

EVENING NEWS.

Monday April 19, 1886

FRAGMENTS.

B. S. Young was to-day commissioned as a notary public.

Prof. DeBrunner will lecture in the Social Hall this evening.

Ephraim Mattison, a drunk and disorderly, was fined $10 in the Police Court to-day.

At a meeting of the Trustees of the Fourteenth School District held April 16th, 1886, a tax of one eighth of one percent was assessed on all the taxable property of said district.

The preliminary examination in the case of Charles Denny, accused of unlawful cohabitation, which was set for this morning, was postponed until 4 o'clock this afternoon, as Mr. Dickson did not have time to attend to it until then.

AL HOUSEHOLDER was before Justice Tyler this morning on two charges of disturbing the peace, the aggrieved parties being Mrs. Householder and Mrs. Kilpack. The accused pleaded guilty, and will receive sentence to-morrow morning.

Yesterday a flock of sheep belonging to a man named Cartwell were driven on the farm of John Lawrence, about six miles west of the city, and the owner of the land objecting to his property being thus damaged, demanded restitution. Appraisers were called in and the amount of damage assessed at $12, which Cartwell refused to pay. Suit for the amount was commenced before a justice of the peace.

This morning the trial of the negro, Fanny Payne, for keeping a house of ill-fame, was held before Justice Tyler, and the accused was found guilty. She will receive sentence to the workhouse for six months.

The trial of the negro, Alice Valentine and Hattie Clark, were arrested this morning on a charge of vagrancy, in being associates of lewd and dissolute persons, and the case set for hearing this afternoon. The officers have done a good thing in prosecuting the inmates of the den where these women were found, and if the place is cleaned out the work will be appreciated.

LOCAL NEWS.

The First Company.—By telegram from New York we learn that the first company of this season's emigration—numbering 179 souls—sailed from Liverpool per S. S. Nevada, on Saturday last. They will probably not arrive here before the 6th of next month. Look out for more sensational articles in the eastern papers about the danger of "Mormon" immigration about the time of their arrival in New York.

A Remarkable Old Couple.—Notice is published elsewhere in this issue of the death of a lady in the 9th Ward of this city—Mrs. Mary Ann Plant—who would have been 94 years of age had she lived till the 15th of next September. Her husband, who will be one hundred years of age on the 3rd of next October, and to whom she had been married for over seventy-five years, still survives her and resides with his son in the 9th Ward. He is still quite active for one of his age, has good eyesight, never gets nervous in his life and is now cutting his third set of teeth.

Obsequies.—The funeral services over the remains of Sister Mary Silver, whose obituary notice appears elsewhere, were held to-day at the Lion House, this city, where her sister Susan resided. The proceedings were conducted by Bishop O. F. Whitely, by whom and Elder John Nicholson, instructive and consolatory remarks were made to the relatives and friends of the deceased, who assembled to pay their last respects to her memory. A quartette composed of Brothers J. D. Spencer, H. G. Whitely, Sisters Vilate Young and Edith Knowlton sang appropriate hymns, with Brother C. H. Burton accompanist. At the grave the dedicatory prayer was offered by Elder Alma Pratt.

Arrested for Polygamy.—Our readers will remember that a couple of weeks ago John Bergen, the tailor, was arrested on a charge of living with and acknowledging his wives, and four indictments for the offense were found. Last week he and some of his family went to Logan, purchasing tickets in this city via the Utah Central and Utah & Northern Railway, in the party was a lady named Matilda Lundstedt, whose destination was also Logan. On Saturday night she returned to this city, Mr. Bergen's light wagon going to the depot to meet him. All went to Mr. Bergen's house, where they were to have a supper. Mrs. Lundstedt being invited to remain. After the meal was over they chatted awhile, and as it was getting late, Mr. Bergen accompanied Mrs. Lundstedt to her home on Second South Street, and carried her valise. A few minutes after they arrived there, Mr. Bergen having engaged in a conversation with the lady, knocking was heard at the door, and someone called for "having my gun." As the voice was a strange one to Mr. Bergen, he did not answer, and the lady remarked that she had often been annoyed in that house by parties rapping at the door, for amusement, so no further attention was paid to the knock. A few minutes afterward the window of the room was raised and a man's hand with a pistol in it thrust through. Bergen went to the window and demanded who was there. Deputy Franks replied, saying he was an officer, and wanted to come in. Mr. Bergen, who up to that time had no thought of deputy marshals being around, told him to go around to the door like a decent man, and he would gain admittance. The deputy went around, and Mr. Bergen opened the door, but in the meantime Franks and Smith, his companion, apparently suspecting that there was something wrong, burst in the door of an adjoining room. Nothing was found, however, and a warrant of arrest on a charge of polygamy was read to Mr. Bergen, while Mrs. Lundstedt, without service of warrant, subpoena or other process, was taken into custody, and both were hurried off to the penitentiary, where they arrived about 10 o'clock Sunday morning. They were kept there until this morning, when they were brought to the Marshall's office, and bonds fixed at $5,000 for Mr. Bergen and $1,000 for the lady. Mr. Bergen succeeded in sending a surety, but up to our going to press the lady was still a prisoner, and unless she finds bail may have to return to the penitentiary.

