LONDON, 23. — A special from Ibrail, dated June 22nd, says, all is ready for the passage of the Danube. The bridge from Ibrail to the Turkish shore has been finished for some hours. To-day the troops began to pass before Galatz without meeting a single Turk.

All day yesterday, the infantry, forty at a load, were being ferried over from Galatz to Patch, the hard ground opposite, whence, by a winding path, it is said, the hill country is attainable. If this be so, the crossing here seems to indicate the turning movement against Matchin. About 40,000 troops are now in Ibrail and Galatz.

A force of Russians have crossed the Danube on a pontoon bridge at Galatz.

Intelligence received at Constantinople to-day announces that Mukhtar Pasha has been engaged since Thursday with the Russian army at Tatkhdja, between Khorason and Delibaba. The battle was proceeding all day yesterday. The result is unknown.

The Porte's reply to Lord Derby's note, in reference to the Suez Canal, was dispatched on the 21st inst. It is understood that the Porte accepts the principal of the free navigation of the canal by neutrals, but reserves the right of fighting an enemy's vessel.

A telegram from Ibrail announces that 6,000 Russians crossed the Danube from Galatz yesterday, and took the heights behind Seivezila, near Matchin. The Turks have abandoned Matchin. A sufficient number of Russians have crossed to establish themselves solidly. They are not entrenched.

The Russians on landing on the Turkish bank of the Danube, penetrated directly into the interior behind the hills, gaining possession of the heights commanding Matchin, after an obstinate fight with a body of Bashi bazouks. The engagement lasted from day break until noon. The capture of Matchin is imminent.

ST. JOHNS, N. B., 23. — While the fire was raging, John E. Turnbull, and his son James, attempted to rescue a partly insane lady from the flames. She struggled and held back until their clothes catching fire forced them to drop her. She was burned to death.

A drunken man, who was left in the gutter at Prince William Street, perished. The remains of two persons, burned beyond recognition, are in the dead house.

In Smith Street, at an early stage of the fire, a woman's horror-stricken face appeared at the upper window with a child in her arms. A wave of flames swept past the window and the mother and child were seen no more.

It is very difficult to obtain the facts, as it is hard to find even a well-known citizen who formerly resided in the burnt district.

Orange Terrace, from which the fire was kept with great difficulty, was made the object of an attempt at incendiarism in an unoccupied house. The fire evidently set, was discovered.

Robbing was carried on by many rascals in the boldest, most unblushing manner, while others pursued their rascally work under pretence of aiding to save goods. Some went around, both with and without teams, and grabbed up everything they fancied, boldly marching off with the spoils, if not prevented. Others were seen emptying pockets, pilfering from drawers and trunks, while appearing to be working earnestly to save the goods, but no arrests were made.

Telegrams have been received from the corporations of the principal cities of the United States and Dominion, conveying power to draw at sight sums amounting to $120,000, and expressing deep sympathy.

A man-of-war will be here in the morning from Halifax. The artillery and infantry are called out to protect the stores and goods. Liquor dealers are requested to close their shops. The people are camping out on vacant lots. Many are leaving the city.

TORONTO, 23. — Committees and collectors are at work raising money and provisions for the St. Johns sufferers. One thousand blankets and a lot of women's and children's clothing were sent over last night.

OTTAWA, Ont., 23. — Government has placed $20,000 to the credit of the relief committee of St. Johns. Military stores, tents, &c., have also been sent from Montreal, Halifax, and Quebec.

A company of soldiers has arrived

ed from Halifax to aid the civil authorities in maintaining order. All is quiet.

The body of Captain Firth, a well known citizen, was found in the ruins, also another body, identified as that of James Thomas. Several persons are still missing.

The banks are re-opening, and business establishments are open in new localities, and in some instances rebuilding has commenced.

A company of local volunteers was employed in blowing up the ruins to remove the dangerous walls. Three men were badly injured by the premature explosion of a blast; one of them will not recover. Several new fires were started, to-day, all supposed to be the work of incendiaries. Five men, accused of incendiarism, are in custody. One, who was caught in the act, narrowly escaped being hung to a lamp post.

Local and Other Matters.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, JUNE 25.

Out for an Outing.—The Sunday school children of the 6th Ward have been up at Lindsey's Gardens to-day, having a jolly time. They were attended by Superintendent Goss and assistants.

