

Local and Other Matters.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, APRIL 15.

Woman's Exponent for April 15 contains "Obedience to Parents," "Prayer," "Honor Thy Father and Mother," "R. S. Reports," "Improvement," "Floral Hints," "Principality of Wales," "Obedience," "Domestic Economy," "Unity," "Silk Raising," etc.

Henry Barney.—Information is wanted of Henry Barney, formerly of Texas, and supposed to be now in Utah. Address—Barnes Parker, Congress Avenue, Austin, Texas. The latter can communicate something to the party inquired for that would be greatly to his advantage.

Ward Amusements.—On last Saturday evening, the 17th Ward Dramatic Association presented, for the delectation of their patrons, the well-known drama entitled "The Golden Farmer" which, in conjunction with the farce, "Rival Actors," clog dance, guitar duet, recitation and songs was put on the stage in a creditable manner. The drop curtain, scenery, and other stage paraphernalia do credit to the young gentlemen and lady members of the association.

A "Crash of Matter."—This morning, while a number of workmen were engaged laying the foundation of Mayor Little's proposed new building, on the ground immediately east and adjoining the Deseret National Bank, the whole east wall, composed of rock and adobe, of the building adjoining west, suddenly fell with a crash into the new cellar, and the ceiling joists and all of the room also fell to the floor. The masons who were at work directly under the wall, had barely time to get out of harm's way when the crash took place.

The room thus unceremoniously denuded of its ceiling and one of its walls was one of Secretary Black's office apartments, and luckily no one was in it at the time of the occurrence, and consequently no one was hurt. The property damaged belongs to Hon. W. H. Hooper.

Fortunate Rescue.—This morning about half past 10 o'clock, William Surridge, a young man from West Weber, was crossing the Weber in a wagon in company with five ladies. Getting into deep water, the women became frightened, and thinking to turn into a shallow place in the ford, one of them seized the lines, and the consequence was the team and wagon went into a deeper part of the river. The wagon box floated off the hind bolsters and one woman was washed into the stream. Fortunately she held on to the running gears until rescued by George Dinsdale, who, with Andrew Bowman, plunged into the stream and saved the lives of the frightened travelers. All were brought safely to shore, with the team and wagon.—Ogden Junction, April 15.

Interesting From Kanab.—Bro. W. D. Johnson, Jr., writes as follows from Kanab, under date of April 15th—

"On my way south, at Cove Creek, I obtained some fine specimens of native sulphur, which is nearly pure, and, I understand, is quite abundant and easy of access.

"When we arrived at Toker we found the people much excited about the mines found in that region of country. I was shown specimens of silver, copper and manganese ore, some of which I think is valuable. They have discovered mines at Toker, Leeds, Virginia City, and Workman's Ranch.

"The people of Kanab do not seem to be affected with the mining fever.

"Through the exertions of our Bishop, L. John Nuttall, the United Order is running along smoothly, almost every family being now connected with it. All the farming so far has been done in that organization. They have also enlarged the field and the prospects are good for a plentiful harvest.

"There seems to be quite a spirit of improvement here, as there have been several new houses built lately. The winter has been very hard for this part of the country, although the people have lost no stock. The health of the people is generally good, with the exception of our Bishop, who has been quite ill for some time, but is now slowly improving. The weather, for some time past, has been quite pleasant and spring-like.

"The Arizona missionaries have all passed, with the exception of eight or ten teams. They seem to feel first-rate, and their teams, as a general thing, look well.

Brother Andrew Gibbons, from the Moyencoppy, gave us a good report of the Indian mission at that place, on Sunday, a week ago. Everything on the east side of the Colorado River seems to be opening for the benefit of the brethren who have gone there to settle. There have been six or seven of the Moquis Indians baptized by the brethren, and prospects of many more receiving the Gospel.

