INDUSTRIAL PESSIMISM.

Robert P. Porter Speaks on the Epidemic of It Now Raging in England.

Says it is Doubtful if United States is Prepared to Compete in World's Markets.

London, June 10 .- Robert P. Porter, peaking today before the Chesterfield chamber of commerce on the "Epidemic of Industrial Pessimism in the United Kingdom," said:

"It is extremely doubtful whether the United States is prepared to compete in the markets of the world in manufactures except in iron and steel machinery and the coarser grades of cotton goods. The tariff indicates that

American economists and statesmen do not believe the United States is yet able to take an industrial position by the side of Great Britain." Mr. Porter expressed the opinion that Great Britain's backwardness in electrical science was "due more to ab-surd restrictions and laws than to lack of enterprise," and he said that Great Britain needs "bracing up in new, not old industrial problems

"Those that argue that Great Brit-ain's commercial supremacy is at an end because the value of American exports or the total of the foreign com-merce of the United States exceeds Britain's for one year, Great continued Mr. Porter, "might find the ar-gument upset by the first bad harvest. Many complicated economic problems must be faced in the United States. The magnitude of American undertakings may be impressive, but these have corresponding dangers. "In spite of European mutterings, there is little likelihood of a combined Suropean tariff war against the United States because the nations concerned are so hopelessly involved in tariff conflicts between themselves. Great Brit-ain's free trade policy may have in-jured her home industries, but it has strengthened her foreign trade. On the other hand, the United States is finding considerable difficulty, both at home and abroad, in negotlating commercial treatles."

BRECKENRIDGE ON DEMOCRACY Says There Must be Some New Issue

to Unite Party. Lexington, Ky., June 10.-In a letter in answer to one asking for his views on the reorganization of the Democratic party and futures Issues, Col. W. C. P. Breckenridge, ex-Democratic congressman, says;

"The American people will never consent to such legislation concerning the currency, as will put into a statute the views of Mr. Bryan. It is equally true that the American people will not approve of the territorial policy advo-cated by Mr. Bryan. For the next few years, the currency issue and the cx-pansion issue tendered by the Demo-cratic party and accepted by the Republican party have been settled." Further along in the letter he says:

"We are therefore confronted with this actual state of facts. It is impos-sible to win without such a nominee and platform as will secure the sup-port of those Democrats who refused vote for Mr. Bryan in 1896 and 1900, and it is also impossible to win with-out the cordial support of the regular Democratic party. "It has occurred to me that the issue "It has occurred to me that the issue in 1904 might be our relations with our new possessions. That these will be retained is now certain. That the principles promulgated by the Su-preme Court in the late cointiens will be accepted by the people is certain." After outlining the questions in-volved Col. Breckenridge says: "To adopt this policy does not require that any Democrat should retract any ut-terance made or apologize for any terance made or apologize for any course heretofore pursued."

He does not care whether you get well or not, so long as he can make a little more money out of your sickness. All the vel-lum manuscripts are illuminated, many of them with prodigality and a beauty of execution rarely seen and the ll-lustrations impart a sense of the high level to which the art of miniature painting was carried on in the middle ages. ### Fire in San Francisco.

San Francisco, June 11 .- The explosions which occurred during the pro-gress of last night's fire in the warehouse district were caused by nitrate stored in the ware-house of W. R. Grace & Co. and not by dynamite in the warehouse of the Whitelaw Wrecking company as was supposed at the time of the fire. The two buildings connect, and it was difficult to locate the origin of the explosons during the progress of the fire. The damage caused by the fire will reach $60,000.

Fearlessly these men entered the shaft and started toward the spot where it was thought some of the en-tombed men may be found. Lying at the bottom of the shaft were Lawrence Settler and John Stakes. West Newton, general superintendent of this district: Dennis Wortley, olt boss of the mine: Michael Roy, fore-man, and several other bosses with about twenty men went down shaft No. 1, which is just opposite on the Baltimore & Ohio side of the river, and they are probably lost.

About three hours after the rescue party had been in the mine two more explosions were heard, Meantime, the crowd around the opening of the shaft had increased. The crowd included mothers, wives, and sisters of many of the men entombed.

All sorts of plans were suggested for the rescue of the men. Some talk of turning the river into the mines, but many are opposed to this idea for fear of drowning the miners.

At 11 o'clock four men volunteered to go down shafts No. 2 and No. 3, and one man down No. 1, but up to this time it is not known whether they have succeeded in making any rescue. The fan is now working but until the flames are extinguished or news comes from one of the rescue parties no further particulars are obtainable.

At 3 o'clock W. A. Sweeney and Frank Stratton came to the surface bringing Harry Beveridge in an unconcious condition with both arms and a leg broken and badly burned. He cannot live. All three men succumbed shortly after reaching the surface. Sweeney, who was mainly intramental in saving Beveridge, was able to tell that he climbed over the bodies of at least three men on his way out.

The explosion occurred at the time when the shifts were changing from day to night, and it is impossible to tell how many were in the mine at the time, but certainly no less than thirty are entombed.

At 4 o'clock this morning Supt. Mc-Cune's hat and a couple of his letters have been found, the hat being blown to fragments. There is no trace of him or any of the rescuing party. Those or any of the rescuing party. New York, June 11 .- Owing to fear of fresh trouble in Korea for Americans a Herald special from Washington says: The protected cruiser New Orleans has been sent to look after the inter-ests of citizens of the United States in the Hermit kingdom. This action was taken in consequence of information sent by Horace N. Allen minister resl-dent at Scoul. A cable messare has just been received at the navy depart-ment from Capt. C. S. Sperry, commanding the New Orleans, announcing twenty miles from Philadelphia.

The story has to do in the main with Maj. John D'Arcy of the Grenadier guards on the staff of Lord Cornwallis and Pamela Townsend, a staunch adperent of the American cause, who meets D'Arcy while he is quartered at the house where she resides. D'Arcy is young Irishman who has won dis tinction in the British service, and his winning over the pretty American makes a romantic and pretty stage story.

PRILIPPINE CIVIL SERVICE.

Many Natives Took Examinations, Passing Satisfactorily.

New York, June 11 .- According to a special to the Press from Washington, a letter received there from Manila by Chairman Proctor of the United States civil service commission indicates that the civil service examina-tions which were conducted recently under the direction of the local civi service board appointed by the Taft ommission, were entirely satisfactory. Mr. Proctor says the returns to the commission show that many of the applicants took the examinations in Spanish, indicating that they are natives.

Perhaps a third of them had seen service in the insurgent army under Aguinaldo. This fact was brought out in the answers which were filed in the question blanks submitted to each of the applicants in the examination. This fact in no way will prejudice the applicants, as they were required to take the onth of allegiance and perhaps a majority of them already had complied with this requisite.

From the reports which the Philippine civil service commission have forward. ed of the number of those who took the examination in the islands it hardly is probable that many of those who take he examinations in this country for the service there will get places. It is thought that only the highest salaried places will be filled by the applicants from the United States.

Chairman Proctor also reports that the class of teachers being hired for the Philippine service are far above the average in intelligence and attainment. In selecting them the recommendations of the heads of the different colleges of the United States were accepted. The government has been surprised and gratified at the high character of those who are willing to accept service in the islands.

Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want - a cure. Moral - Stick to the medicine that you know is Best.
