Gen. Wickersham will prepare the amendment accordingly.

The president's talk with the conferces has begun the discussion of specific rates. The time for talk as to the application of a general principal has passed, in his opinion.

The president is said to feel that the withdrawal of the corporation tax in favor of the inheritance tax adopted by the house would be unfair to a number of senators who supported the corporation tax in preference to the income measure. It was the president who first suggested a graduated inheritance tax. Such strong opposition to this measure developed in the states where an inheritance tax is already levied that he brought forward the corporation tax as the next best means of wiping out the treasury deficit. The amendment adopted by the senate providing for the establishment of a customs court is likely to be accepted by the house conferees. An effort will be made to fix salaries of the judges at $10,900 as provided originally by the amendment as reported from the finance committee to the senate.

The terms of the senate maximum and minimum provision are 'meeting with some favor from the house members of the conference committee and the indications are that they will be accepted after some minor changes have been made

If the cenate has its way in relation to the corporation tax, inheritance tax and the customs court there is a feeling that it will be at the sacrifice of many of its amendments to the dutible list. The conferecs plunged into their labors today with a vigor and enthusiasm that portends haste in getting the bill back to the senate and the house.

Taking up the metal schedule they proceeded through this and into the wood schedule during the morning hours. This does not mean that the metal schedule was completed as it contains many important amendments such as changing the rates on steel products which are the subject of sharp difference of opinion. These were passed over to be taken up after minor amendments in all schedules have been settled.

"Marquise de la Rochebryant" is in this city and has caused to be inserted in the newspapers an advertisement that for a sufficient cash payment she will dispose of any one or more of her titles. Explaining that a brother had titles. Explaining that a brother had liftes. Explaining that a brother had wrecked her fortune, she said that she came to America to dispose of at least one tille in an effort to recoup the family fortunes. She particularly recommends her tille as Countess d'Au-tier as a desirable one for any Ameri-can woman who is willing to pay $1,-000000. She says she had been offered 000,000. She says she had been offered $509,000 for it, but could not think of letting it go at that price.

"I want to raise some money for my husband's sake," explained the Marquise de la Rochebryant, "and I can see nothing dishonorable in trying to sell one of my titles. I have 29, and I want cash for some of them."