"You Mormons."—A gentleman writing from New York says—

"All is quiet here about you 'Mormons,' notwithstanding the New York Herald's reports about you."

Postal Matters.—The post office at Promontory, Box Elder County, has been discontinued.

Wm. C. McGregor has been appointed postmaster at Parowan, Iron County.

Why Not?—The public are invited to purchase and don the Granger hat, the Custer hat, the Centennial necktie, etc. How would it do to have the Stillson suspender buckle?

The First Company.—The first company of this season's emigration from Europe, which left Liverpool on the 13th inst., has arrived at New York, and started west therefrom to-day. Elders D. K. Udall, A. Galloway and William Stokes, returning missionaries, are in charge of the company.

Narrow Escape.—This afternoon a little boy, named Frank Shepherd, got entangled among the feet of a team, coming up East Temple Street. The animals passed over without striking him, and he darted from under the wagon, escaping unhurt.

Luxurious Traveling.—The Chicago and Northwestern Railway has been fitted up with "Pullman Palatial hotel cars," giving travelers an opportunity of traveling in easy and luxurious style, between Chicago and Council Bluffs. The line is altogether well appointed and furnished, and in fine running condition.

Cover Your Wells.—The necessity of having a covering over wells was exemplified the other day, in the Sixteenth Ward, when a lady, hearing a gurgling sound, went out and saw the heels of her little daughter projecting up over the edge of the excavation, her head and part of her body being under water. Of course she soon pulled the little one out.

Change.—Yesterday Brother Joseph C. Kingsbury was appointed Superintendent of the 12th Ward Sabbath School, Brother A. C. Pyper having resigned, on account of having been recently selected for Bishop of the Ward.

Brothers John G. Midgley and John R. Winder, jr., were appointed assistants to Superintendent Kingsbury.

Frost in June.—Frost last night nipped Bishop Sanford Bingham's wheat and potatoes at Riverdale, three miles south of Ogden City, and their recovery from its effects is quite doubtful. The change in the weather was as severe as it was sudden. Ogden had a heavy thunderstorm with copious showers of rain on Friday evening, and therefore the effects of the weather change are more marked in that vicinity.

Bloated Cows.—We have heard of several cases of cows dying, during the past few weeks, from becoming bloated from eating green sweet clover, lucerne, &c. Over a year ago we published an item from a Summit County correspondent, who stated that a mixture of carbonate of soda—say a tablespoonful—in a pint or so of butter-milk given to animals in that condition, by putting it in a bottle and drenching them, pouring it down their throat, is an effectual and speedy cure.

Tramps.—Tramps, principally from California, are multiplying greatly in this City. Four of them were before Justice Pyper to-day, on charges of vagrancy, and were afforded lodging and board each for the next twenty days, giving their labor as an equivalent therefor.

We are reliably informed that there are from ten thousand to twelve thousand unemployed men in San Francisco, who have the alternative of stealing or starving. Many of them are making their way from that to various parts of the country, Salt Lake coming in for her share.

Business Ingenuity.—The average American business man has a fruitful imagination, and has some share of inventive genius, which is employed in manufacturing stratagems to catch the passing customer. An enterprising lard maker east, knowing this to be a fruit-producing region, is putting up that article for this market in fruit cans.

Another genius in the baking powder line, puts his wares in cans, the lid portions of which are flour scoops and the main part of the boxes are pint, quart, or half gallon measures, according to the quantity of the powder purchased.

"Come, Boys."—The other evening, after work hours, Bishop Richard Brimley, of the Fifth Ward, said, to a number of the male members of his Ward, "Come, boys, let us get some rock together and prepare to build a school-house."

"Come, boys," has a good deal more potency about it than "Go, boys," and the "boys" went to work with a will, and soon three cords of rock were on the ground, as a starter. Of course there are always and everywhere a few "We can't's," whose labor chiefly consists in looking on, but there are enough "We will's" in the Fifth Ward to soon produce a good school-house there.

New Geography.—A. S. Barnes & Co., publishers, have issued a Utah edition of Monteith's Geography. A glance over its pages impresses us with a most favorable view of this work. It is free from all redundancy, being the essence of geographical information. In fact, it would be difficult to conceive of anything more terse, yet comprehensive. The maps and illustrative engravings are very fine.

