Get the Most Out of Your Food

You don't and can't if your stomach is weak. A weak stomach does not digest all that is ordinarily taken into it. It gets tired easily, and what it fails to digest is wasted.

Among the signs of a weak stomach are uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, and disagreeable belching.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at different times for stomach troubles, and a run down condition of the system, and have been greatly benefited by its use. I would not be without it in my family. I am troubled especially in summer with weak stomach and nausea and find Hood's Sarsaparilla invaluable." E. B. HICKMAN, W. Chester, Pa.

"My stomach was so weak I could not retain food. I found I could take three drops of Hood's Sarsaparilla and not throw It up. Increased the dose daily for three weeks. When I had taken two bottles I could eat anything, and six bottles made me well," MRS. LOTTIE E. NEWMAN, 31 Lewis street, Hartford, Conn.

Dr. Philo E. Jones, presented a very interesting and scholarly paper of "Changes Incident to Old Age, Its Dis cases." The paper referred to many which were greatly to be attributed to heredity. Suggestions were given as to the value of cheerfulness, diet, leasant occupation, etc., as an aid to ongovity.

A paper by Dr. Geo. W. Middleton of Cedar City was read by Secretary King. The subject of the paper was "Surgical Work in Country Practice," and called attention to many deaths which resulted from lack of resourcefulness on the part of the practitioner, and the idea that surgery could only be performed in a hospital. The paper pointed out methods which might be improved by the country surgeon.

Dr. E. O. Jones speaking very highly of the paper, opened the discussion, Drs. Smart, Hosmer, Scott, King, Bower, Fisher and Root followed, agreeing that successful surgical work could be in the country, the important part being a knowledge of surgery by the practi-tioner and cleanliness. Dr. Scott was particularly earnest in his contention that surgery could be performed as well in the home as at the hospital.