Both of the parties emphatically declare that there is no foundation for the charge of polygamy, and the case was set for preliminary hearing at 4 o'clock this afternoon. From all that can be learned it seems that someone informed the crusaders that Mr. Bergen intended going to Logan, and as a result he was arrested before stated. The assertion credited by their newspaper organ to the "officers" who made the arrest, that Mr. Bergen and the lady had retired in a den, and that the accused was an unqualified falsehood.

Saturday's Raid.—An item appeared in yesterday morning's issue of a disreputable sheet published in this city, concerning the arrest of Mr. C. Denney, and, as usual with that paper, the facts in the case were not stated. The real truth is as follows:

Mr. Franks, after serving a warrant of arrest on Mr. Leaker, went to the house of Mr. Denney and inquired if Mr. D. W. Leaker lived anywhere near there. This question was put to Mr. Denney's mother, who replied, "If anybody knows that young man does," pointing to Mr. D. Franks then asked the question of him. He replied, "He used to," then went to the corner at the rear of the house, where he turned loose a calf which was tied up, and was in the act of taking two cows from the stable, to the street for water, when Mr. Franks came around the back of the house and asked if your name was "Denney?" He replied in the negative and was then asked, "What is your name?"

I do not know that I am obliged to tell you," was the answer.

"All right," was the reply, and at that moment Mrs. Denney came to see what was the matter, when Franks asked her for her name, which she hesitated about giving, but her husband informed him that it was Sarah A. Denney, and she was subpoenaed.

As to there being an officer on each side of the fence, that is one of the Tribune's truths, for there was no other person nearer than the sidewalk.

With regard to the "second wife starting at a 2:40 gait," there is not a word of truth in it, for the only lady there besides Mrs. S. A. Denney was the mother of Mr. Denney.

The alleged second wife, who, by the way, was arrested at Mr. Leaker's house, was a Mrs. Sprigall, whose husband works in the western part of town, is not a "Mormon," and feels greatly annoyed at having his wife put to so much unnecessary trouble.

As to Mr. Denney attempting to escape while the officers were searching the house, the reverse is the fact, for he went with Mr. Franks through the house, and the officers took the others to take breakfast with his family.

About the only truth in the account referred to is the mention of the amount of bonds and the time of examination.

Court Proceedings.—The following business was transacted to-day in the Third District Court:

John A. Groesbeck vs. George A. Meers; demurrer to complaint overruled.

Morgan Mining Company vs. John J. Daly; five cases; demurrer sustained, and ten days allowed to amend intervention.

Henry Carrigan vs. Salt Lake County; complaint amended by inserting $2,100 dam ages.

The People vs. Alfred Solomon et al.; forfeiture of bonds; allowed until May 1st to answer.

The Fritz Hill Mining Company and Honerine Mining Company vs. George W. Carter; two cases; dismissed.

Edwin Frost vs. Albert Frost; dismissed at plaintiff's cost.

Caroline Phillips vs. Richard Phillips; stricken from docket.

L. B. Howard vs. Wm. Howard; dismissed.

Edna Saxton vs. Eli Saxton; dismissed.

Nils H. Hallstrom was admitted to citizenship.

The People, Ex. Rel., vs. Nephi W. Clayton; suit to oust Territorial officers elected by the people, and install the Governor's appointees; argument of District Attorney Dickson and P. L. Williams in progress.

The charge of battery against Dr. S. P. McKee, was set for trial in the police court to-day, but the complaining witness not making his appearance, the case was continued until Wednesday.

Wool Growers.—The following was adopted by the convention of the Utah Wool Growers' Association, which met in the City Hall on Saturday:

Resolved, By the wool-growers assembled in Salt Lake City this day, that the president of the Utah Wool Growers' Association be requested to issue a call for a general convention of wool growers to be held at Salt Lake City on Monday, May 3d, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the City Hall, and that each association of wool growers in Colorado, Wyoming, Nevada and Idaho be invited to send delegates to said convention.

