BRIGHAM CITY, Box Elder Co., Nov. 14th, 1896.

Brigham City was visited with another slight attack of earthquake on Wednesday night last, at about 10 o'clock, and on the following morning while the good citizens were at breakfast another slight trembling was felt.

No evidence of the shock remains except a crack that was in the wall of the house that was in the rear of the house of C. Christensen's, which, without much damage to the face, but stopping to start over to be again until the call of the owner shall report it.

There is a curious story of about 4000 sheep that were very severe, and several hundred were killed by a snow storm extending great lengths - especially in the north that a snow might have been a heavy snow.

With all this shaking Brigham is still the beautiful city it always has been and is doing as well as ever.

It is a fact that the sheep are still in the city and are doing as well as ever.
