

EVENING NEWS. TUESDAY, MAY 22, 1888.

Y. M. M. I. A. CONFERENCE.

A general conference of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement Association will be held in the Tabernacle, Salt Lake City, on Saturday and Sunday June 30 and July 1. Meetings will commence each day at 10 a. m.; 2 p. m. and 8 p. m.

The general and local authorities of the Church are requested to promote the interests of this conference, so far as they are able, that it may be largely attended and productive of the utmost good.

A general invitation to the people is extended to be present.
WILFORD McDONALD,
JOSEPH F. SMITH,
MOSES THATCHER,
 General Superintendency.
 Y. M. M. I. A.

FRAGMENTS.

B. W. Davidson, a J. N. has been commissioned as a notary public.

A NUBREK is to be started in this city by Keesee Brothers, of Denver.

JOHN WALSH was fined $5 in the Police Court this morning, for drunkenness.

HENRY BUTLER is in the city jail awaiting trial on a charge of drunkenness.

The glassworks are to be visited on Thursday next by the school children of the Ninth and Tenth Wards.

The case of Arthur Brown vs. The Comet Mining Company is still in progress in the Third District Court.

The people of Montpelier, Idaho, grew wrathful last week and hung a United States official in that town in effigy.

The Philharmonic Society gives a concert in the Theatre tomorrow evening. A good programme has been arranged.

A HORSE rearing strayed on Thursday last, from the premises of Alex. Burt, opposite Pioneer Square. The rider will confer a favor by returning the animal.

THOMAS SIMMS was arrested last evening for leaving his team unattended in the street. He deposited $5 as bail for his appearance this afternoon for trial.

S. C. KIRKBY, arrested on a charge of robbery, was taken from the city jail today, and admitted to bail, pending a further investigation of the accusation against him.

FOUR boys, W. Edwards, Jas. Hastings, Arthur Curtis, and A. Martin, were arrested yesterday morning on a charge of trespassing upon D. & R. G. W. property.

G. SMITH was gathered in by the police last night on a charge of having been drunk. He was also accused of vagrancy, having been seen begging, and will have a hearing before Justice Epper.

The grand jury resumed its sessions this morning. A large number of witnesses were in attendance, and cases under both United States and Territorial statutes are under consideration.

On Thursday, Dr. Snow amputated the left foot of Neph Spring, a seven year-old son of Christian Spring, of Providence, Cache County. About two years ago the little fellow was struck on the foot with a rock, thus injuring the bone.

Concert.
 Tomorrow evening, the Theatre, the Philharmonic Society will give a grand inaugural concert. There are many reasons for the expectation that it will be a fine affair. A rich programme has been prepared and an array of local talent selected, which embraces a number of the most popular of our home musicians, whose names appear in the announcement in another column. The entertainment promises to well repay those who witness it.

The volume bearing this title, and containing a directory of Salt Lake, Ogden, Provo and Logan, with other matter for reference relative to the Territory, the resources, etc., published by L. Stebbins, has been distributed in the city. The directory of this city is bound in the fore part of the book distributed here, and the same plan has been pursued in the edition for each of the other cities named. A cursory examination of the work indicates it to be an excellent directory.

Shad Eggs and Fry.
 Editor Deseret News:
 Will you please give place to the following communication from Fish Commissioner McDonald sent ahead and care for Utah. I will be glad to hear from persons familiar with the habits and needs of young shad, as to the best water and place, in their opinion, to deposit the next shipment of fry which I suppose will reach here some time next month. Utah Lake has been expeted by the fish commission to be the most suitable for their immersion.

A. M. McGINNIS,
 Acting Fish Commissioner,
 SALT LAKE CITY, May 22, 1888.

Dear Sir.—I enclose a letter of May 20, I beg to say that unless some information emergency prevails, arrangements will be made to ship a special lot of eggs and fry of shad for planting in the waters indicated by you in Salt Lake basin. You will be notified in advance of the sending. We expect to ship the fish distributed to care to your Territory in the fall. Blank applications, as you have suggested, will be forwarded to you by this mail.

W. M. McGINNIS, Fish Commissioner.

The "Contributor."
 The last number of this magazine has another instalment of R. W. Young's "History of the Navaho Legion." It treats of Indian troubles in Utah, and is highly interesting. It is appropriately accompanied by a very fine steel portrait of Daniel H. Wells. H. B. Roberts has an article on David White, recounting the manner in which he became connected with and severed from the Church, and his steadfastness in maintaining his testimony of the truth of the Book of Mormon. A striking article by Lawrence Barrett, relative to the Shakespeare controversy is reproduced from the North American Review. J. E. Talmage has an excellent philosophical article on "Our Love and Hate," and J. H. Ward gives an interesting account of the Dakota Indians. M. A. Greenhalgh furnishes an account of the ancient city, Pergamum, in which was located one of the "seven churches of Asia." A sketch on the death of President A. K. Thurber, by Ruby Johnson, is a gem. Some selected articles of the usual editorial matter, and "Association Intelligence," occupy the remaining space of the number.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.

Trials, Arraignments and Sentences Yesterday.

Proceedings before Judge Henderson, at Ogden, yesterday:
 In the case of Mary Drysdale, et al., vs. Alma Rogers et al., the demurrer to the complaint was sustained on the ground that the complaint did not state facts sufficient to constitute cause of action. Permission to amend was granted the plaintiffs.

M. B. Wheelwright, charged with unlawful cohabitation, alleged to have been committed between January 1, 1885, and May 1, 1888, and with adultery, took the statutory time to appeal. Catherine Wheelwright, charged with fornication, took the same time to plead.

