CROKER PRAISES

Dublin, Oct. 24.—In the course of an interview published this evening in the Telegraph, Richard Croker, referring to Tammany Hall and its alleged bad reputation said: reputation, said:

"It is a case of giving a dog a bad name. If anyone connected with the organization, however insignificant his position, does anything dishonorable, Tammany is blamed.

Tammany is blamed. "The reformers never did anything for New York. The great bridges, the elevated railroads, the public buildings and everything else are the works of Tammany. If there was corruption, why did not the district attorney prose-cute somebody? Tammany Hall has succeeded entirely on its merits. It is the most democratic institution in the world. If anything is wrong with it, then something is wrong with the the world. If anything is wrong with it, then something is wrong with the people themselves. It stands not only for the poor man, but for the foreigner newly landed in America. It believes, as against the Republican party, that the foreigner should receive the bene-fits of the American Constitution as soon as possible. It stands all around for equal rights."
