BREVITIES.

A Louisville paper says,

"The chief justice of the United States is buying up Rhode Island. He is already purchased five acres and is keeping a sharp eye on the little remainder."

One has only to die to be praised. Handsome apples are sometimes sour. Little and often make a heap in time. It is easier to blame than to do better. More are drawn in the down than in the sea.

There is nothing purer than honesty; nothing sweeter than charity; nothing warmer than love; nothing brighter than virtue and nothing more steadfast than faith.

Butler says that if the people of Massachusetts will elect him Governor he will prevent any railroad accidents in the future. To which the Springfield Republican adds: "We prefer the accidents."

Two scavengers were quarreling as to their respective duties. When one, meaning to silence his mate, said: "Well, Bill, you can sweep the middle of a street, but you can't do an ornamental piece of work, like sweeping around a lamp-post!"

From Saratoga to Newport, from Cape May to Rye Beach, our fashionable summer resorts have been crowded with pretty girls, but with scarcely a cavalier to do them reverence. Can't somebody write a book about: "Is Woman losing her Magnetism?"—E.

A newly married man down east says that if he had an inch more of happiness he could not possibly live. His wife is obliged to murder him, and he is put him with a brick bat every day to keep him from being too happy.

America pays France $4,000,000 a year for sardines, and now a Brooklyn man has found an American fish which, it is predicted, will supersede the French article in delicacy and, as to expense, they only cost half as much.

"Look here, ma!" said a Yankee young lady, just commencing to take lessons in painting, holding up a sample of her work to her mother. "See my painting! Can you tell what it is?"—Ma, after looking at it some time, answered, "Well, I reckon it's a cow or a rosebud; but I don't know which."

"Well, Patrick," asked the doctor, "how do you feel to-day?" "Oh, doctor, I enjoy very poor health indeed. The rheumatic is very disagreeable indeed. When I go to sleep, I lay awake all night, and my toes are swelled up big as a goose's egg, so when I stand up I fall down immediately."

A full-headed young grandfather recently had his brittle appendage shaved off, showing a clean face for the first time for a number of years. At the dinner table his three year old grand-nephew noticed it, "Grand old grandfather," he said, "you have a very interesting new hair, what is it?" "Grandfather, whose head you got shaved?"

In Civilization played out—Some settlers in Arkansas lost three horses, and attacked the Osage Indians as the thieves, although the latter offered a search of their camp. A fight ensued, one white was killed and several on both sides were wounded. The whites, carrying off three Osage horses, returned in force, captured seven of the white men and turned them over to the United States deputy marshal at Fort Smith, charged with murder and assault with intent to kill. These Indians may be considered pretty well civilized.—E.

A gentleman in Iowa, who recently became the father of a fine boy, and who naturally deemed it the happiest event of his life, thought to gain a reputation for liberality without the expenditure of any money. He offered a premium of $100 for the prettiest baby that should be exhibited at an approaching fair, not doubting that the judges must award the prize to his own. There were nine entries, comprising seven white and two negroes, and—no. of the negro babies gained the premium. Ah! this is a world of class-prejudice.

The Germans are a long way ahead of the Americans in their attention to the life of the little policeman. In the morning, when these people meet in the places of business, they greet each other with a cheerful salutation. So the humblest laborer—when parting for the night, bids an affectionate "good night" to all his fellow-laborers. To Americans, these little courtesies, so full of sunshine, seem a work of supererogation. When our countrymen go to or from business they can only afford a grunt or a look of impatience. They seem to forget that a simple "thank you" and a smile may brighten a heavy brow. It has been said, and I believe true, that "good breeding is the blossom of good sense." There is much need of our countrymen cultivating the amenities of life. Will they ever learn the time to do this?—E.

VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, 27.—The following comes via Washington—Knoxville, Tennessee, 27.—Col. D. N. Nelson, son of Judge T. A. B. Nelson, of the supreme court, shot and killed General J. H. Clinton, of Alabama, this evening, in a personal rencontre.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Governorship.

WORCESTER, 27.—The convention assembled at 8 o'clock. A letter was read from Governor Claflin, absolutely declining to allow his name to be used for a re-nomination. Loring, in a speech, withdrew his name from the contest.

At a later hour, Rice, in an eloquent speech, withdrew his name from the contest; and a recess was taken till 7 p.m.

On re-assembling, the committee on credentials reported, and up to this hour (9 a.m.) nothing has been done except the discussion of that report.

The first real test question has just been decided. The question was on the admission of the Butler delegates of the sixth ward, Boston. The report of the committee on credentials was opposed to admitting the delegates; and the Butler delegates were denied entrance to the convention by a vote of 607 to 460.

The result was received with overwhelming applause. The remaining portion of the report of the committee on credentials was adopted by acclamation. By a unanimous vote the convention proceeded to a formal ballot for candidates for governor.

Bad for Butler.

12:30 a.m., 28th.—The vote on candidate for governor has just been declared. William B. Washburn is nominated by a vote of 445 to 404 for Butler. The scene that ensued when the vote was declared was indescribable. Cheers after cheer rent the air. The Republicans were wildly cheering and waving their flags. The Democrats were silent and dejected.