The map of Utah was compiled by Mr. George J. Taylor, from the best and most authentic existing authorities, and a couple of illustrative engravings are from sketches from his facile pen. He has also collated a large amount of information relative to the Territory, its rivers, productions, wild game, history, mountains, &c., and gives a list of elevations by Henry Garrett, M. E., for Department of the Interior, Washington, 1875.

Besides the edition just issued, an elementary one is about to be published, which will also incorporate the information upon Utah. It is understood that the publishing house named intend those two editions to supersede the several others heretofore used.

Narrow Escape.—Last evening, as the Utah Central train was leaving Ogden for Salt Lake, one of those cloth-peddlers who are playing spider to numerous silly green flies in country places, came near being "taken in and done for" himself by the moving car-wheels.

He had been introducing to his interior that kind of a thief which steals away the brain, and attempted to board the train while it was in motion. He and a man who endeavored to assist him rolled to the ground, and if it had not been for the efforts of the Ogden runner of the Walker House, it is quite likely he would have been crushed beneath the wheels. Conductor Jacobs stopped the train in a hurry when he saw the position and the "English cloth merchant" escaped with a bruised knee.

He was too inebricated or low-bred to be grateful, for shortly after he grossly insulted the baggage master of the train who had taken care of a valise which he was too stupid to take care of himself. If the people would exercise good common sense, these vultures would not be able to swindle people out of enough of the needful to purchase sufficient red-eye to get drunk on.

Destruction by Fire.—The following came per Deseret Telegraph this morning—

MINERSVILLE, June 25, 1877.

At two o'clock this a. m. an alarm was given of fire at Wm. Wood, Senior's. Before assistance could be obtained, the house and furniture were all consumed to ashes except a $175 organ which he managed to save before any help arrived, and ran to the house again to save other articles, when he was seen by two young men to fall against a window and would have perished in the flames had they not helped him out. His face is blistered and his hair scorched, but not seriously. His family, some ten in number, all escaped unhurt, but they are left without bed, board, and clothes. The cause of the fire is not known, but is supposed to be a spark from a stove-pipe.

About Those Peddlers.—Brother Anson Call, of Bountiful, writes as follows—

"Of late I have read in the NEWS two or three articles concerning the advent into the Territory of certain itinerant cloth peddlers, and your general advice to the people of Utah respecting them.

"Within the past few days certain cloth peddlers have appeared in this town, having, it is said, wonderfully cheap goods to offer to the people, and since their appearance a rumor has been afloat among the people here, and one of these peddlers has the credit of starting it, that I had purchased an invoice of goods of them. I now wish to say that the said rumor is absolutely and positively false. I have been, it is true, very solicitously entreated to purchase a bill of goods of these men, but I did not purchase one cent's worth, nor will my neighbors if they will take my advice. Our home institutions carry cloths in quality and variety good enough for my use.

"The gentlemen above alluded to have now canvassed the town, and on Monday morning next, the 25th instant, will leave for the northern settlements in this county, and I sincerely hope that my neighbors will not be gulled into buying a bill of goods because they may be told that this or that bishop has bought one."

In connection with the above it may be well to state that it has been previously reported to us that those itinerant traders have represented that they have sold to certain leading men of the settlements, when such was not the fact.

The European Mission.—The following is from the Millennial Star of June 4—

Elder F. S. Elders Samuel Claridge, Joseph Bull, jun., and John McCarthy, are visiting friends (the latter in Ireland), after which they will receive their appointments.

—The New York Herald of June 16 says, "We have ground for the belief that an explosion is imminent in Salt Lake City." A very little ground for their belief satisfies some people.

Sewing Machines

The Singer Sewing Machine Company have recently made a uniform deduction from former retail prices of Thirty Dollars on any style of machine manufactured by them. Comment on the good quality or usefulness of this Celebrated Machine would be superfluous, as all this has been substantially demonstrated by a sale during several years last past exceeding all others. The liberal dealing of the representatives of the Singer Company with the people of this Territory especially commends them to the favorable consideration of such as may hereafter find it desirable to add to their household conveniences this indispensable article. The Branch Office of this Company is in Jennings' new building, First South Street, Salt Lake City. s & w

It would be a considerate policy for the Board of Charities and Correction to apply some of the funds in their hands to the purchase of sufficient quantities of GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP for deposit at the public dispensaries and hospitals. In the former a cake of the soap might be given to each applicant for treatment, and in the latter it might be distributed in the wards or used in washing the bed-clothes and underclothing of the patients to insure disinfection.
