AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long-continued series of marvelous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equaled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their painful effects, that is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely defence. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its early use in sudden attacks.

FORTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 25.— The House joint resolution passed, granting tents at the soldiers' reunion, Bell Plain, Iowa.

In the Senate this afternoon, on motion of Miller, who reported it, the House bill to execute certain treaty stipulations relating to Chinese was taken, and the Senate committee amendments up to the last sections—14 and 15—were agreed to as read. Upon the point of one of the amendments, Ingalls remarked that his understanding was that, under the bill, all Chinese laborers who are in the country 90 days after its passage are to be permitted to remain. This was assented to by Miller as correct.

Call criticised some of the phraseology of the bill, and particularly the phrase "aiding and abetting," as applied to persons assisting in the landing of an excluded Chinese laborer. He thought the language obscure and the provision objectionable.

Hawley said the criticisms would apply to the whole bill. It was made the duty of the President, for instance, under certain conditions to catch a yellow boy and deport him. "What is the use of arguing the question at all," he continued, "if we have made up our minds in the middle of the nineteenth century to put this on our statute book let us do it in silence and in mourning."

The amendments having gone through the committee of the whole the bill was reported to the Senate with a call for separate votes on some of the amendments.

Hoar said that though he believed the bill was destined to pass, he wanted to put on record his conviction that the opinions of a large body of intelligent people of the country, of the organs of the great religious denominations, and of the representatives of communities, which owe their prosperity, power and happiness to the dignity they had given to labor, on which they were based, would sooner or later prevail in pressing the policy now contemplated. He believed the Pacific Coast itself would come back very soon to the eloquent utterances of his friend from California, (Miller) a few years ago, when a member of the republican committee of that State, he declared that a blow at men, not because of the color of their skin, would be a cause for deep repentance to the American people. But he rose not to argue the question, but to rebuke the charge that republican members who had resisted the measure had violated party pledges to the people. He denied this, and read a declaration of the point in the last republican platform to sustain his denial. He declared that General Garfield would have put his right hand in the flames, like Cranmer, before he would have subscribed his name to a declaration involving such a blow at the dignity of American labor and humanity as was involved in the passage of this bill, which would be a violation of American policy and a departure from republican doctrine.

Morgan argued that the Chinese laborers, against whose coming the bill provided were, substantially the class aimed at. The prohibition or the importation of coolie labor was [illegible] ed upon servile labor contracts. If what had been alleged concerning these laborers was true, then the importation was an evasion of that statute. He urged the necessity of dealing with the evil now before it had engrafted itself upon the country, as then it would be impossible to eradicate it. These servile laborers were wanted by capitalists in the west and east for the same reason that the south sought to hold its slaves. He denied that popular objection to Chinese was based upon the color of their skin, as represented by Hoar. No objection was made to Mexicans or people of other nationalities on that account. He construed the President's declaration in his recent veto that there are points in this country where Chinese can be profitably employed, as meaning that they are to be employed in competition with the negro. He characterized the President's professions of consideration and friendship for the colored race, in view of this declaration, as arrant hypocrisy, and commented upon what he called a dangerous combination of the treaty making the veto powers through which two President's in succession had thwarted the will of the country. He also enumerated his reasons for a 15 years' suspension of immigration which he favored.

Slater obtained the floor, and pending executive session discussion was suspended until to-morrow. The Senate at 5.20 adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 25.—A resolution adopted for information about the the Paris Monetary Conference; also instructing the judiciary committee to inquire into the validity of the Speaker's removal of Devine, stenographer.

The House by 121 to 99, refused to consider the Chalmer-Lynch contested election case.

Robinson's resolution concerning the imprisonment of Americans abroad, was considered and Robinson addressed the House.

Discussion went on in the usual form, and Cox, of New York, offered the following resolution as a substitute for Robinson's resolution: "That the President of the United States be requested to communicate to this House any additional correspondence with the British government on file in the State Department in reference to the alleged imprisonment of citizens of the United States in Ireland, and that the President be requested to continue his efforts for the prompt release or prompt trial of any citizen who may now remain unjustly imprisoned in Ireland by the government of Great Britain.

The debate continued, and was by Robinson, who withdrew his resolution, and the substitute offered by Cox was adopted without division. Adjourned.

AMERICAN.

Passed.

WASHINGTON, 25. — The Senate to-day passed without amendment the bill introduced by Fair, which provides for the appointment of an additional United States District Judge for Nevada, to perform the duties for which Judge Hillyer has become physically incapable.

The House judiciary committee this morning agreed to report favorably on Cassidy's bill for the retirement of Judge Hillyer on full pay, but will undoubtedly recommend the passage of the Senate bill as a substitute as soon as the latter can be reached on the Speaker's table.