1 a.m.—General Butler declared he accepted the action of the convention as final, and agreed to the result. The statement was received with shouts on the floor, but there was little demonstration in the galleries where Butler's friends had been very demonstrative during the day.

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

SAN FRANCISCO, 27.—E. Pertinax, the inventor of the explosive bullets for muskets and pistols, which both the Communists and the Versailles charged each with using in the late siege of Paris, will give an exhibition of the effect of his invention in presence of a committee of military men at the Bay district agricultural park, at 3 p.m. to-morrow. He recently arrived here from Paris. It is claimed that his invention has been adopted by the American government for army and navy use.

The drawing of the Grass Valley lottery has been postponed to Nov. 1st, the managers having determined to give the full list of prizes without abatement.

The stock excitement continues and promises to run high for some time to come. Last evening, after the close, it fell back on the street to 85, but this morning it appears to be stiff again.

Riley, who was shot by Jordan night before last, and was reported dying last night, is easier this morning, and threatens to recover in spite of the bullet supposed to have gone directly through his heart.

Francisco Turco was sent to the county court on trial to-day on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, a fellow Italian, in whom he lodged a bullet from a revolver by way of settling an old account.

Alexander Thompson, a boarding-house runner, is under arrest on the charge of making a murderous assault on Edward Holland, a sailor, on the ship Panther, for whom he is alleged to have laid in wait with a heavy club to punish him for refusing to be entertained at his hotel.

Choice selected apples and pears, wrapped in paper and carefully packed, are being shipped from here to Montana. The price paid being $3 to $3.25 per 100 pounds in this market.

The San Francisco art association election did not show a great tendency toward the enfranchisement of woman, the female candidate being ignored by the tyrant male voters and the lady members alike. The whole regular ticket was elected.

The merchants here have been notified that the rates in shipments from San Francisco to Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati, by R. E. have been advanced from 31 to 31 cents per pound, but that the tariff to New York remains at 31 as at first fixed.

RE-VACCINATION.—When and how often people should be re-vaccinated has been a question. The well-known London physician, Dr. T. Snow Beck, has studied the matter and reached the following conclusions:

1. It is necessary to vaccinate the infant in order to protect it during the period of childhood and youth.

2. We do not possess any data upon which reliance can be placed, and by which we can determine the value of any vaccination some time after it has been performed.

3. It appears clear, from the experience of the present epidemic, that the protective influence of vaccination becomes impaired during the period which elapses between infancy and maturity.

4. In order to maintain the protective influence of the cow pox during life, it is desirable to repeat the vaccination after the individual has arrived at maturity.

The motto written upon the temple of Delphi, "Know Thyself," is engraved upon the heart of the youth, who, fired with enthusiasm, and impelled by passion, enters upon the arena of life, knowing but little of his own mind and capabilities.

Late Hours.—"Wife," said a man, looking for his boot-jack, "I have places where I keep my things, and you know it." "Yes," said she, "I ought to know where you keep your late hours."

A Cincinnati newspaper contains an account of the production of a new play, and says the audience "sat spellbound. One was dead, and the other three asleep."

ORGANS! ORGANS!

DAYNES & CO., AGENTS.

For Utah Territory, for the Sale of the Celebrated

Smith's American Cabinet Organs.

Respectfully invite the members of the Musical Association and the Public generally, to call at their Music Rooms, on

First South Street.

LOW PRICES.

At which they offer them for sale, the prices being from Twenty to Thirty per cent lower.

Then they can be bought in any other House in Utah Territory, for less than they can be bought here.

At these low figures because they are, as some would have it, a poorly manufactured and consequently

CHEAP INSTRUMENT.

For excellence of workmanship they have no equal in the West, in strength, purity and sweetness of tone.

Challenge the Profession to produce any instrument equal to them.

LOW RATES.

Is easily explained: They have no local agents who can

PAY TO PUFF.

their wares; and besides this they have resolved to place these beautiful instruments within the reach of all, and will do so by doing what no other House in Utah pretends to do, namely,

Sharing with Their Patrons.

The commission allowed by the Manufacturers Acting on this principle they offer their instruments at Twenty Per Cent Less.

Than eastern retail figures, besides paying the freight.

To the railway terminus in this city, guaranteeing every instrument to be sound and free of damage. They will sell a Parlor Organ, with elegant Black Walnut Case, Five Stops, Trunk and Knee Swell for $150.

The eastern retail price being $175. An instrument for a School or Meeting House, with power sufficient for Fifty Singers.

With seven stops, sub-bass, Octave Coupler, Tremolo and Knee-swell for $180.

The eastern price for the same instrument being $210.

To prove that the American Organ is all they represent, they return purchasers to the following well-known names:—J. H. Johnson, D. L. Davis, A. Miller, John Knapp, B. W. Sears, W. & G. Wells, also Mr. S. Kimball, all of this city. G. H. Johnson, of Salt Creek, Jackson County, T. H. Knapp, of the Fishburne Choir, Brigham City.

Daynes & Co. will also sell every other description of first-class Musical Instruments. From a Piano-forte to a violin, and all the instruments used in the practice of music, at the lowest prices. They invite all Musicians and the Public, to call and prove their truth by personal examination and investigation. Remember
