

Local and Other Matters.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, SEPT. 7.

Waterworks.—The laying of pipes, for the waterworks, in City Creek Canyon, is progressing.

Lapsed.—The September term of the Third District Court has lapsed. Cause—want of a judge.

Fraternal.—This morning we had a pleasant call from John B. Pierce, Esq., correspondent of the Omaha Bee, who is sojourning for a time in Utah.

Improving.—The seats of the New Tabernacle are being colored, in imitation of oak, and varnished, which very much improves the interior appearance of the building. Mr. Wm. V. Morris is directing the work.

Fined.—The trial of William Morrow, for beating John C. Lambert, took place yesterday afternoon, before Justice Pyper. He was fined $50 and costs. Macfarlane, the party who took the most conspicuous part in the affair, is still at large.

Strayed, this morning, from Camp Douglas, a little boy four years of age; he was dressed in a linen suit, waist and pants, and had a brown hat on; has light hair and was barefooted. He was tracked down to the Tenth Ward. Any person finding him will please take him to the police office, and oblige his parents.

Hot and Sickly.—The mercury this week shows a disagreeable upward tendency, ascending to-day to full ninety-one degrees in the shade at this office. As a consequence of this excessive rise in the temperature many people in the city have felt very sickly for the last two or three days. Last night was hot enough to sleep without bed clothes in doors.

Dangerous Tricks.—A correspondent of the Utah County Times says that boys are in the habit of annoying the railroad people there by piling rocks and laying ties across the track. The tank was also emptied by similar agency. These tricks might result in serious accident, and the perpetrators should be properly punished when caught.

The New Bank Building.—As the Deseret National Bank building looms up, something like a definite idea of its character can be obtained. It will be a fine, imposing structure, with a foundation that is scarcely surpassed by that of any other building of the kind in this city. The walls of the first story are about up and ready for the joists. The distance between floors, on the first story, is eighteen feet inside the two stores and sixteen feet in the bank compartment, the reason of the two feet difference being for the purpose of admitting six heavy granite steps being placed at the west front entrance to the building, which will greatly enhance the appearance of the exterior. The window frames of the south front, are massive, and tasteful, being in good keeping with the building generally.

When those buildings are completed the Bank Corner will be one of the finest looking business spots in the whole city. All the work done on the buildings so far shows a combination of the elements of neatness and substantiality that is creditable to Mr. Romney, the contractor, as well as his sub-contractors generally.

Destructive.—This morning several boys were before Justice Pyper on a charge of breaking windows and otherwise damaging the house of a gentleman residing in the 10th Ward. The evidence showed that while the building was temporarily vacated for repairs the boys charged seriously damaged the property. The Judge admonished and reprimanded the youngsters, who severally stepping up to him, with tears in their eyes, expressed their regret, and promised not to similarly misconduct themselves again, and they were discharged from custody.

Misconduct of this kind is by far too common among boys of this City, so much so that it is a notorious fact that a house cannot remain without inmates for a few days without having the windows smashed in by boys throwing rocks. There are two houses that we can think of now that have been greatly damaged in that manner, one on South Temple Street and another in the Eighth Ward, belonging to Mr. Davis.

Perhaps the making of examples of a few of the mischievous youngsters who do this damage would have a good effect in stopping such proceedings. For the benefit of those unacquainted with the nature of the penalty attached to such acts, we herewith publish the section of the city ordinance bearing on them—

"Any person wilfully or maliciously destroying or injuring any public or private property, within the limits of said city, shall be liable to a fine in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, or to imprisonment not exceeding six months, or to both fine and imprisonment."

Stable, Hay and Horses Burned.

LOGAN, Sept. 6th, 1875.

Editor Deseret News:

On Sunday, Sept. 5th, between the hours of 11 and 12 a.m., a little son of Dr. H. K. Cranney, aged about five years, got hold of a match, and unnoticed went out to the cattle corral and started a fire in a manger, under a shed, and adjacent to a stable. Everything being dry in and around the manger, the flames immediately reached the stable and the stack of hay and grain which was near the place where the fire was built. Immense volumes of smoke soon attracted attention, and in less than fifteen minutes 300 persons were on the spot. The stable in question, in which were tied up two horses, could not be reached to render efficient aid, in consequence of the intense heat. The horses kicked and broke loose through the door of the stable, and in their fright burst open a gate which led to the street. The flesh of one dropped off his nose, and he was otherwise so badly burned that it was thought best to shoot him at once. The other has also been shot, in consequence of being so badly burned as to render him useless. A good set of harness, sleigh, twenty tons of hay, a small wheat stack, and stabling, corrals and shedding are a total loss, amounting in all to about five hundred ($500) dollars.

