

PAT J. MORAN'S ELEVATED ROAD

Furnishes Members of Council With Plenty of Material for Oratorical Effort.

FERNSTROM BLOCKS SCHEME.

Ordinance Intended to Protect "American" Advertising Graft Gets a Set Back—Dinnity's Verdict.

The manner of letting contracts for public improvements so as to comply with the new laws on that subject, the question of granting a franchise to the Utah Light & Railway company to extend its line to the gravel beds north of the city and the taking up of J street by Contractor P. J. Moran for the construction of his "elevated railroad" furnished the members of the council with plenty of opportunity for oratorical efforts last night. By the time all the matters had been discussed to the limit allowed by President Davis it was nearly 10 o'clock and it was found that the important measures had been laid over or referred back to committees for further investigation and very little business had been transacted.

FERNSTROM SEES "GRAFT."

Under the head of ordinances the city attorney presented the ordinance drawn in compliance with the Fernstrom resolution prescribing the method of advertising for bids and awarding contracts for public improvements so as to comply with the new laws. The ordinance covered every point except provision for the receiving of bids for the advertising of all legal notices in connection with the improvements. This was one particular point which Fernstrom wanted covered so as to do away with the "grafting" evil in connection with advertising in particular papers.

He immediately moved to amend the ordinance by striking out the following section:

"The board of public works shall furnish each bidder for the contract to make such improvement with the estimate of cost and expense of the engineering, inspection, publishing notices and making the tax levy with instructions to each of said bidders to include the amount thereof in his bid for the work contemplated by said improvement."

He insisted that this clause would give the board of public works the greatest opportunity in the world to graft on the newspaper advertising and that unless there is some provision in the ordinance for receiving bids for the advertising as well as all other extensions connected with the improvement, the tax payers could go into court and ask any special tax assessment levied under the ordinance as it now stands.

REASON DECLARED.

"Because you want to shield the biggest grafting concern in the city," declared Fernstrom, "you are going to make this ordinance illegal. The advertising should be let by contract to the lowest bidder as well as any of the rest of the cost of improvement. That is certainly what the property owners and unless you do it the property owners will go into court and have it declared illegal."

Mulvey declared that he would not take the word of a councilman as to the legality of the ordinance in preference to the city attorney. He said that the attorney had declared the ordinance perfectly legal and in harmony with the new laws on the subject and he was satisfied.

Martin produced some figures to show that the rates for advertising in the organs of the "American" party are cheaper than the rates charged under the last administration. He was informed by Fernstrom that if he wanted figures he could show him some that would not look very well for the present administration.

"EXPERT" OPINION.

Asst. City Atty. Dinnity was called upon to state whether or not the ordinance is legal in every respect and comply with the terms of the new laws passed by the recent legislature. He declared very emphatically that the ordinance is legal and started in to score Fernstrom for talking to the contrary. He said that Fernstrom's talk was all "political humbug" and while at this point interrupted the attorney and raised a point of order against his talk. Dinnity at once changed his tactics without waiting to be called to order by President Davis. After he concluded his talk it was seen by the "Americans" that they did not have enough votes to pass the ordinance and, after they had once refused to refer the ordinance to the committee, they finally did refer it back and will attempt to pass it as it is next Monday night.

FUNNY SITUATION.

Consternation reigned supreme among the "American" members for about a half hour during the consideration of the franchise to the Utah Light & Railway company for an extension of its line from Second West and Fifth North streets to the gravel beds north of the city. It will be remembered that the last city council passed a franchise for the old Utah Light & Railway company consolidating all its franchises and extending their line on an average of about seven miles. It will also be remembered that the "Americans" caused a suit to be filed in the district court enjoining the company from operating under that franchise and asking that it be declared null and void. The whole matter was aimed at the "Mormon" Church authorities who at that time were connected with the company.

When the franchise was sent in by City Atty. Hiles last night granting the extension to the new company which is mentioned above, it contained a re-enactment of section 8 of the franchise now in controversy in the district court and also contained the extension on Fifth North street as an extra subdivision to that section. The new ordinance was read but at the mention of the re-enactment of section 8, which contains several other extensions granted in the former franchise, several of the councilmen stopped the reading. In his reading of the ordinance and objected to passing any ordinance but one which granted the extension agreed upon by the council on Friday and that one only.

It was explained by Mr. Dinnity that Judge Hiles had decided that the only legal method of amending a section of a franchise was by re-enacting the entire section together with the amendment. This had been done and the section read was identical to the one in the franchise of 1905 with the amendment agreed upon by the council.