Secretary Teller to-day denied the motion for a rehearing in the case of the Rancho Amydal del Roblo, of California, thus finally disposing of the case.

The Mississippi Bill.

Garland this afternoon withdrew his $15,000,000 amount to the Mississippi River bill, saying the Senate was apparently unanimous for the bill of the committee appropriating $5,000,000 for Missouri and $10,000,000 for the Mississippi.

No American Chinamen.

The Senate, by a vote of 32 to 26, rejected the foreign relations committee's amendment, which proposed to strike out the fourteenth section of the Chinese bill. This section prohibits Chinese naturalization.

Appointment.

Among the nominations is that of John D. Montgomery for Surveyor of Customs, Denver, Col.

Indian Skirmish.

General Sheridan forwards Adjutant-General Drum, Col. Forsyth's account of his encounter with the Indians in New Mexico:

Dry Camp, on road between Lordsburg and Richmond,
April 20th.

General Mackenzie, Fort Craig:

Started for Richmond this morning at daylight. Ordered Lieut. McDonald with six Indian scouts to scout the country, and proceeded across Gilans. When about two-thirds across, one of the Indians announced to me that four of the scouts were killed by a large number of Chirahuahuas and that Lieut. McDonald and the other two were defending themselves against them. I galloped for 16 miles to them and found the Indians strongly entrenched in Stein Peak's range. Attacked them at once and drove them from the entrenched position. They fell back and occupied two impregnable positions which were from six to 18 feet high. Found it impossible to dislodge them without great loss. I gave up further operations at 5 o'clock and started again for Richmond. My loss was four Indian scouts and one private of troop C killed, one sergeant and four privates wounded. I know for a certainty that two of the enemy were killed and a number wounded. Captured and killed 13 head of their stock. Have just met Mr. Fenton on the main road between Lordsburg and Richmond, who will take this dispatch to Lordsburg. Am compelled to go to Gila River at Richmond for water for animals. Will take up the trial and try to get these Indians in the open country, of which I hope to give you more favorable reports. The number of Indians I fought to-day was between 80 and 100. It was impossible to do more under the circumstances. The canyon was the worst I ever saw.

(Signed) FORSYTH.

Contested Cases.

In the election cases in the House to-day, every man elected as a greenbacker or independent voted with a majority of the republicans, and it may be conceded that the elections committee will be generally sustained by a majority of ten or twelve.

Workingmen's Protest.

Representative Washburn, of Minnesota, presented in the House a petition signed by workingmen, protesting against the importation of Chinese, which they declare to be a curse in every sense of the word.

Mint Investigation.

NEW ORLEANS, 25.—In the investigation of charges against Davis, Superintendent of the Mint, a former assistant coiner named Butler that as assistant coiner with Davis, he had received from the Parker House broker 230 trade dollars for which Davis gave him a like amount of standard dollars; that the trade dollars were passed through rollers by Butler to deface them, and then sent to the melter and refiner and afterwards received back in ingots and coined into standard dollars.

Civil Pensions.

NEW YORK, 25.—A Washington special says: The commerce committee to-day agreed to report favorably the bill to retire Edward A. Hillyer, a district judge of the District of Nevada, with full pay during his natural life. He is afflicted with softening of the brain. More than local interest attaches to this bill, as in providing for the payment of a full salary during his natural life, it takes a step in the direction of a civil pension list, which has always met with sturdy opposition from Congress and the people of the country.

FOREIGN.

Skirmishing.

CETTINGE, 25.—Sixty Crevostans from Macijas, Plantina, attacked 100 Austrians obtaining water between Frevecavo and Ckrvice, killing several of them. The insurgents fled at the approach of Austrian reinforcements.

Railroad Sale.

QUEBEC, 25. — The Legislative Council by a vote of 11 to 9 passed the bill ratifying the sale of the section of the Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa & Occidental railroad to the Pacific Railway syndicate.

Lively Business.

ODESSA, 25.—The pioneer Jews are said to be marrying at the rate of 150 couples per day. They imagine if they are married, land will be given them free in America or Palestine.

I WISH the 50,000,000 of American people to understand that the EDMUNDS bill is not good for payment at the Art Bazar, but almost any other negotiable bill will be taken for pay for any of the different specialties for which the Art Bazar has become famous, to wit:

For gold medal portraits and views,
" the unrivalled assortment of Picture Frames.
" any of the collection of cheap books.
" the cheapest stationery in Utah.
" the thousand and one novelties that are on sale. Always as cheap as the cheapest and sometimes cheaper.

If you want a genuine fit of astonishment as to what a dollar will buy, visit the Art Bazar and see for yourself.

Yours respectfully,
C. R. SAVAGE.
