

Music and Musicians

EXT Wednesday evening, in the Tabernacle, will be given a cantata entitled, "The Whole Year Round," by Eduardo Marzo, by 100 pupils of the eighth grade graduating classes in the public schools, under the direction of Prof. W. A. Wetzel, supervisor of music.

The first number will be an introduction on the organ by Prof. McClellan, and the remainder is as follows: Chorus, "Awake, awake to friendly strife"; solo and chorus, "A Stranger I from far away"; Roy Wetzel, soloist; quartet and chorus, "Four little suns"; Will Hall, winter blonde; Squires summer; John James fall; Margaret Burton, spring chorus; "Now to the test"; recitation, Mildred Brown; chorus, "Winter's Court"; sleighing chorus, "Jingle bells, and away we go"; recitation, Mildred Brown; solo and chorus, "Oh, hush, hush away"; Jeanne Vaness, soloist; trio and chorus, "Who knows where all the wild flowers grow"; Margaret Conway and Phyllis Marsden, June; Estella Hardy and Ruth Emery, July; Ella Tefts and Nora Worburton, August; recitation, Mildred Brown; interlude, Prof. McClellan; chorus, "Rejoice, rejoice, the spring"; solo and chorus, "Such a merry little queen"; Esther Edwards, soloist (the May queen); Thanksgiving song, "Hark, the merry bells are ringing"; nutting chorus, "Pilgrimage"; recitation, Mildred Brown; final chorus, "Singing, singing."

Prof. Wetzel says relative to the above in his report to Sunn, Christensen: A real study was made of the music of the cantatas, and it was almost wholly prepared during the regular daily session period. The preparation and presentation of this program had a two-fold value. It gave the pupils delightful material for music study and impressed upon their minds the fact that they were not only members of particular schools, but also fellow students in a great public school system, and that together pupils of 10 different schools in friendliest relation, and each one did his best to make the whole a success.

The whole body of pupil singers will have had only three rehearsals together, and considering this, the results are far, very far, beyond what could be expected for an audition; but the attendance of the school children will be limited to those from the two higher grades, unless accompanied by their parents. Prof. Wetzel is anxious that all parents and patrons of the school shall attend, and Sunn, Christensen will make few remarks just before the introductory number on the organ.

In the forthcoming report to the superintendent of the city schools, Prof. W. A. Wetzel, gives considerable space to the examinations in music for the eighth grade of pupils who will be graduated next month. In this matter, Prof. Wetzel says: "The musical examination in music was submitted to the pupils of the eighth class at the close of the year. The result was most gratifying. A very small percentage of pupils made an average of less than 75 per cent.

The following is the list of subjects which were on the scale C, indicating the steps and the half steps.

Between the half steps do the half steps occur?

What interval of difference between the la, ti, do, and do, re, mi?

Do is on the first line of the staff. What is the key and how do you find the key of no?

Write the pitch names of the spaces on the staff.

If you can fa in the scale C do, what is the key and the signature?

If 3 or mi of the scale occurs on the first line of the staff, what is the key and the signature?

Write the pitch names in the key of C.

Write four different measures forms under 4+4 as a meter signature.

Write a four measure melody in 3-4 time.

The general average of the entire class of over 100 pupils in the entire city was very good, and marks conducted are calculated to impress upon the minds of the pupils the fact that music, as a subject of schoolroom instruction, takes rank with any other subject in the school course. To make the work in much more effective, pupils must be assigned lessons for participation as regularly as they are assigned lessons in other subjects, and they must be held for the recitation of those lessons.

Willard Weil is back from San Francisco after a delightful week spent in almost entirely private and social visitation with the famous Ysaye. He brings the regrettable news that the return visit of the Belgian maestro to Salt Lake and the proposed joint concert has been abandoned, as Ysaye found it necessary to remain east by the southward. Mr. Weil, however, is making lasting laurels of his visit and all the benefits he obtained by playing duets in practice with the famous violinist, and he thinks more highly than ever if such a thing were possible—of his rare attainments as an artist. Ysaye's San Francisco engagement was not particularly successful, one or two of the dates had to be postponed and the big orchestra that accompanied him was cut out after the first night.

