

Theodosia's sister had fainted. In the presence of her guests Lady Jenny, irritated by the delay in the garment's arrival, treated Theodosia to a torrent of abuse. It is then that the shop girl, driven desperate by the unjust attack upon herself, lets fly at her ladyship upon herself, and the assembled company, and tells them some wholesome truths from the woman's point of view. Some of the witticisms of Mrs. Lytleton's piece are so good that they are not to be omitted from the conditions prevailing in West End dressmaking establishments is grossly overdrawn. Dressmakers and factory inspectors have been interviewed and of course they declare that the ill which Mrs. Lytleton has portrayed exist only in her imagination. But it is a striking commentary on the condition of English smart society that nobody has ventured to assert that Mrs. Lytleton's exposure of the innate vulgarity, thoughtlessness and selfishness of its devotees is not abundantly justified. SALT LAKERS IN GOTHAM.

Special Correspondence.
NEW YORK, June 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Early entertained informally last Monday evening in honor of Prof. Joseph Anderson, who had been spending a few days in New York with his relatives prior to sailing for the continent. At the gathering, were a few of his old friends of former days, who were much pleased to hear him play in his usual style. Prof. Eugene Heffley was also heard to good advantage. Those present besides the guest were: Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Early, Prof. Eugene Heffley, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hempstead, Charles Goode, Miss Ryan, Misses Hattie and Josephine Thatcher and Miss Vida Eccles.

Messrs. Joseph Morrell, Joseph E. Cardon and M. J. Ballard of Logan, arrived in Gotham Friday morning on a short buying trip and left last night for the west. Mr. Morrell represents the firm of Campbell & Morrell, while Messrs. Cardon and Ballard are being in the interests of the Logan Knitting works. They have also made short business stops at Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and East Orange, New Jersey. Mr. Morrell leaves for the party at Chicago where he will join Mrs. Morrell and his daughter Miss Mable, who accompanied him to that city to be present at the graduation exercises of the Rush Medical College, from which institution Mr. Morrell's eldest son, Joseph, recently completed a four years' course. Dr. Morrell returns to Chicago in December to enter the Cook county hospital.

Miss Blanche Thomas left Thursday afternoon for her home in Salt Lake City, after a hard winter's work, to spend the summer vacation. She will visit two days with relatives in Chicago before going on west.

Mr. Archie B. Kesler arrived from Philadelphia Wednesday, where he had been visiting relatives and different manual training schools. He enters Columbia university on July 5, for a summer course, after which he returns home to begin teaching in September. He has visited a number of the schools in this city and has found much in his line of study to interest him. He is at present staying at Miss Miller's, on West Fifteenth street.

Clyde Squires has been appointed monitor of the evening illustration class of the New York School of Art, for the season of 1904-05. This is a position generally given to advanced pupils and the one holding the monitorship usually considers himself fortunate. Mr. Squires expects to leave for Salt Lake City in the near future for a two months' vacation, but will return the first of September to begin his school work and also to resume his position on the Editorial Review.

Miss Lella Davis, a former Salt Lake girl, recently left for Pittfield, Mass., where she opens a summer stock engagement. The opening bill was "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray."

Misses Hattie and Josephine Thatcher expect to leave during the week for the west.

Messrs. A. W. McCune and Samuel McHouse have been in town the past week on business and were registered at the Waldorf Astoria.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Lamoreaux and child arrived in New York Tuesday night from Logan. Mr. Lamoreaux has come to enter upon the duties of his third mission, and will labor in the Brooklyn conference. This is not, however, his first visit to the great city, as he recalls very vividly fourteen years ago, when he played at the Broadway theater with De Wolf Hopper, Thos. Q. Seabrook, and Della Fox in "Casualties in the Air." He was a member of the Emma Juch opera company, but had been transferred from that organization for a summer engagement with the De Wolf Hopper aggregation.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Cummings and family leave the coming week to once more reside in their former home in Salt Lake City. Mr. Cummings and family have been living in New York for the past three years and a half, and have made themselves very prominent members of our little colony. Mrs. Cummings has been president of the Relief society since Mrs. Catherine Lane resigned, nearly two years ago. Their boys have been among the brightest students at the De Witt Clinton High school, where Frank has graduated and where David and Nephi have passed creditable examinations. Mr. Cummings has had the assistance of Frank the past year in the Deseret News office in the Park Row building. The removal of the family to Utah will not interfere with Mr. Cummings' plans, as after going as far as St. Louis with them, he will return to take up his work as representative of the "News."

