

Bishop Edwin D. Woolley was a good and useful man. It is doubtful if one more industrious could be found anywhere. His life was one almost continuous scene of endeavor. He was exceedingly outspoken, uttering his sentiments sometimes without much regard to consequences. He was what might be termed a plain, honest man, whose integrity to the cause of the kingdom of God was beyond question. Under his unusual frankness of manner he carried a kind and manly heart, and he goes to the beyond with an excellent record. He was a man who heartily disliked every species of sham, and was greatly esteemed and respected in the community.

Bishop Woolley was short of stature, squarely built, and had a good-sized head, the forehead being full and broad.

The family have the sympathy of the community in the departure of their worthy head, but they have the consolation of knowing that he fell like the mellow fruit from the tree, fully ripe, both in years and good works.

The funeral services will be conducted at the 13th Ward Assembly Rooms, where often his voice has been heard when he was in the vigor of life. They will begin at 10 a. m. on Sunday morning. The family extend an invitation to all friends to be present on the occasion.

MISSIONARIES.

In consequence of some of the Elders called at the late Conference as missionaries to the Sandwich Islands and New Zealand not being situated to start to their fields of labor as early as Monday, October 17th, as per previous notice published, it has been deemed expedient to postpone the time of departure from Salt Lake City for all those Elders until Monday, November 14th, at 4.40 p. m., so that they can sail from San Francisco on Saturday the 19th.

JOSEPH F. SMITH,
F. D. RICHARDS.

The Horse Malady.—The "pink-eye" disease among horses does not appear to be spreading quite so rapidly the last few days. The cases at the stables of Messrs. Mulloy and Paul are all doing nicely. Dr. Nunn had some time back as many as 27 equine patients at that establishment. No case has proved fatal there. So we were informed on the premises to-day.

Coming Home.—Elder Lyman R. Martineau, who has been in Great Britain on a mission for nearly two years and a half, and has had charge under President Carrington, of the business department of the Liverpool office for about a year, will return home this fall. He is son of Bro. J. H. Martineau, surveyor, of Logan.

New House.—The Eighteenth Ward new meeting-house, situated on the commanding eminence on the Bench land east of City Creek, is nearing completion. The interior will be ready for the plasterers within a week. It will have a vestibule and gallery at the east end, opposite the stand. When finished, it will be one of the snug, est, neatest and handsomest public buildings of its size in Utah. Its seating capacity will be 300.

Increasing Emigration.—The Church emigration from Europe increases in place of diminishing. The number of persons who left Liverpool with the four companies of this year reaches 1,854, with one more company to come, which will leave England on the 22d inst. The first four companies of last year only aggregated 1,481, making a difference, thus far in the season, in favor of this year, of 373. Thus the good work goes on.

Primary Fair.—This is the day on which the Utah Stake Primary Fair was to open. Doubtless there will be a fine display of the evidences of juvenile skill exhibited. We are greatly in favor of these fairs for the young folks. They give a strong stimulus to genius in the bud, and will very likely cause it, in some cases to blossom into the fullness of beauty, producing in the community men such as Watt, Stephenson, Wilkie and others. Men who have attained to the higher walks of ability have sometimes received their first impetus from much smaller circumstances than those to which one of our primary fairs give rise. Children's fairs should be encouraged.

Railroad References.—The business of the Utah Central Railroad this season is heavier than at any time since it was built. The transient passenger traffic commenced earlier than usual, and has been unprecedentedly lively. The passenger business of the last two weeks has never been exceeded for the same length of time previously.

Lately a special freight has been running between this city and points south, exclusively for carrying iron for the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad, and ties and other materials for the Salt Lake and Western. An extra freight has also been running between here and Ogden. The quantities of potatoes being shipped north and east, from here, are enormous.

The Work in England.—Elder John Cooper, President of the London Conference, wrote to the Milennial Star under date of Sept. 21st. We extract the following:

"Brothers Jennings and Stevens are traveling in this district and are doing well. I have also been through the Kent district, which is likewise in good condition. Elders Ormsby and Snow are traveling through this district, are feeling well and doing a good work. Elder Moroni F. Brown reports the Essex district in good condition, and considerable enquiry is being made. Elder John Q. Cannon has gone to travel with him. Elders C. F. Wilcox and H. W. Brown are traveling in the Wilks and Berks district, and report all things favorable and a good spirit prevailing. Elders Stringfellow and Remney have been traveling in the Brighton district till Bro. Romney's removal to the Nottingham Conference, and report the same in good condition. Elder H. W. Apperley is traveling in the Bedford district, and has been prospered in his labors in the same. London is divided into three districts, and is traveled by Elders Griggs, Bently and Tucker. They are holding out-door meetings in three different places in London, in connection with the three different places in London, in connection with the three different branches, and have been quite successful. They have succeeded in baptizing 25 in London in the last month; these, with 25 in the other districts, make a total increase in the conference in the last month of 50 members. We have also in connection with the London district a traveling local Priesthood, consisting of two local Elders from each of the London branches, and one traveling Elder, to preach in the different parks, who have been quite successful."