The Twenty-ninth Infantry band now numbers 34 musicians, including Hiram Work of Marion, Ind., a new man who is playing the monster saxophone. The band carries a step ladder around with him, up and down which he runs as he plays the big metallic bassoon, and fingers the great keys from CCC to CCCC below. The lower pedal notes, Mr. Work, plays with his feet. The band will present its piano concerto next month, when target practice has been completed.

Mrs. King has been laboring 12 hours out of the 24 for what the grammars would call "an indefinite past tense," in practice with High school pupils for their musical performances. She is conducting graduating exercises in the theater. These two performances will last through Friday and Saturday evening, June 3 and 4. The first evening will be occupied by the senior or graduating class, and the present school year that is about the time of the same light opera, with a dramatic personage of 17 persons. On Saturday evening, there will be living pictures, Greek and Roman presentations, a banquet scene, the wedding of Hiawatha, Washington at Valley Forge, etc., followed by dancing and music.

There was an interesting musical program last Wednesday evening, at All Hallows college in honor of the visit of the noted Catholic prelates from adjoining states. Master Arthur Federsen played several violin pieces, Miss Shirl and Miss Anna Petersen and Charles Kent sang, and Prof. Petersen played the piano accompaniments. The visitors were much pleased with the recital.

Arthur Shepherd is prezenging the organization here of a musical society for the study of the latest musical productions, and which shall keep abreast of the times in the line of musical composition. It is believed that no one could move of the greatest benefit to the musical interests of this city.

William Rude of the well known piano firm, was in town Thursday from New York, and according to what he says, the trade is considerably behind in sales. He said his firm was rear of the factory capacity by 500 pianos the coming year.

The organ recitals in the Tabernacle continue to hold their popularity among the people, and the organist is invited to this city. Prof. McClellan has secured considerable new music with which he will favor the public, and he is playing better than ever.

The First Baptist choir is making excellent progress under the direction of

Mr. James E. Miller.

When Miss Editha Evans gave her series of 25 concerts in this country, she was invited to the Tabernacle Opera company in December, she will be assisted by the baritone Rudolf de Gogorza, the violoncellist Joseph Hollman, and the pianist Ambrose Webber. Mr. Webber used to be Jean de Resz's pianist. He has written some good songs, and has also composed an opera,

which he will sing.

Miss Sylvia, who spent the winter at Nice and Monte Carlo, has returned to America. While abroad Miss Sylvia conducted a tour in Italy for grand opera under Mr. Domenico Jeni at Monte Carlo, she returns to America at this time to fulfill a short engagement in vaudeville. After spending the summer at her country place at Lake Michigan, N. Y., Miss Sylvia will return to Paris and London for another year's study.

The organ recitals in the Tabernacle

continue to hold their popularity among the people, and the organist is invited to this city. Prof. McClellan has secured considerable new music with which he will favor the public, and he is playing better than ever.

The First Baptist choir is making excellent progress under the direction of

Mr. James E. Miller.

When Miss Editha Evans gave her series of 25 concerts in this country, she was invited to the Tabernacle Opera company in December, she will be assisted by the baritone Rudolf de Gogorza, the violoncellist Joseph Hollman, and the pianist Ambrose Webber. Mr. Webber used to be Jean de Resz's pianist. He has written some good songs, and has also composed an opera,

which he will sing.

Miss Sylvia, who spent the winter at Nice and Monte Carlo, has returned to America. While abroad Miss Sylvia conducted a tour in Italy for grand opera under Mr. Domenico Jeni at Monte Carlo, she returns to America at this time to fulfill a short engagement in vaudeville. After spending the summer at her country place at Lake Michigan, N. Y., Miss Sylvia will return to Paris and London for another year's study.

The organ recitals in the Tabernacle

continue to hold their popularity among the people, and the organist is invited to this city. Prof. McClellan has secured considerable new music with which he will favor the public, and he is playing better than ever.

The First Baptist choir is making excellent progress under the direction of

Mr. James E. Miller.

When Miss Editha Evans gave her series of 25 concerts in this country, she was invited to the Tabernacle Opera company in December, she will be assisted by the baritone Rudolf de Gogorza, the violoncellist Joseph Hollman, and the pianist Ambrose Webber. Mr. Webber used to be Jean de Resz's pianist. He has written some good songs, and has also composed an opera,

which he will sing.