EMBARRASSING POSITION.

The point was then raised by Ferry, Mulvey and several others that by passing that franchise and re-enacting section 8, the council would be placed in the position of ratifying the former franchise which is tied up in court. This was too horrible to contemplate, so the "Americans" insisted that the ordinance be referred back to the municipal laws committee and the city attorney wanted to go into court and make extensions all over the city and set them to place a cloud on the company's franchise and are hoping that somebody will go into court and knock the former franchise out. Both councilmen declared that such inconsistency had never been heard of before.

CHARGES INCONSISTENCY.

Wells and Fernstrom charged the councilmen with inconsistency. They declared that the members of the majority wanted to improve the city and make extensions all over the city and set them to place a cloud on the company's franchise and are hoping that somebody will go into court and knock the former franchise out. Both councilmen declared that such inconsistency had never been heard of before.

PAT'S ELEVATED ROAD.

Salt Lake now has an elevated railroad. This great advance towards a real metropolitan city was not discovered until last night just before the council closed. The order of the road is none other than Patrick J. Moran, contractor. Pat built the road without getting the permission of the city council or any one else and without giving the newspapers an opportunity to advertise his project. The road is one block long and extends from Third to Second avenue on J street. It starts from the grade of the street and reaches an elevation of 15 feet above the street at its destination on Second and J.

Moran is macadamizing both First and Second avenues and is hauling his crushed rock from the Pascoe quarry on the street cars. He needed some place to unload the cars near his work so that it would not be such a long haul by wagons. Accordingly he appropriated J street and built the tracks running up on a trestle about 15 feet high so that the cars can dump their loads into bins and wagons can be loaded from the bins. The track was connected with the Third avenue line and runs to Second avenue.

NEVER ASKED PERMISSION.

Councilman Tuddenham called upon Moran yesterday and wanted to know who gave him permission to put in his "elevated railroad." Moran told him that he did not need any permission. The councilman thereupon decided that hereafter all contractors would have to get permission from the city council before they would be allowed to take up any part of a street excepting the one on which they are working. He introduced a resolution to that effect last night and then informed the council what Moran had done. He said that such a thing should not be allowed until the council was asked for permission by the contractor.

Other councilmen agreed with Tuddenham and the resolution was agreed to, but Ferry at once asked that Moran be allowed to use J street for his road and bins and the motion was carried so that Pat was stopped for the brief period of about one hour. After the council meeting his road was the subject of considerable jesting on the part of the councilmen, all of which was greatly appreciated by Moran. He was informed that he would have to deposit the usual fee of $200 for a franchise before he would be allowed to operate cars over his elevated road. Several councilmen expressed their opinion that he should pay over his new road. Others expressed the opinion that Moran was operating a scenic railway. Moran said that his road was just a taster for an elevated system in the city.

GARBAGE ORDINANCE.

The Hobday garbage ordinance which was introduced last Monday night was reconsidered on the motion of Martin. The ordinance restricts the amount of garbage which the city will haul free from the business districts. It also restricts the amount of garbage which the city will haul free from the residential districts. After considerable argument the ordinance was referred back to the sanitary committee with the finance committee associated upon motion of Ferry.

TAX WARRANTS.

An ordinance was introduced authorizing the city auditor to issue special tax warrants in which to take up scrip issued against the property of the taxpayer on all public improvements. The ordinance, which was referred to the municipal laws committee without comment, follows:

"An ordinance providing for the issuance of special tax warrants in lieu of scrip against special tax funds, and for other purposes.

"Be it ordained by the city council of Salt Lake City, Utah:

"Section 1. It shall be lawful for the city auditor to issue to the bona fide holder of any scrip against any special tax fund of Salt Lake City, on surrender of such scrip, by such holder thereof, a special tax warrant, or warrants, of the denomination provided by law for the aggregate amount value of the scrip so surrendered; and the auditor on issuing such warrant, or warrants, shall denote in writing on the back thereof, the scrip number, and the amount due on such scrip; and provided further, that in any case, where warrants have been heretofore issued against any such special tax fund, without authority of statute or ordinance in that behalf, such warrants may on surrender thereof, by any bona fide holder of the same, be exchanged in the manner as scrip, for such special tax warrants.

"Sec. 2. This ordinance shall take effect upon approval."

PAVING BIDS.

A resolution was also introduced authorizing the board of public works to advertise for bids for the completed sidewalks in the contract formerly held by the Utah Fireproofing company, which was released from its contract recently. The resolution was referred to the municipal laws committee.

The board of public works was instructed to go ahead with the paving of the intersections at Third South and Main and Third South and West Temple streets. The paving will be of asphalt.

