This religious test business, on matters of mere belief, comes with matters of mere belief, comes with bad grace, exceedingly bad grace, from a couple of legal professionals, who, one would imagine, should at least assume some dignity of tone and manner, if they possess it not on natural principles. Gentlemen, that kind of thing won't do. Such contracted business from such a than by parties whose names figure in the following proceedings. A few days since Mr. Charles W. "Yours Respectfully, "CHAS. W. STAYNER,

"Applicant for admission to the Bar of the Supreme Court."

-Yesterday morning an immense After the presentation of the ancongregation assembled in and swer, yesterday, Messra Bennett & around the residence of the late Rosborough appeared, informally, Alderman Walter Thomson, Main before Chief Justice Schaeffer and d164 Street, Ogden, for the purpose of Associate Justice Emerson, of the Supreme Court bench, and preshis earthly remains. All classes of ented a report, accompanied by the the community were represented, questions and answer.

The applicant desired a hearing in the matter, which was garnted, Mr. P. L. Williams appearing for him. The latter made a clear and forcible argument, showing plainly, from the opinions of the Supreme Court of the United States, that questions touching the religious or any other belief of an applicant for admission to practice in the courts were totally improper. He showed that it would be as reasonable to ask the applicant if he believed in the "immaculate conception" as to The procession to the cemetery was composed of fifty-four vehicle sideration. Messrs. Bennett and Rosborough simply stated, in effect, that ideas or belief upon religious tenets was a portion of a person's character, and assisted in forming his status of morality. They considered it a duty they owed the Court to ascer-tain the views and feelings of ap-plicants for admission, upon an in-stitution peculiar to this Territory. They considered it proper that the Court should take cognizance of the peculiar condition of the Territory when considering the qualifications preceded by the Ogden Fire Brig-ade and the hearse bearing the re-mains, which were enclosed in a fine casket adorned with beautiful flowers. The closing benediction, Walter Thomson was bern at Glasgow, Scotland, August 10, 1825. He was the son of John and

The committee reported to the Court, that they found the applicant competent as regards his legal attainments, which they submit-ted, together with the two ques-tions and answers. The Court decided that Mr. Stay ner be admitted an attorney of the bar, and the oath was accordingly administered to him.

It is proper to say regarding the religious test questions put to Mr. Stayner, that Mr. Rawlins, a member of the examining committee, dissented from the putting of all of them.

Theatre.-The Theatre was filled ast evening with an intelligent and fashionable audience, which appeared to be well pleased with the performance, it being brilliantly rendered. The audience manifested its satisfaction by repeated applause at intervals throughout the evening, and several encores of the more prominent and interesting scenes. Mr. Maas appears to have improved considerable since his former appearance on the Salt Lake boards. Mile. Martinez sang charmingly, and Mrs. Seguin sang and acted with her customary energy, ability, and effectiveness.

Messrs. Carleton and Conly were correspondingly excellent. This evening will be given Donizettl's tragic opera of "Lucia di

Lammermoor," with Mile. Martinez as "Lucia," Miss Randall as "Alice," Mr. Maas as "Edgardo," Mr. Conly as "Raymondo," Mr. Turner as "Arturo," Mr. Tams as 'Normano."

Q The last act of Verdi's grand opera of "Rigoletto" will also be given, with Mile. Martinez as "Gilda," Mrs. Seguin as "Madelina," Miss Randall as "Countess Ciprana," Mr. Maas as "Duke of Mantua," Mr. Conly as "Spaizafucilo," and Mr. Carleton as "Rigoletto," To-morrow evening, "Martha" and a grand operatic melange.

Too LIBERAL --- When Sir Samuel Baker, the African traveler, was taking leave of Kamrasi, King of Unyora, that potentate asked hi Unyora, that potentate asked him, as a particular favor, to leave Lady Baker behind. This cool request raised Sir Samuel's ire, and in high indignation he told the king that if ever he made such a request again he would shoot him. Lady, Baker, too, who overheard and un-derstood the offer, felt that a word would not be out of place, and gave the monarch a piece of her mind in the atomarch is piece of her mind