Miss Sylvia, who spent the winter at Nice and Monte Carlo, has returned to America. While abroad Miss Sylvia conducted a tour in Italy for grand opera under Mr. Domenico Jeni at Monte Carlo, she returns to America at this time to fulfill a short engagement in vaudeville. After spending the summer at her country place at Lake Michigan, N. Y., Miss Sylvia will return to Paris and London for another year's study.

The organ recitals in the Tabernacle

continue to hold their popularity among the people, and the organist is invited to this city. Prof. McClellan has secured considerable new music with which he will favor the public, and he is playing better than ever.

The First Baptist choir is making excellent progress under the direction of

Mr. James E. Miller.

When Miss Editha Evans gave her series of 25 concerts in this country, she was invited to the Tabernacle Opera company in December, she will be assisted by the baritone Rudolf de Gogorza, the violoncellist Joseph Hollman, and the pianist Ambrose Webber. Mr. Webber used to be Jean de Resz's pianist. He has written some good songs, and has also composed an opera,

which he will sing.

Miss Sylvia, who spent the winter at Nice and Monte Carlo, has returned to America. While abroad Miss Sylvia conducted a tour in Italy for grand opera under Mr. Domenico Jeni at Monte Carlo, she returns to America at this time to fulfill a short engagement in vaudeville. After spending the summer at her country place at Lake Michigan, N. Y., Miss Sylvia will return to Paris and London for another year's study.

The organ recitals in the Tabernacle

continue to hold their popularity among the people, and the organist is invited to this city. Prof. McClellan has secured considerable new music with which he will favor the public, and he is playing better than ever.

The First Baptist choir is making excellent progress under the direction of

Mr. James E. Miller.

When Miss Editha Evans gave her series of 25 concerts in this country, she was invited to the Tabernacle Opera company in December, she will be assisted by the baritone Rudolf de Gogorza, the violoncellist Joseph Hollman, and the pianist Ambrose Webber. Mr. Webber used to be Jean de Resz's pianist. He has written some good songs, and has also composed an opera,

which he will sing.

Miss Sylvia, who spent the winter at Nice and Monte Carlo, has returned to America. While abroad Miss Sylvia conducted a tour in Italy for grand opera under Mr. Domenico Jeni at Monte Carlo, she returns to America at this time to fulfill a short engagement in vaudeville. After spending the summer at her country place at Lake Michigan, N. Y., Miss Sylvia will return to Paris and London for another year's study.

The organ recitals in the Tabernacle

continue to hold their popularity among the people, and the organist is invited to this city. Prof. McClellan has secured considerable new music with which he will favor the public, and he is playing better than ever.

The First Baptist choir is making excellent progress under the direction of

Mr. James E. Miller.

When Miss Editha Evans gave her series of 25 concerts in this country, she was invited to the Tabernacle Opera company in December, she will be assisted by the baritone Rudolf de Gogorza, the violoncellist Joseph Hollman, and the pianist Ambrose Webber. Mr. Webber used to be Jean de Resz's pianist. He has written some good songs, and has also composed an opera,

which he will sing.

Miss Sylvia, who spent the winter at Nice and Monte Carlo, has returned to America. While abroad Miss Sylvia conducted a tour in Italy for grand opera under Mr. Domenico Jeni at Monte Carlo, she returns to America at this time to fulfill a short engagement in vaudeville. After spending the summer at her country place at Lake Michigan, N. Y., Miss Sylvia will return to Paris and London for another year's study.

The organ recitals in the Tabernacle

continue to hold their popularity among the people, and the organist is invited to this city. Prof. McClellan has secured considerable new music with which he will favor the public, and he is playing better than ever.

The First Baptist choir is making excellent progress under the direction of

Mr. James E. Miller.

When Miss Editha Evans gave her series of 25 concerts in this country, she was invited to the Tabernacle Opera company in December, she will be assisted by the baritone Rudolf de Gogorza, the violoncellist Joseph Hollman, and the pianist Ambrose Webber. Mr. Webber used to be Jean de Resz's pianist. He has written some good songs, and has also composed an opera,

which he will sing.

Miss Sylvia, who spent the winter at Nice and Monte Carlo, has returned to America. While abroad Miss Sylvia conducted a tour in Italy for grand opera under Mr. Domenico Jeni at Monte Carlo, she returns to America at this time to fulfill a short engagement in vaudeville. After spending the summer at her country place at Lake Michigan, N. Y., Miss Sylvia will return to Paris and London for another year's study.