VETO SUSTAINED.

Mayor Thompson's veto of the amended ordinance fixing the liquor license for drugists at $400 per year in the business district and $200 per year outside that district was sustained by the unanimous vote of the council. The reason for the veto was that the state statutes fix the maximum liquor license at $400 per year, hence the amended ordinance was illegal.

WILL GO ON JUNKET.

The council received an invitation from the Manufacturers and Merchants' association to go on the "ket acquainted" excursion of the business men to Lehi, American Fork and Pleasant Grove on Thursday, May 23. The invitation was accepted although only about three councilmen signified an intention of going.

ROUTINE MATTERS.

J. W. Mellen petitioned the council for permission to use the Wasatch hotel for the Utah Light & Railway company, in an absolute refusal to grant any increase of wages or in any way favorably consider the request made by the company and the workers in their employ in Salt Lake City and throughout the inter-mountain district, they have forced us to take a more decisive action in pushing our grievance.

Chief of Police Sheets sent in the appointment of John C. Hogan as special nightwatchman and Mac McCochran as special policeman, both without pay from the city. They were confirmed by a unanimous vote.

Supt. of Waterworks Hines requested that the plumbing inspector in his department be given an increase in wages from $2.50 to $3 per day. He also asked authority to employ an extra hydrant gang of three men for the summer. Both matters were referred to the waterworks committee.

An ordinance granting a franchise to the Oregon Short Line Railroad company to build a spur track to the warehouse of J. H. Bailey & Sons on Third West street was passed by a unanimous vote.

Union School Boys Artfully Cause Flag Rush at High School.

There was a flag rush at the High School yesterday, when the flag with "07" was raised on the new flag pole. The other classes straightway made a rush to haul the senior flag down. The two lower classes had a slight fight for the possession of the banner on its being lowered, the Freshmen carrying off the prize. There were a number of eyes in mourning and noses tinted with scarlet as a result of the fray, to say nothing of torn clothing. It was discovered that boys from the Union school had put the flag up there to start a scrimmage.

RALEIGH HEARING.

Justice Bishop Listens to Off-Told Tale of McWhirter Robbery.

The hearing on the charge of conspiracy against Detective George Raleigh in connection with the McWhirter robbery of $10,000 was held before Justice F. M. Bishop yesterday. The defense attempted to secure a change of venue on the ground that Justice Bishop did not have jurisdiction, but the court overruled the objection and hearing was proceeded with.

Thomas Belmont, formerly a porter at the Brunswick saloon, told his story of being robbed of $10,000 at the time the McWhirter robbery was going on. Parent said that Raleigh told him to go ahead and get all the suckers he could, telling him, however, to get only strangers and get them out of town. As the McWhirter robbery was going on, Parent said, Raleigh told him to go ahead and get all the suckers he could, telling him, however, to get only strangers and get them out of town.

Alex McWhirter told again his story of being robbed of $10,000 at the Antler rooming house on Sept. 18 last, and of his going to police headquarters with the $10,000. He said that he was taken to the police station and that he was told to go ahead and get all the suckers he could, telling him, however, to get only strangers and get them out of town.

Federation of Labor Prepared for Sympathetic Action in Case of Strike.

LYNN ISSUES STATEMENT.

President of Local Union of Electrical Workers Sets Forth Reasons for Difficulty With Employers.

At the meeting of the local union of electrical workers last night he said to strike duty was issued by President Lynn as expected. Instead a committee was sent to wait on the telephone companies again, acting as representatives of the local union purely under its new policy of striking or securing terms regardless of the general organization from which it has proved hard to secure any work whatever.

At the meeting last night the referendum vote of the entire district, which includes Idaho, Wyoming and Montana, was announced, and it showed 166 votes for striking and only 16 against. The committee appointed to meet with the companies, composed of Louis Lynn, S. A. Berkehouse, M. T. Roberts, R. N. Nels, R. G. Whitehead, and W. E. Ramsey, associated with D. C. Kunkin, of the Federation of Labor, it is declared that in case of a strike the first move will be for every laboring man who has union sympathies to remove his telephone as a mark of moral support to the strikers, and that the Federation of Labor is working up this move.

LYNN'S STATEMENT.

The statement issued by President Lynn, setting forth the position of the men is as follows:

"Owing to the attitude of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company and the Utah Independent Telephone company, in an absolute refusal to grant any increase of wages or in any way favorably consider the request made by the company and the workers in their employ in Salt Lake City and throughout the inter-mountain district, they have forced us to take a more decisive action in pushing our grievance."

