

EVENING NEWS.

Monday, May 26, 1903.

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

Lost pony. See advertisement.

The atmosphere was warm and oppressive yesterday.

Peck-a-boe Bonian will appear at the Theatre to-morrow night.

Everybody is getting ready to spend a pleasant time on Wednesday.

Bicycle races, baseball and square-dance on Washington Square on Wednesday.

There was a roll of thunder yesterday, but the clouds cleared away without a storm.

Decorations will be observed as a general holiday. Business places will be closed.

J. H. Parry has received another lot of Prof. Haeffel's interesting pamphlets "One Day in Utah."

The congregation at the Tabernacle yesterday was unusually large, many strangers attended the services.

G. R. Mayfield, who was struck by Joel Whately, at Ogden, on Friday, will lose his eye, but his life is not in danger from the injury.

A large number of people propose taking advantage of the facilities for amusement provided at Fuller's Hill, to spend the day on Wednesday.

The discourse delivered by Pres. George C. Cannon yesterday was intensely interesting and accompanied with much convincing power.

The new mill being built by Armstrong & Co., at the mouth of City Creek, is quite a handsome structure—an ornament to the locality.

It is expected that the organization of the proposed Building and Loan Association will be effected to-night, at the meeting to be held at the Shoe Factory.

The excursion to Ogden on Wednesday will draw a goodly number of our citizens northward on Wednesday, while that to Provo will give an equal degree of magnetism in favor of the south.

A band of about twenty ladies have been camping on the Arsenal Hill for the last two days. They are from Fort Hall, Idaho, and have with them a numerous progeny.

The coronation of the Emperor and Empress of all the Russias is an accomplished fact and the sinister and murderous threat of the nihilists that the event would never occur falls to the ground.

At Calder's, on Decoration Day, there will be foot races and other athletic sports, in addition to the boating, swimming and other amusements afforded by the grounds. A good place to spend the day.

Juvenile entertainment by members of the 21st Ward Sabbath school, in the meeting-house, this evening, at 8 o'clock. Proceeds for the benefit of the school. A good programme will be presented.

Pres. George C. Cannon attended the meeting of the 12th Ward last evening, and delivered a discourse on the duties of the Latter-day Saints. His remarks were of an intensely practical character, and were listened to with great interest and attention.

Miss Agnes Olsen and Mrs. Magie Hall will accompany the excursion to Provo on Decoration Day and sing in the concert to be given there in the evening. Tickets for the excursion may be obtained of any member of the Girls' Club on the morning of May 30.

Last Tuesday Messrs. C. E. Taylor and R. H. Hopkins went up to the dam about three miles above town to take out the gate. The water backs up for a considerable distance causing a very heavy pressure to bear on the gate, and when it was loosened the water went through with a tremendous rush, catching Mr. Hopkins' left hand in the timber and lacerating the steel in a frightful manner. —Blackfoot Register.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

A Curiosity. — Some curiosity was excited to-day by an unusual spectacle at the front of the premises of W. O. Smith, near the Godde corner. It consisted of a 125 pound steer, which was caught in Snake River, near the point where it is first struck by the Oregon Short Line railroad.

A Powerful Discourse. — Yesterday afternoon, at the Tabernacle, the congregation was addressed in a clear, forcible, instructive and eloquent manner by President George Q. Cannon. It would be useless to attempt to give a synopsis of the discourse, as it would not be possible to do it anything like justice in that fashion; besides it will be published in full.

"Not Friends." — The Beaver Union writes:

"Mr. Beale Harris, the 'gitty' heroine of the recent but now celebrated contempt case, writes to friends here that she was never better treated than she has been since her incarceration in the penitentiary, both the U. S. Marshal and his aids showing her every attention short of actual liberty. Salt Lake sympathizers and admirers of her genuine pluck, pay her numerous visits and keep her supplied with all the delicacies of the season."

An Addition to the Programme. — We are requested to state that the proceedings at Washington Square, under the auspices of the Athletic Club, on Decoration Day, will wind up with a three mile gas on Tuesday, the 29th inst., at the office of Barnes and Davis.

Serious Accident. — City Jailor, John Aird, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon. He was riding a horse across the Arsenal hill, when the animal threw him. He fell on his head and was rendered insensible remaining in that condition for some time afterwards. The accident was observed at the time it occurred and he was found lying on the ground unconscious, and carried to his residence. This morning, but little improvement was perceptible in his condition, although no bones are known to be broken, he was "shaken up" very badly.

A PROBABLE MURDER.

RICHARD FOWLER STAYED BY DAVID GALLIFANT.

A probable murder occurred at the Deseret Shoeing Shop of Fowler & Smith, on Second South Street, at noon to-day. David Gallifant, who did the shoeing, states that he called upon Fowler for the payment of a butcher bill. Owing to the bill not being paid at the time, some hard words passed between the two, and Gallifant left. Subsequently Fowler was passing Gallifant's shop when the altercation was renewed. Afterward, Gallifant was passing the shoeing shop on his way, so he says, to dinner, when the quarrel was resumed a third time, and Fowler slapped his face. Gallifant then shot him.

