The village of Freedom is finely located on the west side of this valley, between Wales and Fountain Green, and has hitherto been justly appreciated for its fruit raising facilities, but on account of a shortage of water for irrigating purposes, its prospects of expansion seem quite limited, but since its dry farming possibilities have been so thoroughly demonstrated, the place is sure to grow into a good sized settlement.

Thousands of acres of good land lie contiguous to Freedom, which is well adapted to dry farming, some of which has already produced heavier crops of wheat (20 to 40 bushels per acre) than had ever been raised on adjoining lands by irrigation. The village has a never-failing stream of good water, sufficient to irrigate 200 to 300 acres of land, when used exclusively for home gardens and orchards, and dry farming is followed more extensively, will enable Freedom to furnish many ideal homes for those seeking a good location.

LYMAN, WYO.

Repetition of Winter's Storms and Snow—News Notes.

Special Correspondence.

Lyman, Wyo., May 5.—Nearly all of April and up to this date has been very cold and stormy, but no damage has been reported from frost. About four inches of snow fell last night, and winter seems to be repeating itself. Farmers have been very busy plowing and seeding, and are hopeful of good crops.

This section is steadily growing in population. Sons have arrived at the home of William Hollingshead and Charles Phillips.

Conference of Woodruff stake convened here April 27 and 28. Elders Lyman and Clawson, with all of the stake presidency were in attendance.

A choir concert was given in the evening of the 27th, which was highly appreciated.

Elder Loraine Rollins returned home recently from the missionary field. He was tendered a hearty welcome.

William Osborne and family recently moved here from Europe.

Mrs. Ada Rollins anticipates leaving soon on a visit to her native state, Mississippi.

CARDSTON, CANADA.

SUCCESSFUL BANK BUSINESS.

Two Complexes Wed in Salt Lake—Alberta News Notes.

Special Correspondence.

Cardston, Alberta, Canada, May 1.—The sign on the front of the "Snow" block now reads, "C. E. Snow & Co., bank and business." It is only a "private banking" business. It is showing a wonderful growth and today pays a higher rate for savings deposits than any bank in the district.

The "Snow" readers will notice in letters from this locality the frequent use of the term "district" instead of

"county" or "city" as used ordinarily in correspondence, and the reason is this: In the absence of a strictly "municipal" organization which in Canada is equivalent to a "county" in the states, the greatest political subdivision of a province (state) is a "legislative or electoral district," comprising a number of "polling divisions," and since the one in which we live is known as the "municipal district" with Cardston as the central point, the term becomes "general" inso far as the locality is concerned.

The "Horse Show and Sale" announced in a previous letter which occurred in Cardston last week was a most decided success. It has been estimated that at least $50,000 in stock was represented in the parade.

The electric light and water works owned by the town has shown conclusively the wisdom of the council and people in establishing such an enterprise. It will be a short time only until the plant will be tested to the full capacity and the demand for an increase will be established.

Among the conference people returning are David Woodruff and wife, Mrs. Alice Hillman and "Bert" Quinton and wife, Mrs. Miss Florence Bingham. The best wishes of the community go with these young people and hope for a safe and pleasant voyage on the transatlantic sea.

For a week or 10 days the weather has been cold and stormy, to the detriment of all those whose farm work is not complete.

The severity of the past winter caused a shortage in the store of hay, but to offset this oats are plentiful and cheap.

MANASSA, COL.

STAKE ACADEMY CLOSES.

Makes Good Showing for Semester—Three Days' Showroom.

Special Correspondence.

Manassa, Conchos Co., Colo., May 2.—The Salt Lake valley has just had a three days' snow storm, which brought an unusual amount of moisture. The spring was from three to four weeks earlier than usual and grain and grass had a good start, but the cold weather following the northeast blizzard of 10 days ago checked the growth of vegetation somewhat. The Salt Lake valley is fast becoming famous for the excellent quality of mutton, pork and beef fattened on her pastures, and the farmers of this locality are turning their attention, largely, to the raising of field crops and fattening stock.

STAKE ACADEMY CLOSING.

The Salt Lake Stake academy, established at the beginning of the year, has just closed a very successful term. This school was held in Salt Lake this winter but will come to Manassa, where it will open next September in the new opera house and academy building, now nearing completion.

The results of the semester's work were displayed on commencement day, April 26, in the form of an exhibit, in which were excellent specimens of bookkeeping, penmanship, domestic art, dressmaking, drawing and painting. The work of the music department was shown up to good advantage in a musical recital held Tuesday evening at the stake house. The school has good prospects for next year. A good faculty has been secured, and with liberal financial support of the Church and stake boards of education, and the characteristic enthusiasm of students and teachers the institution is assured of a successful future.

The first social in the new hall was held April 30, when, despite the snow storm raging at the time, a very large crowd came out and were delightfully entertained by a splendid program and picnic, given by the stake academy.

The prospect for good crops was never better than in the year of year in the history of the settlement.