Col. Willard Young returned last night from an extended business trip to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

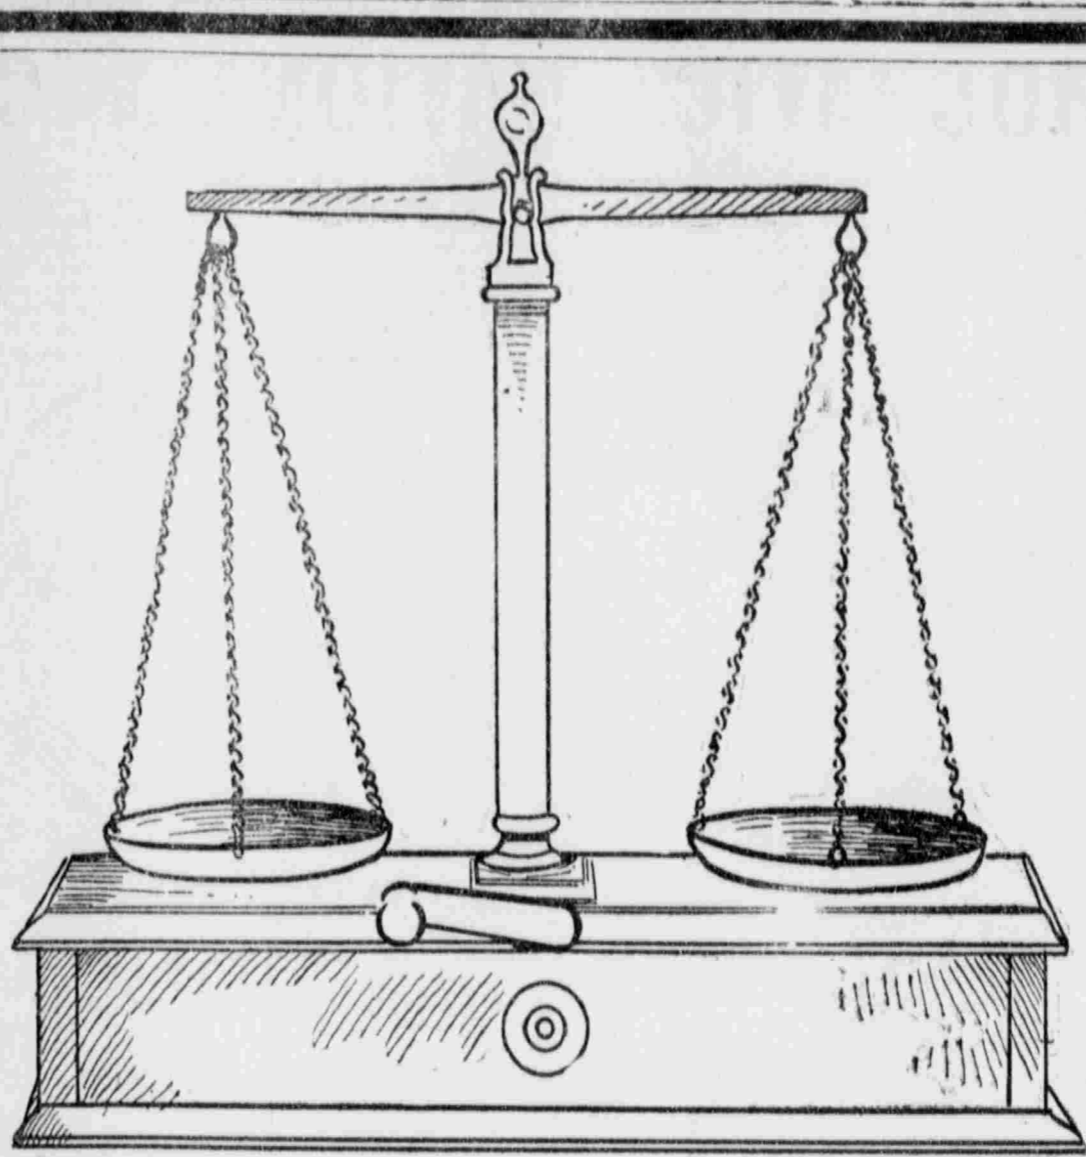

Mr. John A. Groesbeck arrived in New York during the week from Salt Lake City on a business visit, and is stopping with President McQuarrie at 212 West One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street.

President McQuarrie returned to the city Thursday from Boston, where he has been attending conference, but leaves in a few days for Franklin county, west Pennsylvania, to be present at the dedication of the new meetinghouse built by the Saints in that section. The building is of stone, and is 25x40 feet. Special interest is attached to the ceremonies, as it marks the completion of the first meetinghouse ever erected in the Eastern States mission.

Elder Clarence Snow, who has been president of the West Pennsylvania conference for some time, has been released, and is in New York on a short visit with friends, after which he returns to Pennsylvania, to attend the dedication above mentioned, as it was in the district over which he presides that the new church has been built. He expects to leave for Utah about July 1.

Thursday evening the Relief society of the Latter-day Saints gave an entertainment at 27 West One Hundred and Fifteenth street, to decide on the winner of the quilt they have been making the past winter, and on which are sewed the names of nearly all the members of the conference during the past winter and of many friends besides. President McQuarrie held the lucky number, and as a consequence is much elated. An impromptu program was rendered, which was followed by dancing until a late hour.

Mr. Joseph West, who has been here for some weeks, is rapidly getting his affairs in a condition to allow him to soon be thinking of meeting his home people once more. He returned Friday from a ten days' trip to Philadelphia.

