated. The witness said that Hamilton had visited the insurance departments of Illinois and Kansas, and possibly some other states, to secure permission for

Hamilton, witness said, also acted as coursel for the company in a test case in which the company resisted the contention of the state insurance department of New York that the law imposing a tax on premlums was retro-active. The company won this case,

LAND FRAUD CONSPIRATORS WERE EXCEEDINGLY BOLD

Salem, Or., Dec. 11 .- Each day brings nore and more surprising evidences the monumental assurance of the gang of school land operators and the childlike simplicity and trustfulness of the unknown number of persons whom they swindled out of large sums of money. The swindlers operated months after several of the gang, it is believed, stood convicted in the federal courts of this district, and they referred in the most brazen manner to banks and individuals in Oregon who would have certainly warned the victims had they been communicated with. A bundle of forged certificates pre sented by persons, who for obvious rea-sons, desire George C. Brown, clerk of the school land board, to withhold their names, show that in addition to forg-eries of certificates, state seal, notarial seals, signatures of officials and no-taries, the swindlers forged letters written on forged letterheads of the state school land board with the forged signatures of Clark Brown, purporting to inform the operators as to the status of their land; also forged receipts for pretended payments on different parcels
