

Special Business Notices.

The Utah Central and Utah Northern Railroad Companies will run a cheap excursion train to Cache Valley Aug. 8, returning to Salt Lake City Aug. 11. Fare for round trip $2.50. Tickets for sale at U. C. R. R. Depot, Deseret National Bank and 20th Ward Stores.

For further particulars see posters.

JOHN SHARP, Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

Gen. Supt.

EVENING NEWS.

Saturday, July 29, 1876.

PRICE OF GOLD.

Corrected daily by Deseret National Bank.

Bar. Late Curr. July 29, 1876.

Buying at $1.00; selling at $1.10.

Local and Other Matters.

Thermometer 90 degrees F. in the shade at 1 p.m. today. Some clouds.

Hot.—This has been one of our hottest days, the mercury running up to 95 in the shade.

Meetings.—Religious services at the Tabernacle to-morrow afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock, and at the various ward meeting-houses in the evening.

Sixteenth Ward.—We are requested to state that Elder W. H. H. Sharp will preach at the 16th Ward School-rooms, on Sunday evening, commencing at half-past 6 o'clock.

Eighteenth Ward.—Elder Thos. V. Williams is expected to preach in the 18th Ward, President Young's School-house, to-morrow evening. Services commence at half-past six o'clock.

Lecture.—We are requested to announce that Mrs. A. J. Duniway, of Portland, Oregon, editor of the New North West, will lecture on Sunday evening next, at the M. E. church, at 8 o'clock.

Drill.—We are requested by the Chief Engineer, C. M. Donelson, to state that there will be a fire brigade drill on Monday evening, and all officers and members of the organization are expected to turn out, and be at the City Hall at half-past six o'clock.

One of Them.—Kelley, one of the convicts who broke from the Penitentiary with C. L. Williamson, is on his way here, in custody of an officer. Kelley is a horse thief, and, at the time of his escape, was serving a two years term, to which he was convicted for grand larceny.

Those Skeletons.—Shall there be a few anatomical specimens found in the 15th Ward and the "Danites" have not left them there? Shall any surgeon have a skeleton in his study, and the "Danites" have not furnished it to him? Shall there be a skeleton in the closet" of every family, and the "Danites" have not put it there?

Want to Hear From Him.—The parents of Samuel Spencer, who emigrated from Mansfield, England, in Sept., 1874, crossing the Atlantic in the steamship Wyoming, are anxious that he should communicate with them; or they will be thankful to any person who will enlighten them as to his whereabouts.

Address, Henry Spencer, 20 Bancroft Lane, Mansfield, Nottinghamshire, England.

Trustees Elected.—Last evening, at a meeting of the tax-payers of the 20th School District, held at the School-house, B. H. Schettler, Henry Pusey and Charles Sansom were elected a board of Trustees for the ensuing term of two years, commencing August 1st. The first two gentlemen named are also members of the board whose term of office is about to expire.

A financial exhibit for the past two years was presented by the retiring board, and received and adopted by the meeting.

Theatre.—Last evening the company played the "Irish Emigrant," and "Nobbs will Turn Him Out," and Mr. C. Vivian sang some of his amusing songs and gave some of his clever character sketches.

This evening the programme is "Caste," in which Mr. Vivian will appear as "Captain Hattree," supported by the company. Miss Imogene Holbrook will recite a "Gentleman's Poem." Mr. Vivian will appear in a series of his popular sketches and songs. The performance to conclude with the farce of "Betsey Baker," in which Mr. Graham will assume the character of Marmaduke Mouser. Mr. Harry J. Lusk, a gentleman of ability, will preside at the piano-forte.

Fraternals.—This morning we were called upon by Mrs. Duniway, editor of the New Northwest, published at Portland, Oregon, a very neat and well got up paper. It is a kind of family institution, so far as the conducting, management and entire labor is concerned, the lady named not only supplying the editorial columns with excellent articles, but also taking care of the financial concerns, while her four intelligent sons set the type and attend to the other mechanical work.

Mrs. Duniway was here about four years ago, when she delivered a very able lecture. She is now on her way to Philadelphia, having been selected as a delegate to represent the North-West, including the State of Oregon and Washington Territory, at a Convention of the National Woman Suffrage Association, to be held at Philadelphia.

How to Keep Cool.—In mid-summer when old Sol gets high up in his power, and the mercury in the thermometer gets so high up among the minuses, in its desperate attempts to reach the centennial (100 deg.) people tell you to drink ice water, to go into the country, to the cañons, to Soda Springs, and to—

Now the whole matter lies in a nutshell—just place your wrists in a basin of cold water, or, if you are walking, in one of those purring streams that you will find on almost any street, for one minute, and the blood which must pass through the veins of the wrist will be cooled throughout your whole system, and you will experience no evil results from it either. A cool bath for the feet, just before retiring at night, will often ensure a good night's rest, so will a hot bath for the head. When we see some staid party putting along and sweating in the summer sun we think of these things, and of what folly it is to pour a pint of ice water down into the stomach, where it cools but for a moment, at the expense of floods of perspiration.

Convention.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon a Convention for Salt Lake County was held at the City Hall for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at the election on the first Monday in August, 1876.

Hon. D. H. Wells was elected chairman and A. M. Musser, Esq., Secretary.

Thirty-eight delegates, representing the various precincts of the County, were present.

The following delegates were appointed a committee on nomination, by the chair—Alex. McKean, George Romney, Alex. Hill, Samuel Bateman and Isaac Brockbank, who, after retiring for some time, reported as follows:

Commissioners to Locate University Lands—John Van Cott, L. S. Hill, John Rowberry.