Alexander Smith, Fowler's partner, states in effect, that he was in the act of filling a horse-shoe, when the two men were quarrelling in front of the shop, but had no idea that the affair would go beyond hard words. He did not see any striking done by either party, but when he looked up from his work, Fowler was walking into the shop away from Gallifant, the latter having his pistol in his hand. He pulled the trigger twice before the weapon discharged. Four shots were fired, hitting the unfortunate man in the arm and two in the lower part of the body from behind. The injuries are necessarily fatal, if as is fully believed, one of the bullets has passed through the bladder. Dr. Allen Fowler who examined the wounds stated that the injured man would probably not live more than a few hours.

Richard Fowler is a member of the blacksmithing firm of Fowler and Smith, proprietors of the Deseret Shoeing shop, and is known as an industrious and peaceable man. He is aged about thirty-five years, and has a wife and several children. Mrs. Fowler is in a fearful condition, being overwhelmed with grief at the lamentable occurrence. Immediately after he was shot Mr. Fowler was taken to his home on Franklin Avenue, in the Thirteenth Ward.

David Gallifant is a young man, probably 25 years old, short and stoutly built, fair complexion, light hair and eyes. He was considerably excited after the deed and said, in the hearing of a representative of News, "I know I'm in a bad fix." He is proprietor of the small butcher shop at the corner of Second South and First East Streets. At the time of our going to press, Mr. Fowler was very low indeed, and is thought to be dying. His brother John, who lives at Ogden, has been sent for, and will be down on the evening train.

A Wild Freak. — On Saturday night B. Martin was in the act of getting upon his back to drive a couple of ladies from the Theatre to their homes when E. Donovan approached and commenced abusing him. Martin told him to go away and let him alone. He drove off and Donovan, who was on horseback, rode alongside and lashed his team with a rope, making them run at a terrible rate, and causing the passengers to be very much frightened. The driver stopped and took a couple of men on the seat with him for protection, but still the wild Irishman followed, and after the ladies were taken to their destination, the horseman once more rode along, slashing the horses, and causing them to dash forward at a furious gallop. Fortunately the involuntary race being run by Martin was seen by Mr. W. G. Phillips, who took in the situation at a glance and soon landed Donovan in jail. This morning he was fined $20.

Hold On to Your Homes. — In consequence of there being a reasonable ground for the belief that, at no distant day, the people residing on the "North Bench" land will be supplied with water for ordinary purposes at least, we advise the actual residents of the locality not to be in haste to sell their homes. We deem this advice all the more timely in view of the fact that speculators have, on account of the prospect for water, been purchasing land in that section, believing that it will increase in value.

The irrigation committee of the City Council, who have the subject of water for the North Bench in mind, and who are very busy in the matter, and so also is the watermaster. The Mayor is favorably disposed, and we have every reason to believe that the Council, as a whole, is of the same mind.

JOHN NICHOLSON, Chairman of Committee of the People of the North Bench.

A Fabricating Hackman. — Boston excursionist to hackman: "Whose house is that?" Hackman: "Mr. —." B. E.: "How many wives has he?" B. E.: "Only five."

B. E.: "Well, well." This was an actual incident on First South Street on Saturday. The gentleman who owns the house pointed at his but one wife, but some of the hackmen of this city have adopted the role of "stuffers," and as a rule the intellectual downcasters swallow their whippers as sweet morsels, hoarding them for retail purposes among their friends when they return to their homes. There is no use of talking about country greenhorns when some simple hackmen from the East are around, many of whom are quite as glib as the ordinary bumpkin.

Beaver. — Major James Lowe is up from Beaver. He reports business somewhat dull since the removal of the post. The military being there caused an annual diffusion in the community of probably about $15,000 a year. However, the establishment of a Territorial educational institution will, it is anticipated, cause Beaver to loom up in due time as a town of considerable importance.

The Immigrants. — Miss J. H. Hart telegraphs to President John Taylor that the company of immigrants which left Liverpool May 16, arrived at New York yesterday, in charge of Elder Ben E. Rich. Two births had occurred on the journey. The company left for the west last evening, all well.

Thomas' Hospital Patients. — The sale of seats for subscribers commenced with a rush this morning and continued lively up to the time of our going to press. All who subscribed should avail themselves of the privilege of securing the best seats without delay, as after this week the best seats will be thrown open to the public at large. Our citizens have good reason to congratulate themselves on the chance of seeing so grand an entertainment at so low a rate. The prices are from $1.50 to $3.50 for the best reserved seats. In all other places where Mr. Thomas has appeared the prices have been $2 and $3 at the lowest, and this without Mr. Thurbury, who was not with the party until June. In San Francisco the bare admission is $1, $2, $3, $4, the reserved seats being proportionately higher.
