Mr. Goddard, of the Property Defense Association, said that he would not allow his balliffs to assist at another such eviction, the object of the soci-ety being to fight the land league, not to take part in domestic quar-rels. The next case was also a family affair, namely; a father-in-law try-ing to evict his son-in-law, who, a EVENING NEWS Jaime 7, 188 the state of the second of the BY TELEGRAPH PER WRITTERS UNION TELEGRAPH LINE.

LONDON, 6.—The report having been spread that the bones of the founder of Pennsylvania were to be transferred from their quiet resting place in Buckinghamshire to Ameri-ca, a reporter determined to make a pligrimage to Jordan's Meeting House Churchyard. He chose June 2nd for his visit and duly made his way to Rickmansoor, a quaint little town in Hartfordshire, and thence to Chilfort by confusive and wind-ing roads. Chilford is in the heart of Buckinghamshire.