"On March 27th, the Kanab brethren organized a Library and Literary Association, the object of which is to establish a library and reading room, also for conducting lectures, scientific or otherwise, and for the better diffusion of knowledge and general information among its members. The capital stock is five hundred dollars, divided into five hundred shares, of one dollar each. There have been some two hundred dollars of stock subscribed. The following officers were elected for one year—W. D. Johnson, Jr., President; James H. Lewis, Vice President; B. L. Young, Secretary; W. T. Stewart, Treasurer; John T. Eager, Librarian.

"We have also two day schools and a Sunday school, so you can see the Kanab people are not behind their neighbors in the North.

"We have a great deal of trouble about the DESERT NEWS. We do not get it regularly; who is to blame?

Our Country Contemporaries.

Beaver Enterprise, April 6—

Our Northern mail, which had not, owing to the heavy fall of snow, put in an appearance for seven days, came to hand on Tuesday evening all right.

OUR POLICY.—The present temporary editor of this paper will not make politics a specialty, but will write his views free and unfettered on all subjects of general interest. From boyhood we have been a democrat; yet we are not of the opinion that being a democrat in name makes a man honest, or being a republican makes him a scoundrel. Nor do we believe it just in either party, because a man is an official, or a candidate for office—a man whose record has always been fair because of political differences, to brand him as such. We shall praise virtue, though it be in an enemy, and discard corruption, though it be in a friend. We believe in giving "the devil his due." When we speak of men we shall speak of them as individuals, and when we speak of the issues of the hour we shall advocate in the main the democratic platform as published by our Territorial Committee, it being the nearest to our view of anything we have seen. Yet we may differ slightly on some points.

Ogden Junction, April 13—

Big changes at the U. P. office. Mr. Earll has resigned, and several of his assistants also "step down and out." It is said that an entirely new set of hands will be put to "run the machine."

Yesterday morning a C. P. and U. P. train were both switching, when they met in a hurry a little north of the U. P. freight house. Result, one empty box car slightly damaged, one flat car mashed into a car of bullion, and the latter considerably jammed up and mixed with the flat car. Nobody hurt, nobody to blame.

This morning Lewis Cunningham, son of Mr. Robert Cunningham of this city, was on the bench, near the mountains, with some other boys, shooting at a target. He held a revolver in one hand and rested it upon the other. When the shot was fired the charge in the next chamber was exploded backward, the ball lodging in the left hand between the thumb and forefinger. Dr. P. L. Anderson extracted the ball, assisted by Dr. E. G. Williams, who administered the chloroform. The boy is in a fair way of recovery. It will be remembered that this unfortunate boy shot himself in the thigh about two years ago.

Last night about ten o'clock, Dr. Condon was called to attend upon a man at the Ogden House, who apparently had been wounded with some heavy instrument. He found the man, whose name is Ball, suffering from a very bad fracture of the skull, and had great difficulty in extracting portions of the bone and properly dressing the wound. Ball refused to disclose anything concerning the matter. It was supposed that some person had attacked him and that he was struck with a pistol, or some other blunt instrument.

Since the above was in type we have learned the facts in the case. Officer W. H. Clark had an interview with the wounded man and at length induced him to disclose the particulars. It appears that the man, whose name is E. B. Ball, had been drinking several days, and becoming tired of life he endeavored to kill himself. So he went to bed, at his lodgings at the Beardsley House yesterday at three o'clock, p. m., and covering himself up with the bed clothes to prevent noise, he put a deringer close to his ear and fired; the ball entered the ear and glanced, first fracturing the skull, and he subsequently found it in bed. He took off his shirt, which was stained with blood, and tore a piece of it to tie round his head. After wiping the blood off his face with a handkerchief he left the shirt and the handkerchief in the room, and left. Ball gave the pistol and ball to the officer. A small piece of bone was still sticking into the bullet.

The shirt was found to-day by officer Clark at the rear of the Saug Saloon, near the depot, and as the rumor had been started that Ball had been beaten in that neighborhood, it is believed that some evil designing person placed the bloody shirt there to put up a job on the proprietor.

Just as we go to press we learn that a man had just shot himself in the head, on an emigrant car at the depot. The shot was supposed to be fatal.