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, OCT. 17.

Postmasters Appointed.—The following postmasters have been appointed: Mrs. P. Sterritt, Pleasant Grove, Utah County, Utah; I. C. Putnam, Woodruff, Rich County, Utah; Elmer Rupert, Contention, Cochise County, Arizona.

The New Asylum.—A force of men are at work grading for the foundation of the new Asylum for the Insane, at Provo. The site comprises forty acres of land, at the mountains east of the town, and is within the corporate limits. A new road is to be constructed across the fields intervening between the asylum site and the built up portion of Provo.

The Junction.—The locality where the Salt Lake and Western Railroad joins the Utah Central, a short distance north of Lehi, presents a busy scene. A large force of men are at work grading for a station, and doubtless, in course of time, Lehi will extend her borders northward to that point, and thus grow in size and comparative importance.

Joseph and Hyrum.—We have been shown by Bro. Junius F. Wells, specimens of steel engraved portraits of the Prophet Joseph Smith and Patriarch Hyrum Smith. Every subscriber to the Contributor will get the smaller-sized pictures, as they will be bound in as frontispieces to numbers of that excellent magazine. The larger ones are designed for framing, being 12 x 16 inches. The engravings are very fine, being in the highest style of art. We are unable to say whether the likenesses are good, not being in a position to judge. The larger pictures are $1.50 a pair.

Wants to Know.—Andrew Henry, of Fillmore, Millard County, Utah, desires that we should insert the following:

If this should meet the eye of John S. Henry, will he be kind enough to inform me what were the names of his parents, or if they emigrated from County Sligo, Ireland, to Quebec, in the year 1830. My father's family emigrated at that time.

Y. M. M. I. A.—The Superintendents of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement Associations of Salt Lake Stake are anxious that the various Associations should resume their weekly meetings as soon as possible, in accordance with the request of the General Superintendency. It is also desirable that the few associations which have not done so in the past, should elect their officers for the ensuing year at the first meeting held after the October Conference. Such changes as occur in the officers and also the time of holding meetings should be reported immediately to Joseph H. Felt, Z. C. M. I., Salt Lake City.

Curtailing Mail Facilities.—The Postmaster General seems very much in earnest about the establishment of an economic policy in the running of the United States mails. The reaction in this direction, caused by the Star route developments, is likely to be too strong. While it is commendable to render the postal service as far as practicable self-sustaining, it should not be done at the expense of the people's convenience. We observe that a number of post-offices, in the south west particularly, are being abolished, and it is probable that other changes of this character will follow. Some of the new settlements in Arizona have been placed at considerable disadvantage from a suspension of postal routes, especially a number of those towns that are situated on the Little Colorado. It is a pity that the settlers should be deprived of postal privileges on account of the alleged defalcations of officials and contractors. The people should protest against any permanent curtailment of their mail facilities, which are of special importance to people living in semi-isolated localities.

Mrs. Ferguson Heard From.—By courtesy of Mrs. E. B. Wells we learn something of the movements of Mrs. Ellen B. Ferguson. As soon as Mrs. I.abella Beecher Hooker learned that she was in the east she sent her an invitation to visit her at her home in Hartford, Conn. At that place she was invited by the Rev. Mr. Kimball, of Unity Church, to take part, in connection with Mrs. Hooker, in the Garfield memorial services, on September 26th, which she did, speaking twenty minutes, alluding, in the course of her remarks, to incidents of the late President's visit to Utah.

At the residence of Mrs. Hooker, Mrs. Ferguson met with a number of notable people, among whom was Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, author of Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Mrs. Ferguson has been invited to the Woman's Congress, to be held shortly at New York, where she will read a paper entitled, "Can Woman Organize," in which she will give a description of the Relief Societies and Young Ladies' Improvement Associations in Utah. It is probable that Mrs. Zina D. Young will also attend the Congress at Buffalo.