The organ recitals in the Tabernacle

continue to hold their popularity among the people, and the organist is invited to this city. Prof. McClellan has secured considerable new music with which he will favor the public, and he is playing better than ever.

The First Baptist choir is making excellent progress under the direction of

Mr. James E. Miller.

When Miss Editha Evans gave her series of 25 concerts in this country, she was invited to the Tabernacle Opera company in December, she will be assisted by the baritone Rudolf de Gogorza, the violoncellist Joseph Hollman, and the pianist Ambrose Webber. Mr. Webber used to be Jean de Resz's pianist. He has written some good songs, and has also composed an opera,

which he will sing.

Miss Sylvia, who spent the winter at Nice and Monte Carlo, has returned to America. While abroad Miss Sylvia conducted a tour in Italy for grand opera under Mr. Domenico Jeni at Monte Carlo, she returns to America at this time to fulfill a short engagement in vaudeville. After spending the summer at her country place at Lake Michigan, N. Y., Miss Sylvia will return to Paris and London for another year's study.

The organ recitals in the Tabernacle

continue to hold their popularity among the people, and the organist is invited to this city. Prof. McClellan has secured considerable new music with which he will favor the public, and he is playing better than ever.

The First Baptist choir is making excellent progress under the direction of

Mr. James E. Miller.

When Miss Editha Evans gave her series of 25 concerts in this country, she was invited to the Tabernacle Opera company in December, she will be assisted by the baritone Rudolf de Gogorza, the violoncellist Joseph Hollman, and the pianist Ambrose Webber. Mr. Webber used to be Jean de Resz's pianist. He has written some good songs, and has also composed an opera,

which he will sing.

Miss Sylvia, who spent the winter at Nice and Monte Carlo, has returned to America. While abroad Miss Sylvia conducted a tour in Italy for grand opera under Mr. Domenico Jeni at Monte Carlo, she returns to America at this time to fulfill a short engagement in vaudeville. After spending the summer at her country place at Lake Michigan, N. Y., Miss Sylvia will return to Paris and London for another year's study.

The organ recitals in the Tabernacle

continue to hold their popularity among the people, and the organist is invited to this city. Prof. McClellan has secured considerable new music with which he will favor the public, and he is playing better than ever.

The First Baptist choir is making excellent progress under the direction of

Mr. James E. Miller.

When Miss Editha Evans gave her series of 25 concerts in this country, she was invited to the Tabernacle Opera company in December, she will be assisted by the baritone Rudolf de Gogorza, the violoncellist Joseph Hollman, and the pianist Ambrose Webber. Mr. Webber used to be Jean de Resz's pianist. He has written some good songs, and has also composed an opera,

which he will sing.

Miss Sylvia, who spent the winter at Nice and Monte Carlo, has returned to America. While abroad Miss Sylvia conducted a tour in Italy for grand opera under Mr. Domenico Jeni at Monte Carlo, she returns to America at this time to fulfill a short engagement in vaudeville. After spending the summer at her country place at Lake Michigan, N. Y., Miss Sylvia will return to Paris and London for another year's study.

The organ recitals in the Tabernacle

continue to hold their popularity among the people, and the organist is invited to this city. Prof. McClellan has secured considerable new music with which he will favor the public, and he is playing better than ever.

The First Baptist choir is making excellent progress under the direction of

Mr. James E. Miller.

When Miss Editha Evans gave her series of 25 concerts in this country, she was invited to the Tabernacle Opera company in December, she will be assisted by the baritone Rudolf de Gogorza, the violoncellist Joseph Hollman, and the pianist Ambrose Webber. Mr. Webber used to be Jean de Resz's pianist. He has written some good songs, and has also composed an opera,

which he will sing.

Miss Sylvia, who spent the winter at Nice and Monte Carlo, has returned to America. While abroad Miss Sylvia conducted a tour in Italy for grand opera under Mr. Domenico Jeni at Monte Carlo, she returns to America at this time to fulfill a short engagement in vaudeville. After spending the summer at her country place at Lake Michigan, N. Y., Miss Sylvia will return to Paris and London for