

ORATORS BEGIN HARD CAMPAIGN

Political Activity Starts in Real Earnest Today Among All Parties.

SCATTER OVER ENTIRE STATE

Spellbinders Will Storm North and South Prior to Battle of Ballots On Election Day.

Political activity for the present campaign, as far as "stumping" goes, may be said to begin today. The two big parties are sending out their advance guard of spellbinders this morning, and "talkfests" will be the order of the day and night up to the evening of Nov. 2, when the final great rallies will take place prior to the casting of ballots on the day following.

For the Republicans, William Spry, candidate for governor, and Congressman Joseph Howell, left this morning for southern Utah, where they will cover a speaking itinerary including more than twenty towns and cities. These gentlemen expect to reach Fairview by noon, and a short meeting will be held there. Tuesday they will speak at Spring City, at noon, and at Ephraim in the evening. On Friday they will appear at Richfield in the afternoon and at Monroe in the evening.

For the Democracy, Lyman R. Martineau, the party's candidate for Congress, accompanied by Joseph E. Calne, candidate for state treasurer, will appear at Heber City this evening. These speakers will also fill engagements as follows: Fairview, Tuesday, noon; Mount Pleasant, Tuesday night; Spring City, Wednesday afternoon; Ephraim, Wednesday night; Wals, Thursday morning, 10 a. m.; Fountain Green, Thursday, 3 p. m.; Moroni, Thursday night; Sterling, Friday afternoon; Mant, Friday night; Gunnison, Saturday night.

W. H. Leary is booked for the entire week in Sevier county, and Judge Dusenberry will tour Summit county during the week.

Matt Thomas and J. W. Stringfellow will speak at Bingham Wednesday night, and P. W. Monett of Ogden is scheduled to appear at Ogden on behalf of Democracy Wednesday, and a week later Mr. Monett will speak in Salt Lake City.

ARE AFTER "AMERICANS."

Socialists Urge Comrades to Consider Kohlberg's Statement.

Whichever ticket the Socialists of this county select to favor with their franchise in the coming election, one thing seems quite certain, and that is that ticket will not be of the "American" hierarchy-consuming type. W. S. Dalton, a former member of the Socialist party, but who has since joined the Kearns crowd in consideration of a license collectorship with the present administration, has been making strenuous efforts to induce his former political comrades to vote for the rule or ruin bunch, but apparently his efforts have been fruitless.

The Socialist party leaders have sent out the following request to all members of their party: "Socialist Headquarters, 39 Postoffice Place, Salt Lake City, Utah, October 9, 1908. Comrades and Citizens of Utah: All locals which have not yet sent for William J. Kohlberg's official answer, 'Why Socialists Will Not Vote the American Ticket,' of which several thousand reprints have already been distributed, will please send orders to the Salt Lake local, Fraternally."

"NORMAN CONDIN, Organizer." The following card of thanks has also been sent out. It is self-explanatory: "Thanks Socialists and Others—For their hearty responses to the distribution of the official article, 'Why Socialists Will Not Vote the American Ticket,' which is now reprinted by thousands, and elsewhere officially requested to be distributed in all the

PASSENGERS DISGUSTED

While Rio Grande's Operating Force Sleeps Whole System is Tied Up by Freight Car.

The Rio Grande's terminals had a busy appearance about 3:30 o'clock this morning. Five passenger trains arrived within a few minutes of each other about this hour. The five were west-bound and had been held at Thistle all night owing to the derangement of a freight car. Cars of coke, iron ore, tracks and tied up traffic for 15 hours. Among the passenger trains thrown behind the line were Nos. 1, 3, 5 and 9, the first three through trains and the last, the Banquete local. Why the derangement occurred is not known, but the operating force in this city thought to send a special down the line the passengers could have transferred and then have been brought on into this city. The freight car, which is supposed to have been extremely easy for the passengers to walk the length of the freight car. What tired travel workers persons said this morning when they reached this city would not read the title of the booklet the railroad company issues.

MONUMENT IS UNVEILED

Relatives and Friends of Ebenezer Beesley Gather at Family Plot for Service.

An event of much pride and satisfaction to the members of the Beesley family association was the unveiling of the monument at the city cemetery yesterday afternoon, erected in honor of Ebenezer Beesley, and the departed members of his family. The monument, which is of polished Barre granite from Vermont, of the tablet design, is set upon a base of Utah granite, and stands five feet high. Above the inscription of his name and date of birth and death appears a lyre, and below a music staff on which the notes are engraved that are so widely sung to these lines: "Let us oft speak kind words to each other, kind words are sweet tones of the heart." As the assemblage gathered around the monument was yellic, the American flag and the lot tastefully decorated. There were seats for the speakers and a few old-time friends, and for the quartet of string instruments. Burton, president, "What Prize Shall Be Your Reward?" was sung by a double trio of the lady members of the family, with the chorus by all. The location was given by William D. Owen, an associate member of the Union Glee club of former years. Little Blanche Beesley unveiled the monument, after which the ladies' trio rendered "My Bud in Heaven." This selection is considered one of the most beautiful of Mr. Beesley's compositions, the melody and harmony being so admirably adapted to the sentiment of the verses.