Something over three months ago a blanket agreement covering the entire district was presented to the telephone companies. This, after much dodging on the part of the officials of the company and the refusal to consider, but M. H. Sommers, general superintendent of the Bell company, informed us that they would consider agreements from the different local unions. On April 22 we were informed by D. S. Murray, general manager of the Bell company, that there was nothing to discuss inasmuch as the company would not consider any increase in wages, pleading poverty as the chief cause, stating the company was only drawing 6 per cent interest on investments.

"On the following day we received the same answer from the Independent company."

PLEADS POVERTY.

"In accordance with the constitution, I notified the grand vice president to appear and received from him the same answer then as in the past, that there was a large number of idle men in the district and that they would not hold out in July or August. Then our grand president, F. J. McNulty, on his way to San Francisco, stopped over in Salt Lake for a few days. He is now in the hands of the officials of both companies and received the same definite 'no' for an answer that we had received."

REFERENDUM VOTE.

"The grand president agreed with us that a mistake had been made by not having a grand officer on the grounds earlier in the game. He then authorized me to call for the referendum vote. This vote was called for and the returns are in, it being almost a unanimous vote to stand by our original demands. The grand president vice president to stand by our original demands. The grand president vice president to stand by our original demands."

"I do not question the sincerity of our grand vice president, but I do contend that if he has some outlined policy and good cause for ignoring the rights of the electrical workers in this district and to hold this matter in the balance, thereby denying us the right of performance of our legitimate work, I also contend that it is our rights to know and his duty as our grand officer as well as our duty as a citizen to stand up for the rights of the workers. We do not wish to be arbitrary in this matter, we do not, as the company does, stand out on technical points, the chief thing, in fact, they have to stand on."

"SMALL INCREASE."

"Our demands are not outrageous as the company tells us, and we are not even unreasonable. We are only asking for a small increase in wages.

"Our requests are reasonable and we have a number of good reasons for asking for this increase in wages. First, the expense of living has increased to such an extent in the past year that it is impossible for any man to keep himself and family for what he could earn here. This fact even the companies do not deny. Second, nearly every man working for daily wages, whether skilled or unskilled, has been receiving from his employer voluntarily or otherwise, an increase of wages within the last four or five months. But on the other hand the electrical workers have not received any increase within the last three years, with the exception of the cutting out of a sliding scale with the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company two years ago, making it a standard scale for linemen, $3.25 per day, which is the scale at the present time.

"The I. E. W. of Salt Lake City, decided at their last regular meeting, May 16, to take independent action regardless of any further suggestion from any source, and so notified by telegram our grand vice president. They further decided to ask the sanction and support of the Utah Federation of Labor hence that body called a special meeting Sunday afternoon at Electrical Workers' hall. That body unanimously voted to sustain the electrical workers in any action they may be forced to take.

"This controversy involves all linemen, cable splicers, terminal men, testers and installers in Salt Lake City and will, within a few days, no doubt involve all electrical workers employed by telephone companies throughout the district composed of Utah, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, where there is no agreement in force at the present time."

"We have been unjustly dealt with by one of the largest corporations in the United States, the American Bell Telephone company, who are not only here, but in a number of other places, are doing their utmost to disrupt and disorganize our organization. We now ask that the people of Salt Lake be the judge and jury in this trial between this gigantic trust and monopoly, on the one hand, and the employees of said trust, members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, on the other hand. If you think our cause is a just one, then make it your duty to help us by giving us your moral support, and that is all we ask at your hands, and we feel sure that this moral support by the people of Salt Lake City will be given us. If this be done, then victory must and shall in the name of justice be ours."

OFF ON GEOLOGY TRIP.

Junior Summer Surveying Class of University to Take Field.

The junior summer surveying class of the university will leave next Saturday for a five days' geology trip under Dr. James E. Talmage, after which they will go to Eureka for six weeks, where they have secured permission to survey the May Day and the Uncle Sam mines.

The junior class of the university will this year give a party instead of holding class day. This decision was arrived at after a great deal of consideration. This party will be the last social event of the year for the class, as the boys will leave soon for their summer trips. "Greek Life, Art and Literature" will be the subject of a lecture at the university tomorrow at 3 p. m., to be delivered by Prof. J. T. Leutsakos of the University of Athens. Dr. Leutsakos is a graduate of the Royal classical college at Athens, and has delivered this lecture at all of the big universities throughout the country. The doctor is a member of a prominent Greek family and is an aide-de-camp to the present king of Greece. He was formerly a member of the Greek parliament.