Terrible Accident.—We are indebted to Mr. Alexander Fortie, for particulars, by mail, of a fatal accident that occurred near Heber City, Wasatch County, on Saturday evening, October 8th, by which a young man named Samuel Ogden lost his life within a few hours. He had been working for McMullen & Co., at their saw mill, in Daniel's Creek Canyon. The hands at the mill left about 4 o'clock, being Saturday afternoon, and he was left in charge of the mill. It appears by the evidence that he was alone at the time, but when last seen, previous to the accident, he was cleaning a gun, and must have loaded it heavily. In the act of firing it off it burst, knocking out one eye, and cutting his cheek and nose, and otherwise dreadfully injuring his face. He was conveyed to Heber City, and surgical aid procured, but he died at half-past one on Sunday morning.

He was a young man well respected, had no relations living there, and although he had been working between two and three months at the saw mill, no clue could be obtained that showed where his relatives lived, excepting the testimony of a person who stated that he heard him say his father lived south, he believed it was Spanish Fork.

An inquest was held on Sunday, October 9th, at the Court House, Heber City, before Henry Clegg, J. P., when the following verdict was rendered: "That Samuel Ogden came to his death by the accidental blowing out of the breech pin of a gun, held in his own hands."

Murder Case.—This morning, in the Third District Court, the trial of David Jenkins for the murder of John Borlace, at Sandy, last winter, was commenced. The case is proceeding rapidly, with a fair prospect of the evidence for the prosecution being all in to-day. C. J. Smith, a druggist, of Sandy, was the first witness called. The leading features of his evidence were that he sold the defendant the pistol with which he shot Borlace some weeks previous to the shooting. Jenkins had hid in his store to avoid having a fuss with Borlace. The latter was taken to his store after he was shot, and from thence on the train to Salt Lake City. He found in the pocket of Borlace, after he was shot, an open jack-knife.

Andrew Poulsen testified to hearing a conversation between a man named Irwin and Borlace, when the latter said he could lick the best man in Sandy. He saw the defendant's father come toward Borlace, the latter calling him a son of a b—h. David Jenkins, who was there, said he would not allow his father to be called by such an epithet. Borlace said that was what he wanted, and struck at defendant. The deceased was seized by an officer, but broke away and escaped.

B. W. Driggs, was standing on the railroad platform at Sandy, when he heard three shots fired and heard Borlace scream after each shot. He also saw him running in a stooping position.

This afternoon Mr. John Acomb, conductor on the U. C. R. R., was placed on the stand, his testimony being similar to that of Mr. Driggs. He conveyed Borlace to Salt Lake on the train, after he was shot.

The Massachusetts Ploughman considers that the best time to trim grape vines is in the autumn after the leaves fall.

The Louisville Post, commenting on Talmage's "old hag of hell" sermon, says, "Dr. Talmage is either ignorant of Mormon sentiment in this particular or he is knowingly malicious."

Over 2,000,000 sheep were sheared in Michigan this year, the clip amounting, by official report, to 10,974,163 pounds, averaging nearly five and a half pounds per head for everything shorn.

One of the Boston theatres is to have a stage which will be a great improvement on the old style. It is to be made in sections on rollers, so that while the scene is before the audience another is being arranged out of sight, thus doing away with tedious intermissions between acts, and making it possible to show a greater amount of elaborate scenery than can be done by the ordinary method. The elevator stage at the Madison Square Theatre, New York, accomplishes the same result, but a deep excavation and tall tower are required to operate it.

The German Government takes hold of the telegraph wire nuisance, and puts it out of sight. Many large cities are rendered hideous by the network of wires and forests of poles for telegraphic and telephonic communication. In Germany the wires are being laid under ground. More than two hundred cities and towns of the Empire are now connected in this way, and the operation of the wires is, we are told, a complete success. The experiment is of very great practical interest and value to our own country, where the question, particularly in the large cities, has been agitated for many years.

The obligations of an agent to his principal have recently been set forth judicially. In the case of Glover vs. Ames tried in the United States Circuit Court at Portland, Maine, Judge Fox, in delivering the opinion said: "An agent has duties to discharge to his principal which involve the exercise of a trust, and it is the universal rule that one in a trust position shall not be permitted to make any engagement in which he can possibly have any personal interest which may conflict with the interests of his principal. Whether such a contract is fair or not, will not be considered; the courts will give it no effect."