Before offering the dedicatory prayer, President George R. Emery referred to his acquaintance with the departed and highly of his compositions and the frequency of their rendition in Sunday schools, funerals, general meetings and also the mission fields of the church. The prayer, evidenced the thankfulness and pleasure that pervaded the heart of President Emery in contemplating the monument and the purpose of its erection.

An address full of eloquence and pathos was given by President Nephi L. Morris. He referred to the enduring quality of the stone that had been chosen to mark the resting place of the departed, and likened his life-work to the granite in its integrity, stability and the enduring qualities of the harmonious and melodies of the composer, believing, however, that his strains would live to be sung throughout eternity. "Kind words are sweet tones of the heart" was rendered by the grand children, singing the verses and all singing the chorus. The words of this hymn, as also "What Prize Shall Be Your Reward?" were written by J. L. Townsend, formerly of Payson, but now of Salt Lake City. He was present at the services and pronounced the benediction.

In the evening the family assembled at the home of Alvin A. Beesley, where all enjoyed themselves in vocal and instrumental music. The eldest son, Ebenezer, his wife and only daughter are here from Teton valley on a visit, and the youngest son, Frank, of Eureka, came in especially for the dedication services of the monument.

PERFECT HARMONY WITH HOLY WRIT

Principles of the Church and Its Doctrines Considered by Tabernacle Speakers.

PEACE AND HARMONY FOUND

Communities Where Dwell Latter-day Saints Are Without the Disturbing Influences Elsewhere.

A larger number of the general authorities than are usually seen at a regular Sunday service were in attendance at the tabernacle yesterday afternoon. Included among those present were Presidents John R. Winder and Anthon H. Lund, Elders Heber J. Grant, George Albert Smith, Orson F. Whitney and Anthony W. Ivins, and Elders Seymour B. Young, Rulon S. Wells and Joseph W. McMurrin, of the first council of the church.

Three speakers addressed the gathering. Elders McMurrin, Ivins and Grant. The theme of each was the harmony of the principles and doctrines of the church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints with the gospel as taught in holy writ.

The service was presided over by President John R. Winder. The selections rendered by the choir were, "All hail the glorious day," "An angel from on high," and "God is our refuge." Elders Ivins, Winder and Grant, in their addresses, declared that the Latter-day Saints are not afraid to inquire into the faith of any other church whatsoever. Twenty-five years ago, said Elder Winder, the Latter-day Saints declared that the Bible could not be taken literally, else the entire Christian world would turn Mormon.

ELDER JOSEPH W. McMURRIN.

"A very great and solemn truth is expressed in the hymn beginning 'An angel from on high, the long, long silence broke,' said Elder Joseph W. McMurrin, the first speaker of the afternoon. There is an abundance of evidence in the Church to prove that an angel has wended his way from the heavens to the world. One great dispensation to the world was given in the form of the revelation of the gospel of Jesus Christ in the congregation he was addressing, he said. They had been gathered from many nations, in obedience to the word of the Lord. This gathering had taken place despite the fact that before accepting Mormonism, they had been fully informed of the many obstacles and difficulties they would meet in rendering obedience to the gospel of the Son of God. Most of the men and women who entered to these valleys had no expectation of worldly gain. They were led by the hope of spiritual wealth.

Another evidence of an opening of the heavens and the restoration of the Church of Christ is that thousands who have complied with the requirements of the gospel have received a testimony of the divinity of Jesus Christ, and they have become identified in the cities, towns and villages occupied by the Latter-day Saints, peace and happiness. In the hearts of the people exist an air of results—well, it is the gospel of Jesus Christ is the power of God unto salvation. The establishment of this work was predicted by prophets who lived hundreds of years ago. Had Isaiah stood upon the land now occupied by the Latter-day Saints he could scarcely have described the places more minutely than he did in looking down the stream of time thousands of years ago.

As to the principles believed by the Latter-day Saints, it would have been impossible, said the speaker, for Joseph Smith to have conceived them in his own mind. Some of those principles were known to the Christian world, but many were entirely new to earth's inhabitants when revealed anew in the last dispensation, this in spite of the fact that they are entirely scriptural. The fate of the future, the stance, who die before arriving at the age of accountability. At the beginning of the nineteenth century the belief was almost universal in the Christian world that children dying without having been baptized were eternally lost. The truth regarding infant salvation was revealed through the Prophet Joseph Smith to the effect that all children are saved by the atoning blood of the Lord Jesus Christ.