Sad Case of Drowning.—About four o'clock yesterday, two little children of Neal Hueston, an employee of the Deseret Wood Mills, who were one of them a girl aged seven years, and the other a boy of fifteen months, were crossing a narrow foot bridge which spans the creek near their house, when they fell into the water, and were both drowned. Search for the bodies was immediately commenced when their absence was noticed, and this morning that of the younger child was found near where he fell in. The elder's body was also found at 2 p. m. to-day some distance below.

The Petit Jury.—An open venire having been issued for petit jurors for the April term of court, Marshal Ireland returned his list of "impartial" jurors, John Ford, Stephen Hays, C. F. Dolberg, Richard Grant, I. L. Osborn, W. S. Sharp, John Shields and J. J. O'Reilly were excused for various reasons, and the names of the jurors as passed upon stand as follows:

Geo. Chandler, W. E. Henney, E. C. Jensen, L. B. Rogers, S. S. Maxwell, E. E. Bowser, D. S. Sullivan, Fred Anderson, Corneilus Hunt, Lewis Backus, E. A. Whitaker, Henry Kennedy, J. Handley, E. W. Water, Fred Anderson.

The North.—We learn from Elder C. S. Shaw, who has just come down from Hyrum, that everything is moving pleasantly in the north. The late spring is against the farmers. They have all their implements sharpened and ready for the conflict, only waiting for the sunshine instead of so much rain.

Brother Shaw has been attending the Weber State Conference at Ogden, and reports a good time. The course of Apostle F. D. Richards, on the divine mission of Christ, was the event of the Conference, and was listened to by the vast audience with that attention which showed that the word of God was dearer to the hearts of the Latter-day Saints than the wealth and honors of men.

A Marvelous Escape.—On Saturday last at about five o'clock in the afternoon, a Spanish speaking man, who plow took flight and ran away. They started from the vicinity of the Salt Lake Brewery and went north one block where they turned and took to the sidewalk running westward, traveling four blocks, to the corner of children and pedestrians. All along their course anxious mothers rushed to their gates to see if their children were hurt, but fortunately no injury resulted, although in some cases escapes were exceedingly narrow. At one place half a score of small children had a few minutes previously been dragging a small wagon up and down the walk, but luckily had just dispersed, some to their homes while the balance had climbed into a buggy near by.

Coroner's Inquest.—On Saturday evening Coroner George J. Taylor held an inquest, at Skewes' undertaker's shop, on the body of Thomas Butterworth, killed by an explosion at the Flaming mine, Alta, in Little Cottonwood Canyon, on Friday afternoon. William Miller, Wm. J. McDonald and Thomas Butterworth were working in a tunnel, warming some ground powder. The powder exploded, throwing the men some distance. Miller, strange to say, was unhurt while McDonald had one leg broken and was otherwise badly injured, and Butterworth was so badly injured about the head and breast that he died in about an hour. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death. McDonald was taken to the Catholic Hospital for treatment.

PACIFIC COAST NOTES.

CULLED FROM WESTERN EXCHANGES.

The boycott of the San Francisco Call and Bulletin has been declared off, the difference between the printers having been adjusted.

A very skillful piece of engineering in a water tunnel at Riverside, Cal., came to a failure to-day, but the two forces of hands working in from each end of the tunnel met. The tunnel is over 3,000 feet long, and it is a curve, yet so true were the calculations made, that when they met in the centre there was not one-fourth of an inch difference in the two directions.

On the night of the 15th instant, Mr. Freeman an engineer on the C. P., met with an accident at Orono, Nevada, which confined him to his bed. It appears that two engines had to pass, and being late at night, Mr. Freeman could not see until too late that the engine should pass was on the main line instead of being on the switch. As soon as he saw that a collision was imminent, Mr. Freeman jumped the air brake and just as the engines touched he jumped. He alighted on his right shoulder, which bore down upon him as his neck; his back is also somewhat affected by the fall. Luckily no bones were broken, and Mr. Freeman, in a very stout, heavy man the wonder is that the results are not more serious. As it is he will probably be able to get around again in a few days.

In our telegraphic dispatches will be found an account of a terrible disaster to the town of Yreka, a fortified town in the Galicis, Austria. One hundred persons were killed by falling walls, and some six hundred houses consumed by fire—almost the whole town was swept away.