Representatives—John Taylor, P. A. Rockwood, Archibald Gardner, Orson Pratt, Albert Carrington, James Sharp.

Probate Judge—Elias Smith, County Treasurer—E. W. East, Sheriff—Theodore McKean.

Recorder—A. M. Cannon, Surveyor—C. W. Hardy.

Selectman—E. M. Weller, Coroner—George J. Taylor.

Supt. Schools—M. H. Hardy, Prosecuting Attorney—Zerubbale Snow.

The names reported by the committee were presented singly to the Convention, and unanimously sustained.

The following nominations made in the various precincts were confirmed by the Convention:

SALT LAKE CITY.

First Precinct, Justice of the Peace, Adam Spiers; Constable, James Mallin.

Second Precinct, Justice of the Peace, George Crisman; Constable, R. T. Burton, Jr.

Third Precinct, Justice of the Peace, A. H. Raleigh; Constable, A. Solomon.

Fourth Precinct, Justice of the Peace, W. L. Allen; Constable, B. Y. Hampton.

Fifth Precinct, Justice of the Peace, A. C. Pyper; Constable, C. H. Crow.

Sugar House, Justice of the Peace, Jacob Gibson; Constable, James H. Miller.

Mill Creek, Justice of the Peace, J. F. Snedeker; Constable, E. F. M. Gue.

Big Cottonwood, Justice of the Peace, B. B. Bitter.

South Cottonwood, Justice of the Peace, Silas Richards; Constable, James Mallin.

Draper, Justice of the Peace, Joshua Terry; Constable, John Fitzgerald.

West Jordan—J. P. Benjamin, L. Cutler; Constable, Samuel Bateman.

Scotch Jordan—J. P. John W. Winward; Constable, H. Beckstead.

North Jordan—J. P. John Benard; Constable, H. Harker.

Fort Herriman—Constable, Geo. Miller.

Brighton—Constable, Nathan Hanson.

Bingham—Not represented.

Little Cottonwood—Not represented.

Granite—J. P. Solomon J. Despain; Constable, John Vose.

Silver City—Not represented.

Sandy—J. P. Isaac Harrison.

Pleasant Green—J. P. Fred. Keeler; Constable, —Chenault.

By the vote of the committee the Central Committee were sustained as a standing Central Committee, who are as follows:

John Sharp, Pres.; D. O. Calder, Vice-Pres.; Theo. McKean, Sec.; A. M. Cannon, Corresponding Sec.; A. M. Cannon, George Crisman, J. F. Sheets, J. M. Benedict, John T. Caine, F. Little, J. R. Winder, J. P. Freeze.

During the proceedings the Convention was addressed by Judge Z. Snow, an unanimous vote of thanks was given to the Chairman, and the Convention adjourned.

LIFE OF BRIGHAM YOUNG, OR, UTAH AND HER FOUNDERS.

Extracts from Mr. E. W. Tullidge's New Work.

CHAPTER I.

It was thought that when Joseph Smith was killed the Mormon work would die out. Not much was expected. Helped much to bring about the tragedy of his end. And so, according to ordinary probabilities, it would have died out, or been crushed out, and the Mormon Church scattered to the four winds, and no man arisen fully the equal of Joseph Smith; but, in fact, he was in type, but his other half, the fulfiller of the prophet. It is evident that the man required to execute such a mission and who the Mormon prophet had laid down, was one having the real empire of the world, and that, too, of an extraordinary cast. It was to be a remarkable that, on the martyrdom of the Prophet, his chief apostle should take the leadership of the church, but that he should have been equal to the task of holding the community together, conducting them through their exodus to the Rocky Mountains, consolidating the impetuous forces and agencies that his predecessor had thrown into the work, building up a powerful territory of the United States, and founding two hundred and fifty cities, and preserving his people through a strange and eventful journey, is quite in keeping with the idea of a Western Mohammed in the nineteenth century.

CHAPTER II.

THE NORMAN EXODUS. BRIGHAM AS THE MODERN MOSES.

The period of his life that seems the most important, in which he introduced Brigham Young in action to the reader, is when he succeeded the Mormon prophet and led his people to the famous exodus from Nauvoo. Here we have him at once in the character of the modern Moses. It is no fanciful conceit of the author to thus style him to-day, after he and his people have built up a State fabric, with three hundred cities and settlements, networked with railroads and telegraph lines; for at that very period his name rang throughout America, and reverberated in Europe, as the Moses of the latter days, and the Mormons were likened to the children of Israel in the wilderness.

Finding before his death that the issue was cast, he had to lead his people could no longer remain in the land of the "Gentile," the Prophet planned the removal of the Mormons to the Pacific slope, but, closing his career in martyrdom, the execution of the design fell upon Brigham Young.

Towards the close of the year 1845, the leaders, in council, resolved to remove at once and seek a second Zion in the valleys of the Rocky Mountains. It was too clear that they could no longer dwell among so-called civilized men. They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each a peremptory demand that they be allowed to settle in the territory of the United States.

They knew that they must soon seek refuge in the forest of the west, and as for humanity, they must seek it in the breasts of savages, for there was scarcely a smile to be meted out to them.

This was exactly the case apparent from the fact that before the Mormons undertook their exodus, they appealed, but in vain, not only to the President of the United States, but to the Governors of the States, but to the Governors of the States, excepting Missouri and Illinois, addressing to each