This doctrine was not new by any means, but it was new to the Christian world of latter days until the advent of the Prophet Joseph. The same doctrine applies to the countless millions who have died without having heard the name of Jesus Christ. These principles are too great to have originated in the brain of Joseph Smith or of any other man not moved upon by the Holy Ghost.

ELDER ANTHONY W. IVINS.

The hearing of Paul before Agrippa and before Festus upon a charge of heresy was recited by Elder Anthony W. Ivins. The great apostle to the gentiles was so convinced of the truth of the doctrines of Christ which he had espoused and so earnest in his defense that he all but converted the Jewish king, who believed in the words of the prophets, albeit that Festus, who believed in such things, declared Paul to be mad by reason of much learning.

The Latter-day Saints, proclaiming the same principles of salvation so stoutly defended by Paul, have been declared to be deluded. What is there in all the teachings of Mormonism that cannot stand the scrutiny of Scripture and the teachings of the Bible?

Referring to the Book of Mormon, the speaker declared that that volume caused an increase of faith in the Bible. Were it otherwise, just censure might attach to a believer in the Book of Mormon. The last named Scripture is more plain in some respects than is the Jewish Scripture, but they coincide strictly with the teachings of the Methodist confession of faith relative to baptism, and with them compared.

On August 25th 1908, the Zion's Co-operative Home Building and Loan Association Co. was incorporated with an authorized capital of $250,000, of which $80,420 was paid up. Since then $40,000 of the stock has been sold at $10.00 per share, so the company now has $120,000 assets. $30,000 more stock will be sold at par, or $1 per share. the commandments of the Savior as given to the Nephites during the time that He sojourned among them after His crucifixion.

Which of these two interpretations of the commandment relative to baptism is in accordance with the mode laid down in the Bible? asked the speaker. Is there any conflict between the mode of baptism in the Book of Mormon as touching this matter? None whatever, except that in the Nephite Scripture the doctrine is made more plain than in the Jewish Scriptures; but, as admitted in the Methodist confession of faith, He took them in His arms and blessed them.

Joseph Smith was not the originator of the Book of Mormon, neither of the principles and doctrines of the universal salvation, and the Latter-day Saints are opposed to predestination, infant damnation, and kindred false notions.

ELDER HEBER J. GRANT.

Elder Heber J. Grant said in part: "A peculiar thing in relation to the Latter-day Saints is that many of them never stood up for a moment in their lives to speak of religious things before a crowd, and the same time forsaken Mormonism or denied its testimony. This fact seems strange in view of the statements made that Mormonism is a myth and a fraud. Of the thousands of young elders, admittedly moral and upright in their lives, who have gone into the world during the last 78 years, not one has been converted to any other faith; notwithstanding the fact that they have come into contact with some of the learned and pious Christians of the world. On the other hand, men who have been in the ministry for years have been converted to Mormonism through the instrumentality of the Latter-day Saints. The commandment of the English language was extremely faulty. Some preachers tell the members of their flock not to read Mormon literature nor investigate its principles. Contrary to this attitude, the Latter-day Saints are not afraid to inquire into the faith of any other church whatsoever. Twenty-five years ago, said Elder Grant, the Latter-day Saints declared that the Bible could not be taken literally, else the entire Christian world would turn Mormon.

JOBS FOUND FOR VOTERS.

"American" Suffrage Solicited by Pro-Election Dinner Paid Method.

Every man who has a contract with the city is being spurred by the "inner circle" of the "American" party to give employment to as many men as possible in order to win the election. Some of the contractors are not prepared to go ahead with work awarded to them, yet they are forced to make a showing in order to keep their contracts. The contractors are being urged to give jobs. This will be kept up until Nov. 3, after which many of the public improvements will be at a standstill for a considerable time. Little will the political manipulators care what becomes of the workmen, who supposed they were to have an uninterrupted winter job, when once the votes are cast.

The contractors would much prefer that commencement of work be deferred until materials were on hand and everything in readiness for the task in hand. But of course the will of the masters has to be obeyed; plenty of work must be provided at once, but what of the results?—well, it will be a year until it shall be necessary to again hoodwink the workingmen.

Two Young Men Fined $25 Each Taken to County Jail.

George Leslie and William Adams, two young nimrods, paid dearly for shooting at ducks during hours prohibited by law. They were arrested upon complaint sworn to by Deputy Game Warden S. W. The penalty imposed was a fine of $25 in each instance, which almost took away the breath of both of them. Earnest pleas were interposed for a reduction of the fine, but Judge Lundberg told the men that he had imposed the minimum penalty under the law. The defendants were taken to the county jail until they could raise money to pay the fines.
