

Original Poetry.

For the DEAREST MIND.

SONG.

TUNE—"Look as you go."

How much we have heard of the faith of the Ancients,
And what they achieved on the earth in their time!
But we will rejoice in a priesthood that's living, Our knowledge of God and a church in its prime.

CHORUS:

Then hail to the gospel, the life-giving gospel,
That found us in darkness far over the sea;
Released us from bondage and brought us to Zion, Where all can be prosperous, happy and free!

Besotted and dark and engulfed in tradition
Our fathers had slumbered for ages a score, Till Jehovah remembered His promise to Israel
Commanding His servants to visit our shore.

To preach us the gospel, &c.

It gladdened our hearts when they lifted their voices,
And eager our souls to receive the glad news,
As they spoke of the keys of the last dispensation
And quoted the scriptures, sustaining their views.

And preached us the gospel, &c.

How matchless our joy when we yielded obedience To find what they told us was verily true!

O, then we revered those apostles and prophets
And honored the name of a God whom we knew!

Who sent us the gospel, &c.

The gifts of the spirit, the dreams and the visions,
The sick they were healed and the blind made to see;
The dumb found their voices, the lame leaped exulting, Restoring all things, as they said it would be.

By obeying the gospel, &c.

And when we received our most holy anointing
We certainly felt that our joy was complete,
One moment such pleasure we would not have bartered
If the treasures of earth had been laid at our feet.

And all through the gospel, &c.

And years in this kingdom must surely have taught us
The power that still rules is the same it was then,
Jehovah directs the affairs of his people, Endorsing the acts of the very same men Who brought us the gospel, &c.

Then away with pretenders and false revelation!
We know we are right and the priesthood is true.
They will divide and perish with all who sustain them, Not leaving a vestige to tell where they grew.

Then hail to the gospel, &c.

While we will go forward to riches and honor, Unflinching in purpose, perfection our aim, Upholding our prophet and chosen apostles, Increasing in substance, in numbers and fame.

Then hail to the gospel, &c.

MORGAN OTTY, ROLLO.
Jan. 4th, 1870.

"HALL'S JOURNAL OF HEALTH" ON MODERATE DRINKING.

A "Merchant Prince" of New York—a portly six-footer, of great manly beauty, who never dined without his brandy and water, nor went to bed without a tarrapin or an oyster supper, and who was never known to be drunk, died of chronic diarrhoea—a common end of those who are never intoxicated and full of liquor. Hall's Journal of Health gives this account of his death.

Months before he died—he was a year in dying—he could eat nothing without diarrhoea, and at death the whole alimentary canal was a mass of disease. In the midst of his millions, he died of insanity. This is not half the readers. He had been a steady drinker, for twenty-eight years. Scrofula has been eating up one daughter for fifteen years; another is in the mad-house; the third and fourth were of unearthly beauty, but they blighted, and paled, and faded—into heaven, we trust—in their sweet teens; another is tottering on the verge of the grave, and only one is left with all the senses, and each of them is weak as water.

The same periodical instances another case, that should supplement the one just given.

A gentleman of thirty-five was sitting on a chair, with no special critical symptoms present; still he was known as a "disipated young man." He rose, ran fifty feet, fell down and died. The whole covering of the brain was thickened, the cavities were filled with a fluid that did not belong to it, enough to kill half a dozen men with apoplexy; a great portion of one lung was in a state of gangrene, and nearly all the other was hardened and useless; blood and yellow matter plastered the inner covering of the lungs, while angry red patches of destructive inflammation were scattered along the whole alimentary canal. Why, there was enough of death in that man's body to have killed forty men. The doctor who talks about quizzing liquor every day being "healthy," is a perfect disgrace to the medical name, and ought to be a rock for the term of his natural life, at a shilling a day, and find himself.