Francis Axel Berg, charged with adultery with Johanna Peterson, a married woman, pleaded not guilty and his case was set for Saturday, May 24.

Johanna Peterson, charged with the same offense, took the statutory time to plead, and E. M. Allison, Jr., was appointed to defend her.

In the day, Johanna Peterson came into court and gave her name as Johanna Berg, and pleaded not guilty. Having no means, an order was issued that certain articles of clothing should be sold in her behalf at the expense of the government.

The case of the United States vs. Vandie Bowers, was taken up. The defendant is charged with fornication with Jane Porter under promise of marriage. The trial was not concluded last evening, and will continue today. Nathan Bidault was admitted to citizenship.

Mrs. Martha Walters pleaded not guilty to a charge of fornication. Almon Root, convicted on pleading guilty of unlawful cohabitation, promised to obey the law as construed by the courts, and the court therefore suspended sentence, giving good behavior.

Charles Johns, convicted of unlawful cohabitation, was let off with $50 and costs upon promising to obey the law.

Southern Notes.

Saw and shingle mills will begin operations in Gardiner county next week.

The saw mills are beginning to shape around for the regular summer work.

Quite an emigration is being made from Utah to the Montana Territory.

There are prospects of a small supply of fruit, even in Pangnitch and Kalamath, this year.

Why can't Beaver have a Chamber of Commerce, "Triflers" or something of that sort?

The old dock of the titling office has now found a location in the United States Marine Office.

Can't Beaver have an old folk's excursion this year? Let the committee rise and report.

Mrs. Annie Parker, who met with a terrible accident a few weeks ago, is reported as progressing very favorably.

The peach and apricot crops of St. George, contrary to reports last week, will not be so extensive as contemplated.

The reason so much real estate files in Beaver is there are not people enough to hold it down, nor have we the means to do so.

Sheep! Sheep! and the cry is still the same. The range is flooded with them, herd after herd is met with in all directions.

Panamitch will have a building boom this summer. Brick making will shortly commence in order to meet the already big demand.

Who will be our Probate Judge? This question is a puzzle. Let us unite on some young man, make proper recommendations and we may count on his appointment.

A great many people have already in contemplation of leaving the mountains around Beaver, than which there are none to be found to excel. Mountains abounding in lakes of fresh water full of fish.

The Beaver State Academy closed its second year on Wednesday last. The Academy had had a successful year during the past season, and the prospects are that the condition will be much improved on for the coming school year.

James Kittelman, one of the pettiest jurors, came into court yesterday in a morning state of intoxication, was committed into the custody of the sheriff who committed him to jail from whence he issued this morning ready for service.

The other day, while riding his horse to the pasture, Master Frank Clayton was left by his father, and the horse, finding no rider, began to throw Frank and falling upon him. During the last week, Master Frank had both arms and both legs injured. He is now doing as well as may be expected under the circumstances.

The grand jury on Friday evening presented three bills of indictment, the first of which related to a case of burglary. The other two bills were presented, two of which required $1000, one $500, and one $200. The grand jury on Tuesday, in one of which was fixed in the sum of $1000 and one $200. Finally, P. Slaght, postmaster of Rockville, was arrested on an indictment charging her with fraudulent use of the post office.

Emily Grass, who had been indicted for the same offense, was arrested and placed under $1000 bonds. J. R. Murdoch and B. Bennett being sureties in the case of the United States vs. Thomas Judd, unlawful cohabitation, the grand jury ignored the charge against the defendants. The same order was made in the case of David Spillbury.

Beaver, Monday, May 22.

Today's Fire.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon a fire originated in the cellar of P. W. McDonald's large furniture establishment, on First South Street. An alarm was given, and the fire brigade were on the ground in short order, and had a stream of water started in six minutes. The fire was first seen in the cellar, as the cellar was filled with such dense smoke that the firemen could hardly make it to work. To make matters worse, the place was jammed with furniture, packed and unpacked, and the men were disabled by a great deal of disabled men in excellent shape, and but for the prompt action of the firemen, a disastrous conflagration would have been the result. As it was, the fire was extinguished in about twenty minutes, and with comparatively little damage. The loss caused by this fire is estimated at $1000. The fire will aggregate several hundred dollars. Much of this is from water, and of course could not be avoided. There was considerable window glass destroyed in the upper stories of the building, in efforts to open the windows that the smoke might escape.

The exact cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

The cause of the fire is unknown, though it was discovered almost instantly. It started near the gas meter. There was also a gas jet burning, but whether the burliap used in the packing of the furniture caught from this or not cannot be told. One of the workmen saw a flame start up, and gave the alarm. Mr. McDonald, Mr. Foster and others went to work with buckets, but in less than a minute the flames had spread over the whole room.

A crowd of people rushed to the building when the alarm was given, and some of them created a little trouble, but this was soon checked by the police, who kept the crowd outside.

WATER.

From Where Can a Good Supply be Obtained?

Editor Deseret News:

The present City Council of Salt Lake are brought face to face with a number of difficult problems, not the least perplexing of which is the question of a water supply for the inhabitants of the municipality, not only for culinary purposes, but for irrigation and other uses. Sufficient for household use might be obtained from the present source, aided by the sinking of wells; but the requirements of the people go much farther, and demand that the orchards and shade trees, the gardens and lawns, the cemeteries and public parks shall be abundantly provided for.

Many have been the plans suggested to accomplish the purpose. It was proposed to make a series of wells to the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.

The plan of the aqueduct from the south of the city, in a series of springs are abundant, and from the source thus opened.