MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD Newman Thinks an Immune Can Spread the Smallpox.

A short session was held by the board of education last night at which time appropriations were made amounting to $4,792,27. There was also an appropriation of $17,000 for the salaries of teachers for the three weeks ending Friday. The total appropriation therefore was about $21,792.27. When the meeting opened, Mr. Newman arose and stated that he took some exceptions at the course pursued by Superintendent Cooper in announcing to the public that vaccinated and immune children only would be admitted to the schools after the holidays. It was the word "immune" that Mr. Newman objected to. He held that an immune could carry the disease as well as any other person, and he therefore cted to the admission of immunes into the schools.

Mr. Cooper arose and explained that he had consulted the health board, and obtained the information that children who had recovered from the disease and had passed the infectious stage, and children who had been unsuccessfully vaccinated three or more times

The next morning fifteen sticks of powder were discovered in a gunnysack tight amongst the sheep, but these falled to explode. It is supposed the sheep had cut the fuse by trampling on it. Examination showed the tracks their horses had been tied. Both men

JAP LABORERS ON THE RAILROADS

Some Interesting Figures Pertaining to Their Employment.

AGENTS WAXING VERY FAT

Every Coolle Employed Has to Pay One Bottar a Month to the Bosses.

From time to time the much vexed question of the introduction of cheap abor on the railroads that operate in Utan is brought to the attention of the "News" in the form of letters on the subject from subscribers in various the Associated Press. parts of the State.

In this connection it has been time and time again asserted that the immigration contract labor law is being violated and that Japanese are being luiported into this country as section hands direct from the land of the Mikado. On the other hand this statement is indignantly denied by the railroad oillelals, who state that the little yellow men are suployed in this country, and have immigrated here at their own expense in order to better their circumstances and incidentally make a

The plea of the railroad officials is of a smallpox patient. Speaking of it that Japanese labor is only employed on today Mr. Sabine declared: "I did not the bad lands, deserts and sections of that Japanese labor is only employed on the country where it is impossible to get a white man to stay. Heretofore hinamen and Italians were employed but upon comparison it was found that In every respect the Japanese labor was more reliable and infinitely superior. CROWDING OUT WHITE MEN.

> Now comes the complaint that the Jap is crowding out the white man, and that his services are being brought into requisition upon portions of the lines where heretofore the energetic American laboring man has held undisputed

In this connection it is interesting to note what Torajiro Watase, a distin-guished Japanese, who is now visiting Salt Lake, and who is a member of the Higher Imperial Industrial Council, and city councilman of Tokyo, has to say on the subject. In answer to question upon the subject yesterday he said: "Yes; there are a large number of Japanese now being employed by the various railroads in American, and they seem to give general satisfaction. Although I do not know just how many there are in the West, S. Ban, who looks after the supplying of the labor at Portland, told me the other day that Portland, told me the other day that | tract to a San Francisco firm for 50,000, had placed over 1,500 on the Oregon | 000 bricks to be used in lining the tunthat he had placed over 2,000 of my ountrymen to work on that road. In answer to a question from a "News" reporter as to whether the spanese were contented over here, Mr

Watase said, "Yes, they are all right; but they do not feel good in some places where the white men do not like them, and make lots of trouble." "How much do they get?" was the next query.

'Oh, they get sometimes a dollar s

Later on the gentleman admitted that every Jap employed through the agency at Portland and other places paid in a lollar a month, for as long as he worked in this country, to the bosses who were the means of getting him a job in America. The gentleman, however, denied that any of the men had been imported direct from Japan to work on the railroads, but were engaged on the Pacific coast.

A DIFFERENT STORY.

This phase of the question, however, was put in a different light by Mr. Kondo, a prominent Japanese official whó was visiting the United States some time ago, and who was seen at the Knutsford by a "News" reporter. My. Kondo, in talking about the im-migration of Japanese laborers to this country, stated at the time that the Japanese government was investigating the matter, as numerous complaints were being filed in the government offices in Tokio from men who had come to this country and were unable to get back. He stated that agents over in Japan painted the money that was to be made in America in glowing colors to the average Jap working in the rice fields, and even went so far as to to induce them to come to America and work on the rallroads.

"You know," he said in fairly good English, "in Japan the laboring man is happy; he has very few wants, and he can live very cheaply with his family. When a man comes along and tells him that he can earn $1 a day over the ocean, it seems like a fortune to him, and he figures out how much he can Japan and his family a rich man. He goes to America, and he soon finds that dollar a day does not go very far His food costs more and he does not like the American food at all, then his clothes cost money, he has his dues to pay to the agent and he finds that he will have to stay here many years before he can hope to return home with any money, even enough to save his passage money home."

$12,000 A YEAR.

Such are the two sides of the question. In the meantime it is estimated that there are in the neighborhood of 8,000 Japs employed by the various railroads in the West, every one of pays his dollar a month to the bosses who handle their affairs. It is understood that each railroad | traordinary has its Japanese agent, to whom this ssessment is paid every month by the men under him and he in turn divides with the heads in Portland and San As the consequence there are probably eight men who are living on yelvet to the tune of $12,000 a year, at the expense of their countrymen,