LYON & CO.
Sterling Flatware Slaughtered!

WE HAVE about Seventy-five Dozen Sterling Silver Tea, Table and Dessert Spoons and Dessert and Table Forks of the finest patterns, made by Gorham Mfg. Co., Reed & Barton and Wallace Mfg. Co., bought with the Lyon & Co. stock, which we will close out, beginning Monday, June 27th, at 80 CENTS AN OUNCE, actual weight.

No word of argument should be necessary to add force to the importance of this announcement. Most of the patterns that we offer, cost at wholesale at the factory $1.25 an ounce, but they are in broken lots and are designs that do not match up with our regular stock, and to make a big attraction all the week, we will slaughter the entire stock of Flatware at 80 CENTS AN OUNCE.

Sterling Silver Handle Knives to match the forks will be closed out at HALF PRICE, and all bullion and soup spoons, butter spreads and oyster forks will be discounted ONE-THIRD from regular prices.

The Lyon & Co. stock contained many thousand dollars worth of beautiful dishes, candle-sticks, tea and coffee sets, bread trays, comports and other staple and fancy sterling ware which we are selling at ONE-THIRD discount. The stock is large and all of it is new, which gives just as good an opportunity to the shopper next week as was given the first week of the sale.

The Lyon & Co. stock contains everything carried by a first-class jeweler, and it must all be sold quickly, and the discounts we quote, ranging from 25 to 50 per cent, place goods in the hands of the consumer at less than wholesale prices.

We bought the stock for 68 cents on the dollar, and can afford to sell it lower than our competitors can buy it and yet net us a handsome profit.

We will close out ten dozen jars of Reed & Barton's famous "Argentala" Silver polish at 15 cents a jar. [It sells regularly at 35 cents.]

On Tuesday, June 28th, we will sell any piece of goods in our south window for $1.00. The actual values range from $2 to $8, but are odds and ends which must be moved on Tuesday. The line comprises Leather, Silver and Gold goods.

Sale of the Lyon & Co. stock all the time at 236 S. Main.

In the Formative Days of the Beehive State

How the Fourth of July Was Celebrated—Profuse Display of National Colors, and the Evolutions of the Nauvoo Legion—Stroll Through Pioneer Gardens—Notable Ocean Voyage.

(From the Deseret News Files of July, 1857).

"Talk about the loyal celebration of the Fourth in any other place in the Union, as in any way but the smallest degree favorably comparable with its celebration in Utah! True, if drunkenness, fighting and confusion are to be taken as the standard, then indeed is Utah far below the usual characteristics of like celebrations in the civilized states. But if a true love of the Constitution and the wholesome laws of the Union, and deep gratitude for the noble action of our forefathers on the Fourth of '76 are to be the criterion, then most assuredly and indubitably does Utah shine peerless among her sisters."

"The Stars and Stripes and other flags floated gracefully over the governor's mansion, the Council House, the Deseret Store and the stores of Messrs. Livingston, Kinkaid & Co., and Gilbert & Gerrish. The sky was clear and the index of a deep, calm enjoyment rested upon every countenance within our view. The military procession was imposing, and the evolutions of the troops were unusually indicative of decided improvement. The procession was led by the Nauvoo brass band, which stationed itself near the residence of his excellency, the governor, early in the morning. At sunrise a national salute was fired from the arsenal, and then followed the firing of cannon and musketry and the ringing of bells and music by the bands, the Sixth ward band being also out. It was a great day."

"On the afternoon of the Fourth we were highly gratified with a stroll through Elders Hyde and Woodruff's gardens. Elder Hyde has several seedling apples in bearing, and his young apple and peach orchards look very thrifty, but, in accordance with tradition, the trunks of the trees are too long or, in other words, the heads are formed too high for good health, safety and convenience, as they are dry, sunny and windy a climate as ours."

"Over 800 Saints arrived in Boston on the George Washington from Liverpool on the 23rd of April, after a pleasant trip of 23 days, there having been one birth and four deaths on board ship. Elder James P. Park was president of the company and was assisted by Counselors Jesse B. Martin and Charles R. Dana and Secretary Amos M. Musser, who speak of the captain, J. S. Cummings in terms of high commendation. Captain Cummings, in reply to a complimentary note from Pres. Park states: "I am free to acknowledge that on no previous voyage have my passengers conducted themselves so orderly and peaceably as those in your charge; cleanliness, morality, sobriety, reciprocity of favors and general good behavior were pre-eminently conspicuous in their conduct and character."

"Now, will James G. Bennett, Horace Greely, the Richmond Enquirer and other opponents of freedom of conscience please read Capt. Cummings' disinterested testimony, and cease making fools of themselves in writing and publishing lies about the Mormons, or the obstruction catcher of the engine named Truth, and remove them, with all other nuisances, from the track, Salvation."

"Br. Alexander Wright of Mill Creek ward, presented on the 6th inst. a small bundle of well ripened, large headed and plumpkerneled Taos and red chaff bearded wheat."