Every aid and assistance were rendered by the assemblage of men present, and by their efforts the fire was prevented from spreading to other parts.

Measures are this morning on foot to raise means to help the Dr. out of this disaster, and in a few days will no doubt be made whole again.

Yours in the Gospel,
JAMES A. LEISHMAN.

Good Crops—Meetings—Rebaptizing.

MIDWAY, Aug. 29th, 1875.

Editor Deseret News:

The health of the people of this settlement is good. We have not had any sickness for a long time. Our crops of all kinds are very good, especially wheat, but we have had some rather sharp frosts for a few nights past, which it is feared will injure the late crops to some extent. Harvest has now commenced in good earnest. All are busy cutting both hay and grain, and in a couple of weeks hence our stackyards will present quite a different appearance from what they do to-day. If all be well, we shall have almost all of our hay and grain in stack by that time. Truly God is mindful of his Saints in this region, notwithstanding all our follies and shortcomings.

We had two days' meetings at Heber City, on Saturday and Sunday 28th and 29th August, when we had the pleasure of listening to the word of the Lord in plainness, but with such power that all the Saints that were present were made to rejoice exceedingly. Elders Taylor, Cannon, and Woodruff, of the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles, came and called us together, and I can assure you the hundreds of Saints that were present from all parts of the county will long remember the time, for truly it was a time of refreshing from the presence of the Lord.

At the close of the evening meeting on Sunday our beloved bishop and most of the leading brethren from the several settlements repaired to the river and there, before a vast assembly, went forth and renewed their covenants before the Lord. Brother Geo. Q. Cannon baptized the brethren as they came forward and presented themselves, while Elders Taylor and Woodruff attended to the confirmations and ordinations. They were, I believe, assisted by Bishop Sheets, who also gave some good and heart-cheering instructions at the meeting. Peace and good order prevailed from beginning to end. All present seemed to enjoy a goodly portion of the Spirit of God. We returned to our homes feeling in our heart to thank God our heavenly Father for this another opportunity of renewing our covenants and becoming more united as his Saints should be.

GEO. DABLING.

Our Country Contemporaries.

Beaver Enterprise, Sept. 4—

Now comes A. J. Bohn with the finest lot of onions we have seen for many a year. Mr. B. has plenty of them, twelve or more inches in circumference, to sell cheap.

On Thursday evening Mr. D. B. Messenger brought into our sanctum a specimen of his success as a potato grower. We thought they were musk-melons at first, but they turned out to be genuine "Early Rose" potatoes, the six presented by Mr. Messenger weighing only nine and a half pounds, or a pound and nearly ten ounces each.

Mr. Robert Keyes has a couple of young "canaries," captured in a nest which their pa and ma had constructed in one of his apple trees. He caged the little beauties, and is waiting patiently for the first note from their musical throats. If he ever hears it, the imported canaries' occupation will be gone, so far as Utah is concerned.

The Troy smelter is running finely and steadily, and doing a good business. Last Wednesday they shipped 80,000 pounds, or forty tons, of bullion; and during the past three weeks they have run out nearly 130 tons, the average being, for a full day's run, about eight tons. Troy is now doing what might be done in a dozen other localities in this county if the right kind of men and means could only be brought to bear upon them. Success to the miners and smelters.

Utah County Times, Sept. 4—

We are informed that Bishop Wm. A. Follett, of this city, met with a very painful accident yesterday forenoon. It appears that he was engaged in superintending a threshing machine at the residence of W. J. Lewis, and in some way got his arm entangled in the belt that drives the cylinder, badly bruising the arm from the wrist to the elbow. Fortunately the machine was going slow at the time and was soon stopped, and we are glad to hear that Mr. Follett was not seriously injured, yet the wounds were very painful.
